Commission to restructure universities

A three-man commission has been appointed by the Minister of Colleges and Universities to devise a plan that would result in the restructuring of the province's universities.

Dr. Bette Stephenson made the announcement in the Legislature on Thursday Dec. 15.

Dr. Stephenson said the commission would review and report on a number of items regarding the province's 15 universities.

Included would be a method for distributing provincial grants to the institutions, spending accountability, new tuition fee policies, the need for entrance exams, the possible closure of redundant faculties and a review of the government's promise of accessibility for all qualified students.

The minister said that although earlier recommendations on changes in the university system had not been heeded, the government was committed to act on the report delivered by the three-man commission.

Chairman of the commission is Edmund C. Bovey, a businessman who sits as director of several Canadian corporations including Norcen Energy Resources Ltd., Canada Packers Inc., Abitibi-Price Inc., Hollinger Argus Ltd., and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. Mr. Bovey was chairman of Norcen Energy until his retirement in 1981.

The other two members of the commission are: Dr. Fraser Mustard, president of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research and former vice-president for health sciences at McMaster University; and Ronald Watts, principal and vice-chancellor of Queen's University, and former member of the Fisher committee on the Future Role of Universities in Ontario.

The commission is expected to hold public hearings and base a number of its findings on recommendations already outlined in previous studies.

The Minister said although the restructuring would not involve reducing the number of universities in Ontario, it could result in some fundamental changes in some institutions to give them clearly defined and different roles.

The commission is expected to submit its report this summer.

Bob Nairn retires position

Brock University president, Dr. Alan Earp, had some unexpected news to deliver to Senate on Wednesday Dec. 21: Bob Nairn, Secretary to the University, had asked for and been granted early retirement, effective January 1, 1984.

Mr. Nairn has been a familiar face on the Brock campus for the past twenty years.

Working as chief administrative officer for ten years, Mr. Nairn moved into the position of Secretary of the University in 1974. He has remained Secretary since that time.

"In each of these important offices, Bob Nairn has made major contributions to the development of Brock University," said Dr. Earp.

"The effective operation of both Board and Senate, and their several committees has been in no small measure attributable to his quiet and self-effacing efficiency and thoroughness and his total commitment to the University which won him the confidence of all," he said.

"We shall all wish him the happiest of retirements and look forward to saluting him at a special event to be arranged early in the new year," said Dr. Earp.

Add '3' to your extension!

Faculty and staff are reminded to add '3' to their extension, or to an extension they may be trying to reach within the University.

Effective Wednesday Dec. 21, the University's telephone system was reprogrammed, resulting in four digit extension numbers for employees.

"We're experiencing a few problems with the new program right now," said Pauline Coppard, switchboard operator.

"But it's only a matter of ironing out the kinks. When the system was installed for the first time a few years ago, there were problems at the beginning too; but they were sorted out in time, and the problems we're experiencing now are only temporary," she said.

The new phone books, for internal use among the University community, are at the printing stage now and should be ready for delivery within the next few weeks.

College of Education

Profs A. Thomas and J. Love have been awarded SSHRC research grants. Prof Thomas received $10,000 to further her work on "Problem-solving among achieving and learning disabled children". Prof Love received $8,500 in support of his study of "Ideology in 19th century curriculum reform in Canada".

Computer Science

Jon Radue presented a paper entitled "On the design of an interactive spelling dictionary for personal computers" at the ACM conference on Small and Personal Computers held in San Diego, in December.

Counselling Centre

Les Myers recently presented two days of workshops on "Goals, roles and relationships" for the Patricia Centre for Children and Youth in Dryden, Ontario.

Urban and Environmental studies

Rico Belvedere, fourth year student in UEST, has been awarded a research grant of $950, by the Local Government Student Research Program under the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing. The research, entitled "Regional government in perspective: A comparative study of Niagara region with the Windsor area" is being conducted under the supervision of Prof B. Krushelnicki.

Corvette winning numbers

The winning numbers in the second draw of the "Vette for science" car raffle are: 06512, 09003, 09624, 09717, 10112, 10270, 10454, 10479, 11179, and 11821.

The Series B draw was held Thursday Dec. 29, 1983.

Ten numbers are drawn from each of the five series, with a final reverse draw scheduled for Thursday May 24.

The Series C draw will be held Feb. 16, with Series D on April 5, and Series E, May 17.

A 1984 red Corvette is the grand prize in the raffle which is sponsored by the Brock University Science Development Fund.

Tickets cost $5 each and must be purchased separately for each draw.

The car is on display at the Pen Centre, St. Catharines, with tickets being sold by the St. Catharines Jaycees

Tickets can also be obtained from regional Avondale stores and Wintario booths. On campus they're available at The General Brock store, Phys Ed centre, Book Store and Science Development Fund Office, Th269.

Holders of winning tickets are asked to inform the Science Development Office, ext 3590, in order to be eligible for the final draw in the spring.

Badgers at tournament

Weekend sports saw the Brock Badger basketball teams hard at play in the Stu Aberdeen Memorial Invitational Basketball Tournament at Acadia University in Wolfville, N.S.

The men's basketball team finished fifth, with an 68-88 loss to St. Francis Xavier. There were eight teams in the tournament.

The women Badgers, ranked sixth in the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union, won over Concordia 60-50, and Lakehead, 66-57, but were finally defeated by Brandon, in overtime, 73-68.

Badger Diane Hilko, was named to the all-star team.

Suspect on campus?

Unusual events on campus last week included the Hamilton-Wentworth police setting up an office on the tenth floor of the Schmon Tower in order to continue their search for the suspect in the murder of a McMaster University professor.

Prof Edith Wightman was found dead in her office on Dec. 17, 1983.

The ensuing police investigation led to St. Catharines, where someone used Prof Wightman's credit cards to shop at The Pen on the day of her murder.

The suspect, described as an "obvious male in female clothing, male, caucasian, 35-45 years old, over 6' tall", has also been spotted "several times" on the Brock campus.

Drawings of the suspect have been posted throughout university bulletin boards.

Anyone having any further information is asked to contact Chief Doug Roberts, Campus Police, Th272.

Dancemakers opens series

The Brock Centre for the Arts begins its 1984 dance series with a performance by "Dancemakers" on Saturday Jan. 14.

Dancemakers is a Toronto-based modern dance company which is quickly gaining international recognition.

Last year they toured Britain and will be heading for France this year.

The performance begins at 8 pm in The Playhouse.

New musical series

A "New Musical Series" is being presented at the University by the Department of Fine Arts and the Brock Centre for the Arts.

The series will feature musical films on Friday evenings, beginning January 13.

The changes that have taken place in the classic musical film as a result of developments in popular music since the 1950s will be explored.

First on the bill is "The Girl Can't Help It", made in 1956, and one of the earliest musicals to incorporate the then new sound of rock and roll.

The film stars Jayne Mansfield and Tom

Ewell, and features performances by Gene Vincent, Fats Domino, Frankie Lyman and the Teenagers and others.

The films will be shown in The Studio on Fridays at 8 pm. Admission is $3/tickets or four films for $6.

Jan. 20 -- "Rude Boy" (1980), starring The Clash;

Jan. 27 -- "One Trick Pony" (1980) starring Paul Simon;

Feb. 3 -- "Pennies From Heaven" (1981) starring Steve Martin, Bernadette Peters.

Lecture: "Japan: The Samurai Swords"

David Pepper, an artist-craftsman from Toronto, gives an illustrated lecture entitled "Japan: The Samurai Swords" on Sunday January 15.

Mr. Pepper is the first speaker to the Niagara Peninsula Society of the Archaeological Institute of America for 1984.

His lecture will survey the historical and technological development of the Japanese samurai sword from the 5th century A.D. onwards. Particular emphasis will be given to the craftsmanship displayed in the making of the blades and fittings.

The lecture will be based on Mr. Pepper's research on Japanese swords and armour.

Admission for members of the A.I.A. and students is free. Admission fee is $2.50.

The lecture will be held at 3 pm in Th 245.

Recreation sports

The Intramural office in the Phys Ed centre is organizing a squash tournament to be held Monday Jan.16 to Wednesday Jan.18.

There will be three categories of play: A, B, and C (Advanced, Intermediate and Beginner).

There are no entry fees for the event. Registration continues through to 4 pm on Friday Jan. 13, in Rm 214A PEC.

Blood donor clinic

The Canadian Red Cross Society will hold a blood donor clinic on Tuesday Jan. 17 in the Science Development Fund room (near the Senate chambers).

The clinic, for members of the University community, takes place from 10 am to 4 pm.

Land use committee struck

At a public meeting held at the Resurrection Lutheran Church on Monday Jan. 9, an advisory committee was formed to look into land use alternatives for the Glenridge lower campus.

The six committee members include three area residents, Al Carr, Blair Moore, and Art Misener. Representing the University are Bill Matheson, Ken Voss, Peter Misener and Alan Earp (ex-officio).

The committee will review various development plans for the land, and could involve a rezoning to a residential area.

RecreAction '84

Brock University will host ReCreAction '84, the third annual recreation student conference, March 9th to the 11th.

"One Third of Our Time" is the conference theme, taken from a book of the same title by Dr. Michael Chubb.

Prof Chubb, Department of Geography, Michigan State University, will also deliver the Friday night keynote address.

Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, University of Pennsylvania, will deliver the Saturday night keynote address.

Prof Sutton-Smith is the author, co-author, or editor of more than 20 books and 200 articles, mostly in the areas of children's play and children's social growth.

A "second-in-command" for Brock

Brock University will soon have a vice-president, academic. A memo from President Alan Earp outlines the vice-presidential appointment:

"Following discussions with Senate, which has expressed its support for the proposal, President Alan Earp proposes to recommend to the Board the appointment of a Vice-President.

This is not envisaged as a staff appointment through which a number of areas and individuals would report. Rather the appointment will provide for the clear designation of a second-in-command and allow for the contributions of an additional experienced academic to the councils of the University and at the senior administrative level.

Physically, the Vice-President's office would be located in the area of the President, without additional secretarial support.

Duties:

Normally, the Vice-President will be a member of faculty, who will continue teaching, but with a reduced load. His/her responsibilities will include:

Acting as chief executive and academic officer in the absence of the President.

Representing the University, as may be appropriate, when the President is unable to do so.

Serving as an ex officio member of Senate and the Committee of Deans.

Being available for consultation by president, deans and members of faculty.

Special assignments as may from time to time appear appropriate.

Term:

Three to five years.

Appointment:

The appointment will be made by the Board, on the recommendation of the President, after consultation with Senate.

An Advisory Committee has been appointed consisting of the following:

J.A. Michielsen - Germanic and Slavic Studies
J.A. Moore - Department of Physics
K. Kernaghan - Department of Politics
L.A. Popp - College of Education
W.W. Liddell - School of Administrative Studies
J. Hogan - University Librarian
J. Strong - Student member of the Board
P. Beard - Secretary

Inquiries may be made to the President. Applications and suggestions should be addressed to the Committee, c/o Mr. P. Beard, and submitted prior to January 31, 1984."

A list of applications and/or nominations received by January 24, 1984 will be forwarded, for posting, to all Deans, Directors and Chairmen. The list will also be published in Campus News.

Fun and games at Winter Carnival '84!

Total University participation is the aim of this year's Brock Winter Carnival '84, which has as its theme "Let's Get to Know Each Other".

Students, faculty, clubs and teams are urged to join in the fun and games planned during the week of Monday Jan. 23 through to Friday Jan. 27.

With events such as the "Moose's Loose" pub, the "Carnival Bash" dance, the "Coloured Edges" band, the "Ender Bender" post basketball pub, the "Badger Battle Day" and a snow sculpture contest planned, the carnival promises a lot of varied activity.

A schedule of events will be published in the forthcoming edition of "Press". In addition, a poster of events will be forwarded and posted by individual departments in the University.

Winter Carnival '84 is being organized by a group of enthusiastic Brock students, with support from the Campus Recreation (Intramural) Program, and BUSU.

For more information contact Debbie McCloskey or Mike Laurence in the Intramural office, ext 3742 or Iain Moncur in the BUSU office, ext 3268.

Backpacking, rock climbing and flying

Space is still available in two new exciting non-credit instructional courses: backpacking and rock climbing. The courses begin in early March. For more information contact Mike at ext 3742.

Pilots, would-be pilots, and navigators are invited to participate in the Queen's University Flying Club's annual Air Rallye on March 10. Accomodation is free, and the entry fee is $10. Contact Mike at ext 3742 for more information.

"I decided to attend Brock because..."

Ever wonder why students in increasing numbers have been choosing Brock for their university education?

The Information and Liaison office recently conducted a survey of first-year students, which indicated that most selected Brock University because it is a smaller school and offers an academic program of specific interest to them.

Of the 269 respondents to the survey, 54 were from the Niagara region; these students noted that Brock's location (within commuting distance) was also a prime consideration in the decision to attend the University.

The Brock year one viewbook and related publications were the most helpful source of information about the University for the respondents. A campus visit by the student and a school visit by a Brock liaison officer ranked second and third, respectively. Among the local students, parents' input also weighed strongly.

Eighty-six percent of the students surveyed approved of Brock's revised admission standard of 65 percent for general arts and science programs. Of the respondents, 60 percent had better than a 70 percent grade 13 average.

McMaster University appears to be Brock's major competitor for students in the school boards extending along Lake Ontario from St. Catharines to Oshawa.

The University of Western Ontario, the University of Waterloo, and Wilfrid Laurier University were indicated as Brock's chief rivals throughout the remainder of the province.

Rude Boy

The second film in the "New Musical Series sponsored by the Department of Fine Arts and Brock Centre for the Arts will be shown Friday Jan. 20.

"Rude Boy", a 1980 film starring The Clash begins at 8 pm in The Studio. Admission is $3 per person.

Cercle français meeting

The Cercle français resumes its monthly sessions on Friday Jan. 20 at 1 pm in Rm 1123 of the Schmon Tower.

Those interested in using or improving their French are invited to participate. For more information contact Prof L. Rosmarin, ext 3302.

To honor Bob Nairn

A dinner to honor the recently retired Secretary of Brock University, Bob Nairn, has been planned for Saturday Feb. 4.

The dinner will be held in the Pond Inlet. Tickets are $12.50 per person. Included in the cost is dinner and a contribution to a gift for Mr. Nairn. Tickets are available from the Finance and Personnel office.

Tread with caution

Slippery floors have been the source of consternation and some embarrassment for those unfortunates who have had cause to experience the adverse effects of the situation.

The mishaps have been numerous enough to warrant the University's Safety committee to request caution on the part of faculty, staff and students in maneuvering the hallways and lobbies.

The slipping and falling that has resulted from the floors appear to be the result of a number of factors: the new tile in some areas is a harder surface; more water, sand, and salt are being trekked in at this time of year; and the type of footwear being worn.

The matter is under investigation - in the meantime, proceed with caution.

BIDS on campus this summer

There's an innovative new program scheduled to appear on campus this summer: the Brock Institute for Disabled Students.

Coordinated and directed by Prof Walt Watson, Sociology, and Part-Time programs officer, Roger Reynolds, BIDS will attempt to prepare disabled students for university life.

The program, which will be a two week workshop carried on in early summer, will focus on the life skills and study skills needed by disabled students to comfortably adapt to the university environment.

"We're currently in the developmental stage," said Prof Watson. "But the program will be open to disabled students throughout the province."

Pat Smolak, a Brock graduate, is project manager.

Pat, who is blind, said she is enthusiastic about such a program at Brock: "There's a lot of preparation involved when a disabled student decides to go to university. Everything from deciding whether or not it's realistic to take a certain course to what kind of facilities are available and where can you find them."

BIDS has received a federal grant of more than $42,000 to aid in the organizational and planning aspects of the Institute. Participants in the two week workshop will be charged a fee, to cover residence, meals, and teaching materials.

The position of vice-president

The report in the last issue of Campus News (Jan. 20) on the appointment of the vice-president inadvertently included the word 'academic' in the lead sentence. In fact, while the person appointed will be an academic, the position is that of vice-president.

Nominations to date

The following list of applications/nominations for the position of vice-president has been received by the Advisory committee on the appointment of a vice-president as of noon, Tuesday Jan. 24:

Prof W. A. Matheson - Politics department

Faculty and staff are reminded that applications, or nominations counter-signed by the nominee, can be submitted to the committee secretary, Pat Beard, 10th floor, Schmon Tower, until 5 pm, Tuesday Jan. 31, 1984.

Any applications or nominations received during the week of Jan. 24-31, will be added to the nominations received, and publicized only on the Senate bulletin board, Thistle corridor.

For one week after nominations have closed, comments in writing from members of the University community will be received.

United Way recognizes Brock effort

Brock University picked up the 'bronze award' at the United Way's Recognition and Awards night on Thursday Jan. 19.

Bob Anderson, Director, Personnel Services, accepted the award "which honors faculty and staff" at ceremonies held in the Pond Inlet.

The awards were presented to organizations achieving a 50 per cent to 64 per cent participation rate and whose average employee donation was greater than $50.

The total contribution by faculty and staff at the University was $18,0451.90, which averages out to approximately $30 per employee - a record for Brock.

The University was the only organization within the educational division to be so recognized.

Larry Buganto, United Way chairman, said all donors and volunteers who worked on the campaign should feel proud of their contribution to the people of the community.

Careers information night

The University's first careers information night for arts and science students is scheduled for Monday February 6.

Resource people from more than 40 organizations will be available to answer questions on careers, skills required, and types of jobs within their organizations.

Faculty members are urged to encourage students to attend. Career options and practical information regarding careers will be discussed.

The event will be held in the Pond Inlet from 7 pm to 10 pm.

Honorary graduands wanted

The Striking committee of Senate invites suggestions for possible candidates for honorary degrees at the June and November convocation.

Suggestions should be addressed c/o the Office of the Secretary of the University.

Those submitting nominations are advised that since suggestions are merely preliminary, no approach should be made to the nominee.

Dental benefits based on 1982 fees

Personnel Services reminds faculty and staff that benefits under the Dental Plan are based on the 1982 Ontario Dental Association Suggested Fee Guide.

If your dentist bases fees on the 1983 or 1984 schedule, an extra charge will arise, which will not be covered by the plan.

Dinner for Bob Nairn

Bob Nairn, the University Secretary who resigned his position effective Jan. 1 this year will be honored at a dinner on Saturday Feb. 4 at the Pond Inlet.

Tickets for the event, which covers dinner and a contribution for a gift for Mr. Nairn, are $12.50 per person.

They can be purchased on the 10th floor at the offices of Finance and Personnel Services. Peggy Collins, President's office, also has tickets available.

Noon hour film

The noon hour film series sponsored by the Fine Arts department continues, with a showing of "Rat Life and Diet in North America" and "Circle" on Tuesday Feb. 7.

"Rat Life and Diet in North America", a 1973 film, is a parable and satire about rats who escape from the repressive regime of cats and come to Canada where they take up organic gardening.

Jack Chamber's "Circle", 1969, focuses on one point in the artist's backyard, recording the passing of one year with four-second images filmed at the same time each day.

Both films are classified as experimental cinema. They begin at noon in The Studio. Admission is free.

Corvette volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed to sell Corvette tickets at the Pen Centre during the month of February.

Tickets will be sold Wednesday to Friday evenings between the hours of 6 pm to 9 pm; and on Saturdays between 10 am to 1 pm and 1 pm to 4 pm.

Those who can assist the Development office in the "Vette for science" raffle, are asked to call John Bird, Development director, ext 3591, and have their name put on the schedule.

Alumni teaching award

It's that time of year again - the Alumni office is now accepting nominations for its annual Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching.

The Alumni Association presents the award in recognition of a teacher's outstanding performance in areas such as classroom instruction, thesis supervision, student consultation, curriculum development and course development.

The recipient of last year's award was Prof Don Ursino, Biological sciences.

Nominations should include details on all three courses taught by the candidate during the past three years.

Details outlining criteria for the award and application forms are available at the Alumni office, Th 265.

Nominations will be accepted at the office until March 15.

Greek taverna returns!

The popular "Greek Taverna Night" will be held this year on Saturday Jan. 28 at the UAW Hall, 124 Bunting Rd, St. Catharines.

The event, organized by the Classics club, features Greek food, music and dancing. Greek wines and ouzo will be available at the cash bar.

Tickets cost $12 per person and are available by calling ext 3575 or Bernice Cardy at 685-1601.

The proceeds go to the Classics club's scholarship fund to help support Brock students participating in the department's summer programs in Greece and Cyprus.

The fun begins at 7 pm and entertainment is featured until 1 am.

Swiss night

"Swiss night" will be hosted by the Brock University Faculty and Staff club on Friday Feb. 10.

The dinner will be catered by Auberge Suisse. Cocktails begin at 7 pm; dinner is served at 7:30 pm.

For members and escorts, tickets are $7.50 per person; for non-members and escorts, tickets are $12 per person.

A maximum of 80 tickets will be sold. Tickets are restricted to members only until 9 am, Monday Feb. 6. Members can put non-member guests on a waiting list.

For tickets or information contact I. Masse, ext 3578 or Moreen Kaduk, ext 3325.

The Part Time Students' Association presents a 'Pub night' on Monday Jan. 30.

The event begins at 9 pm to midnight in the Faculty Club, 13th floor, Brock Tower.

Featured is a draw at 10:30 pm for five Corvette (Series C) tickets.

Free sandwiches and other goodies will be on hand. All are welcome.

"One Trick Pony"

The new musical film series sponsored by the Fine Arts department will show "One Trick Pony", (1980), on Friday Jan. 27 at 8 pm in The Studio. Admission is $3.

OCUFA plans to fight re-structuring

The Ontario Confederation of University Faculty Associations will mount a counter-attack on Colleges and Universities Minister Bette Stephenson's plans to restructure the university system.

In a press release issued last week, OCUFA President Bill Jones said "Our task will be to convince members of the public that her (Dr. Stephenson's) plan essentially means fewer opportunities for their children to go to university".

Prof Jones said the campaign will attempt to counteract the re-shaping of the university system in Ontario, based on proposals outlined by Dr. Stephenson in the Legislature in December. A three-man commission has been set up to plan the university re-structuring.

The purpose of the OCUFA campaign said Prof Jones is "to encourage a public, political, and media climate that will make the implementation of the Minister's plans impossible".

OCUFA has met with labor groups, political party representatives, student union leaders, and university support staff in order to persuade them to join the campaign.

The first phase of the campaign will concentrate on informing the general public and specific interest groups of the changes proposed by the Minister said Prof Jones. The overall campaign will be mounted in stages.

Wanted: Social sciences dean

An Advisory committee on the appointment and re-appointment of Dean - Social Sciences division has been selected by the President to choose a dean for the term beginning July 1, 1985.

Prof L.A. Soroka now holds the position of Dean, Social Sciences.

The Advisory committee consists of Prof M.F. Richardson, chairman, Prof T.G. Carroll, Prof M.H.I. Dore, Prof H.J. Gayler, Prof D. Glenday, Prof S. Segalowitz, and Prof B. Krushelnicki.

Applications and nominations for the post of Dean, Division of Social Sciences, counter-signed by the nominee, are invited by the Advisory committee.

The applications/nominations should reach the Committee secretary, Pat Beard, 10th floor, Schmon Tower, no later than 5 pm on Monday March 5, 1984.

Each application or counter-signed nomination should be accompanied by a curriculum vitae prepared in the same way as those submitted for promotion or tenure positions.

The appropriate format is available through the offices of Deans of Divisions.

A list of nominations/applications received by Monday Feb. 27 will be forwarded for posting to all Deans, Directors, and Departmental chairmen.

The list will also be publicized in Campus News.

Nominations/applications received during the week of Feb. 27 through to March 5, will be added to the list but only publicized on the Senate bulletin board, Thistle corridor.

All written comments provided to the Advisory committee during the week following March 5 will be kept confidential and destroyed when the committee has completed its task.

February 4: Bob Nairn night

A dinner at the Pond Inlet, honoring Bob Nairn and his many years of service to Brock University, will be held Saturday Feb. 4.

Mr. Nairn retired (last week's Campus News used the word resigned; in fact he retired) his position as Secretary to the University, effective Jan. 1, 1984.

Tickets are $12.50 per person. Included in the price is dinner and a contribution toward a gift for Mr. Nairn.

Tickets are available from the offices of Finance and Personnel, as well as from Peggy Collins, the President's office.

Live at Alphonse's

Performing Thursday Feb. 2 through to Saturday Feb. 4 at Alphonse's Trough is "Centryx".

There's a $1 admission charge; top 40

dance music is featured with a D.J. between sets.

And don't forget "Happy Hour" at Alphonse's daily between 4 pm and 7 pm, Monday to Friday.

Visiting artist lecture series

Leading Canadian artists will discuss their work and ideas in a series of slide lectures/discussions presented by the Department of Fine Arts.

The first lecture will be given by George Hawkin, in the Alumni Lounge, on Friday February 3 at 7 pm.

Everyone is welcome. Admission is free.

The next guest artist will be Walter Bachinski, who will lecture on Friday February 17.

The lecture series is made possible by a grant from the Canada Council.

Presenting "The Quinlan Sisters"

The Quinlan Sisters perform in The Studio, Brock Centre for the Arts on Saturday Feb. 4, at 9 pm.

The performance features an a cappella musical revue by Peter McGehee.

The trio combine jazz, satire and comedy in their performance.

"They sing like a punk barbershop quartet minus one; like the Andrews Sisters minus good taste; like the Osmonds minus mom, dad and god" states one review.

Tickets are $3 per person at the door.

The performance is presented by the Niagara Artists Centre, in conjunction with the Fine Arts department at Brock.

IBM president speaks at Brock

Mr. Carl Corcoran, President, IBM of Canada Ltd. is guest speaker at Brock University on Tuesday February 14.

Mr. Corcoran is part of the speaker series, "Excellence in the Eighties" sponsored by the School of Administrative Studies.

The series was inspired by the best seller In Search of Excellence, as well as a series of articles by The Financial Post, on excellent Canadian companies researched by McKinsey and Company.

IBM of Canada Ltd. was named as one of the 30 representative companies identified on the basis of growth and profit (measured over 5 and ten-year spans).

Shared characteristics of successful companies included: a vision that works because it is clear, compelling and comprehensive; a people-focused management style; and an extraordinary measure of continuity at the top levels of management.

Mr. Corcoran will comment on these characteristics and the factors that have made IBM Canada Ltd. a success.

The lecture begins at 7:30 pm in The Pond Inlet. All are welcome. There is no admission charge.

Your assistance please

The Development office is asking for volunteers to sell Corvette raffle tickets at the Pen Centre throughout February.

Tickets will be sold Wednesday to Friday evenings between the hours of 6 pm and 9 pm; on Saturdays from 10 am to 1 pm or 1 pm to 4 pm.

Those who can volunteer their time are asked to call John Bird, Development Director, at ext 3591.

Careers information night

Resource people from more than 40 organizations will be on hand at careers information night for arts and science students on Monday February 6.

Careers (different jobs, daily job duties, skills required), future job trends and organizational structures will be discussed.

Faculty are urged to encourage students to attend the event.

Careers information night will be held from 7 pm to 10 pm in The Pond Inlet.

Graduates finding jobs

More than 88 per cent of university graduates who entered the labor force after graduation in the spring of 1982 are employed (71.5 per cent full-time; 17.3 per cent part-time).

Those are the statistics contained in a graduate employment survey released in December by Colleges and Universities Minister Bette Stephenson.

The survey said those employed full-time were satisfied with their jobs, with their salaries, and with the opportunities for advancement. Most of the respondents said a degree was required for the employment they found.

The survey included graduates from Ontario's 15 universities, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, and the Ontario College of Art. At the time the survey was taken, the unemployment rate for those between 20-24 years of age in Ontario was 18.7 per cent.

Eric entertains children

A concert by Eric Nagler on Saturday Feb. 4 is the latest event in the spring children's series sponsored by the Brock Centre for the Arts.

An accomplished musician who has many popular albums to his credit, Eric Nagler introduces the ideal that songs, tunes, games and stories are all an effective and fun way to communicate.

Eric plays banjo, fiddle, spoons, Jews harp, psaltery, nose flute, various other instruments, and shares his musical energy with the audience by getting them to clap and sing along.

The show begins at 2 pm in The Theatre. Tickets are $6/adult; $4/child. They can be purchased at the Box office, 688-5475.

One for vice-president

Applications and nominations for the position of vice-president at Brock closed on Tuesday Jan. 31. As of that date, there was one nomination for the position: Prof W.A. Matheson, Department of Politics.

Comments in writing from individual members of the University community were accepted by the Advisory Committee on the Appointment of a Vice-president (Prof K. Kernaghan, chairman) until 5 pm, Tuesday Feb. 7.

All comments will be held in strict confidence and destroyed when the committee has completed its task.

OCUFA teaching awards

The province's outstanding university teachers will once again be recognized by the Ontario Confederation of Faculty Associations' teaching awards.

Nominations for the 1983 awards are now being accepted and should reach OCUFA offices by April 15, 1984.

Up to ten awards will be presented and successful nominees will be selected by the OCUFA Committee on Teaching Awards.

Categories include all levels of instruction - graduate and undergraduate teaching continuing education, and faculty development.

Those who excel in activities such as course design, curriculum development, organization of teaching programs and other significant forms of leadership are also eligible for the OCUFA awards.

Nominees for the awards are invited from individuals, informal groups of faculty or students, local faculty associations, faculty or college councils, university committees, local student councils, departments and alumni.

Guidelines regarding the nomination structure are available from the Brock University Faculty Association or the OCUFA office.

Letters of nomination with supporting documentation should be sent to: OCUFA Committee on Teaching Awards, 40 Sussex Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1J7.

Commission plans public hearings

A news release from the recently formed Commission on the Future Development of the Universities of Ontario states that public hearings in different parts of the province will be held to gauge reaction from all segments of the university community and public.

The three-member commission, chaired by businessman Edmund Bovey, also said it will prepare a discussion paper outlining the issues and alternatives the commission plans to study.

Headquarters for the commission is 101 Bloor Street W., Toronto.

The Fine Arts department presents Samuel Beckett's "Waiting for Godot", Wednesday Feb. 15 through to Saturday Feb. 18.

The play is a masterful piece of contemporary drama with an emphasis on the comic and absurd antics and discussions of Estragon and Vladimir, the play's main characters.

Set in an elaborately designed junk-yard, the anticipation of the arrival of Godot by Estragon and Vladimir provides many absurd and hilarious moments.

The show is directed by Gregson Winkfield and designed by Barb Plater-Saflarski.

Performances will be held at 8 pm in The Theatre. Tickets are $2 per person and available at the Box office.

A walk through ancient Athens

The February lecture of the Niagara Peninsula Society of the A.I.A. features an illustrated tour of the city centre of ancient Athens.

The lecture, titled "The Headquarters of Athenian Government" will be delivered by Prof Noel Robertson, Classics department.

The daily working of Athenian democracy will be examined through the remains of buildings and equipment excavated in the city centre. Many years of careful digging and reconstruction have made it possible to follow in the footsteps of an Athenian citizen as he exercised his democratic rights.

The lecture will be held on Sunday Feb. 12 at 3 pm in Th245.

Admission for A.I.A. members and students is free; others $2.50. The public is welcome.

Jonathan Earp in concert

Classical guitarist Jonathan Earp performs at the Lunch Hour concert sponsored by the Fine Arts department on Tuesday Feb. 14.

The one-hour program features a variety of pieces such as S.L. Weiss' "Allemande", "Courante", and "Gigue" and I. Albeniz' "Granada" and "Asturias".

The concert begins at noon in The Studio. Admission is free.

Grossman on campus

The Honorable Larry Grossman, Treasurer of Ontario and Minister of Economics will be on campus as the guest of the Brock University Progressive Conservative Association on Monday Feb. 13.

Mr. Grossman will speak in the Faculty and Staff Club (13th floor, Schmon Tower) from 3 pm to 5 pm.

All are invited to attend. Bar service will be available.

Gourmet Olympic special...

Saga Foods is into the Olympic spirit this week with a special menu on board at the Pond Inlet.

Featured in the "Gold medal competition" on Wednesday Feb. 8 is Canada vs the United States with a fare of American chicken wings vs Canadian beef-on-a-bun.

On Thursday Feb. 9 it's Italy vs France with lasagna versus crepes in the gourmet competition.

Draft beer (12 oz) is on sale for 75 cents. The deli line features a variety of European deli meats.

Special olympics needs assistance

Proctor and Gamble Ltd. is once again sponsoring the Ontario Special Olympics this year.

The University community can help out the Association for the Mentally Retarded by saving proofs of purchase (boxtops or universal pricing code) from the following products: Cheer, Tide, Bold 3, Downy, Ivory, Camay, Zest, Coast, Safeguard, Bounce, Oxydol and Ivory Snow.

The proofs of purchase can be sent to Judi Eichner, Phys Ed office or Mary Berg, Registrar's office. The campaign ends on March 30.

Canada, culture and communications

The first of three public lectures to commemorate the introduction of the Communications studies program at Brock takes place Friday Feb. 10.

Mr. Robert McConnell, vice-president of Southam, Incorporated, Toronto is guest lecturer.

Mr. McConnell, former publisher of the Montreal Gazette, speaks on "Hello, Gutenberg: Canadian newspapers in the 21st century".

The lecture and discussion period run from 2 pm to 4 pm in the Senate chamber.

The lecture series is dedicated to the memory of the late Graham Spry, a prominent figure in Canadian public broadcasting for more than 50 years and an honorary doctor of Brock University.

Mac at Brock

By now the story is a familiar one. Two college stop-outs design a computer in a garage in California in 1977 and call it an Apple. The person computer revolution has begun.

In 1981 IBM launched their personal computer, featuring a 16 bit processor, double the power of the Apple. It has been embraced by the business community.

The latest development in all this rapid technology is Macintosh (sic), a new innovation from Apple, with a 32 bit processor (twice that of IBM), "mouse" control, and integrated softwear.

Brock's many micro users can see a demonstration of Macintosh on Wednesday Feb. 15 in the Dean's meeting room. Demonstrations will be given at 11 am, noon and 1:30 pm.

Thanks for your service

Sgt. Michael Patrick Murphy of the Campus Police department retired on February 3 after 4 1/2 years of service at Brock.

A note from Campus Police Chief, D.F. Roberts states that "'Irish' Mike was that very friendly fellow you would see on the day shift, usually around the Arthur Schmon Tower lobby where he could be readily available to respond to calls for assistance.

"He will certainly be missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing and working with him. We certainly wish him well on his retirement".

Reminder

Carl Corcoran, president of IBM Canada is guest speaker on Feb. 14 at 7:30 pm in the Pond Inlet.

You're invited for dinner

"Swiss night" will be hosted by the Brock University Faculty and Staff club on Friday Feb. 10.

Auberge Suisse will cater the dinner which begins at 7:30 pm; cocktails at 7 pm.

Tickets for members and escorts are $7.50 per person. Non-members and escorts are $12 per person.

A maximum of 80 tickets will be sold. For tickets or information contact I. Masse, ext 3578 or Moreen Kaduk, ext 3325.

Fine arts

Prof B.K. Grant participated in a panel discussion on "Pornography, violence, and the media" sponsored by the Community Outreach program at the Fort Erie Public Library in January.

Politics

In January, Prof Carl Baar testified before the Ontario Legislature's Standing Committee on Administration of Justice (in opposition to portions of Bill 100, the proposed Courts of Justice Act) and the Montana Legislature's joint interim study committee (outlining and criticizing proposals to reorganize that state's court system). He was interviewed on CJQR-FM's Niagara Magazine and CBC's Metro Morning and was an invited expert at a meeting of the Criminal Procedure project of the Law Reform Commission of Canada (the project will draft part of the first new Criminal Code in more than 100 years).

Prof Bill Hull delivered an invited lecture to a senior graduate seminar in the Canadian Studies program at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, in January. His subject was "Transboundary environmental problems". Earlier in the month Prof Hull spoke to the Grimsby Historical society on "Lake Lodge School, 1896-1933".

February 24th holiday

It's a mid-winter holiday on Friday Feb. 24 for faculty and staff at the University.

A memo from Personnel Services states that: "Circumstances will again permit the University to observe a holiday during the Winter Reading Week..."

"University offices will be closed with the exception of the Library and those departments that have made commitments.

"Staff members who are required to work will be given an alternate day off at a mutually convenient time."

Polar Bear 10K

This is your race fitness enthusiasts - the Polar Bear 10K!

The annual cross-country survival run is guaranteed to "explore your threshold of pain (with) six miles of rough terrain, sloop, hills and water" to go through and over.

The run will be held on Saturday March 10 at noon beginning at the Brock Phys Ed centre.

Each competitor receives a souvenir beer stein and an invitation to a "Survivors

Schubert symposium on campus

It's billed as a "major musical event" - the Schubert symposium on campus Thursday March 1 through to Saturday March 3.

In concerts, lectures, and a master class, the music of the 19th century Viennese composer Franz Schubert, will be performed and discussed.

The guest list includes lecturers and performers from several parts of Canada and the United States.

The symposium concerts contain a generous mixture of vocal and instrumental chamber music, including many works which are rarely heard. The Friday evening program offers the very first public performances of a group of Schubert's unfinished Italian and German songs. The piano music in Friday's concert will also illustrate Schubert's little known Hungarian side.

The Saturday afternoon concert features a performance on an original instrument with fortepianist Boyd McDonald playing three of the Moments musicaux on a late 18th-century Andreas Stein instrument.

The Guest Artists' concert on Saturday night features a distinguished group of Canadian performers in recital. The program begins and ends with some of Schubert's popular works: the song cycle, "Die Schoene Muellerin" (The Beautiful Maid of the Mill) with James A. Stark and Patricia Grant, and "Der Hirt auf dem Felsen" (The Shepherd on the Rock) with Rose Bandi, Robert Sheffield and Jane Hayes.

The three lecture sessions will focus on various aspects of the composer's life and music.

There is no registration fee for the symposium. All concerts are free except for the Guest Artists' concert which charges $3/adult; $1/students/seniors.

For a schedule of events and more information contact the Department of Fine Arts, ext 3214.

The Geology club is sponsoring its 8th annual Brock photo contest, March 16 through to March 26.

There's a $25 grand prize, a $10 first prize in each category, a $5 second prize in each category and ribbons to 4th place and honorable mention.

The contest is open to anyone affiliated with the University (students, staff, alumni).

Photographs which have not previously won are eligible. There is no restriction on subject matter, however photos must be entered in their proper categories.

Slides will be accepted in the following categories: landscape, nature, people and miscellaneous.

Prints will be accepted in: landscape, nature, people, miscellaneous, and black and white.

Each print must be mounted or matted. Minimum print size is 8"x10".

Entry fee is $1 per photograph or six for $5. Name, phone number and category must be clearly marked on each submission.

Up to three prints or slides may be entered in each category.

Entries should be submitted by March 16 to Brian Grant Rm D419 or Ed Lorek, Rm D430.

Artist to lecture

Artist Walter Bachinski will be on campus Friday Feb. 17 to present and discuss his work in drawing, printmaking and sculpture.

Mr. Bachinski's work has been included in major exhibitions in Canada, the U.S., and Europe. He has received numerous awards from places such as Montreal, New York, France and Italy.

He now lives in Guelph where he teaches drawing and printmaking at the University of Guelph.

The lecture begins at 7 pm in the mezzanine of the Pond Inlet. Admission is free.

A performance by the Orford String Quartet on Friday Feb. 24, brings the 1984/85 Music series at the Brock Centre for the Arts to a close.

Internationally recognized as one of the finest string quartets in the world, the Orford quartet is regarded as "one of Canada's national treasures".

The Orford's performances are acclaimed for their own special blend of musical qualities including intelligent and sensitive interpretations.

Tickets are available at the Box office. Prices are $10/adult; $8/student/senior.

Les Ballets Jazz

The modern dance company, Les Ballets Jazz de Montreal performs Sunday Feb. 19 at the Brock Centre for the Arts.

The dynamic company of twelve specializes in contemporary dance involving the varied rhythms of jazz music. They have performed for audiences throughout North America and the world.

Tickets are $13/adults, $9/student/senior. They can be purchased at the Box office.

Judicial admin alumni meet

A note from Prof Carl Baar of the Politics department said Ottawa was the setting for a reunion of six graduates from the Politics department's M.A. program in Judicial administration.

The Ottawa group included members of each of the program's first three entering classes. The alumni now work in the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics, the Ministry of the Solicitor General, and the House of Commons.

Also attending the Feb. 4 gathering at the Westin Hotel were Judge and Mrs. David R. McWilliam. McWilliam, now a judge of the County Court in Ottawa, taught a graduate seminar in the program while he sat on the County Court bench in St. Catharines.

Brock gets energy conservation grant

Brock University has been awarded more than $17,000 by the provincial government for an energy conservation program.

In a joint announcement by Colleges and Universities Minister Dr. Bette Stephenson and Energy Minister Philip Andrewes, grants totalling $1,042,830 were awarded 14 post secondary institutions in the province.

Brock will use its $17,750 grant to install a salt-based energy storage unit and a heat exchanger in the new Alumni Greenhouse. The University will also do an energy study on all of its buildings.

Projects at other universities include boiler conversions to use natural gas instead of oil, systems to recover heat from waste air and water, and improvements to ventilation systems and lighting controls.

The provincial grants cover about 50 per cent of the cost of each project. The institution pays the remainder of the cost.

The awards are in line with the provincial government's energy conservation program: Energy Minister Andrewes noted his ministry has been working with universities to save energy since 1976.

The result has been "a 20 per cent saving" in the university sector to date.

Flames, but no serious injury

Two separate fires on campus last week resulted in damage but no serious injury.

On Thursday Feb. 16, Campus Police and local firemen were called to put out a fire that had broken out in a parked car in the main parking lot.

Campus Police Chief Doug Roberts said vandalism is suspected in the fire: "The fire was started by a cigarette on the seat". The car's sun roof was partially open and police suspect the cigarette was dropped or thrown in.

It was 4:40 am on Friday Feb. 17 when the fire alarm in residence sounded. Students were quickly evacuated; a smoldering reading lamp in Rm 331A, Fitzgibbon House had filled the room with smoke and flames thereby setting off the alarm.

Chief Roberts said students John Sanders, Bob Martin, and Roy Hunt are to be credited with keeping the fire at bay with extinguishers and the fire hose until firemen arrived on the scene.

Thanks for services rendered...

Members of the Faculty and Staff Club at the University honored bar manager Jim Gayman for his many years of service on Friday Feb. 10.

The Club chose their Swiss night dinner to mark Mr. Gayman's retirement and honor his 14 years of service.

He was presented with an engraved tray, four goblets, an honorarium, and was made an honorary life member of the Faculty and Staff Club.

"We'll miss Jim and we thank him for his many contributions to the Club," said Prof I. Masse, president of the Faculty and Staff Club.

Although retiring as bar manager for the Faculty and Staff Club, Mr. Gayman continues his work in housekeeping at the University.

Liquor Services, managed by Paul Dwyer, will take over bar duties for the Club.

And the winning numbers are...

The third draw in the "Vette for Science" car raffle was held on Thursday Feb. 16.

The winning numbers are: 5587, 6543, 6884, 6929, 7601, 9843, 9958, 10006, 10020, and 11378.

If your number was one of the lucky ones chosen you're asked to contact the Development office, ext 3590, and submit your name in order to be eligible for the final reverse draw on May 24.

Tickets are now available for the April 5, Series D draw. One more draw, Series E, will be held on May 17, with the final draw following a week later.

Tickets are available, on campus, at the Development office, Th 263, the General Brock store, the Brock Book store, and the Phys Ed centre.

In the region, they can be purchased at Avondale stores and at Wintario booths.

Tickets cost $5 each.

Indian night

The Brock Faculty and Staff Club will host "Indian night" on Friday March 2.

The dinner will be catered by Le Ganges of Hamilton. Cocktails 7 pm; dinner 7:30 pm.

Included in the menu are such items as beef bhuna, chicken curry, chick peas, okra, pilau rice with almonds, and raita.

Maximum seating capacity is 99. Tickets are restricted to members only until 9 am, Monday Feb. 27. Members can put non-member guests on a waiting list.

Ticket prices are $8.50 for members & guests; $13.00 for non-members & guests.

For tickets or information contact I. Masse, ext 3578 or Moreen Kaduk, ext 3325.

CBC exec on campus

Mr. William Armstrong, executive vice-president of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation delivers a guest lecture on Friday March 2.

Mr. Armstrong is the second of three speakers invited by the University's Department of Communication Studies to lecture on the theme: "Canada, Culture, and Communications: the Mass Media at the Crossroads".

The lecture series is dedicated to the memory of Dr. Graham Spry, a moving force in Canadian broadcasting and recipient of an honorary degree from Brock.

Mr. Armstrong's topic will be "Culture and Communications: The Challenge for the CBC".

BUFA meeting features Bill Jones

The Brock University Faculty Association will hold a special general meeting on Tuesday Feb. 28 at noon.

Prof Bill Jones, the president of OCUFA, will speak on the Bovey commission plans to re-structure Ontario's university system.

The meeting takes place in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor, Schmon Tower.

Lunch hour concert

The Fine Arts department presents Linda Stead, soprano, and Che Anne Loewen, piano, at the Lunch Hour concert on Tuesday Feb. 28.

The program will consist of music by Modest Mussorgsky, Claude Debussy, and Anton Webern.

Ms. Stead studied at the University of Calgary, from 1976-79 and completed her studies at the University of Toronto. She has participated in the Bel Canto (Women's Chorus), Early Music Singers, University Concert Choir, and the Calgary Philharmonic.

Ms. Loewen completed a B.A. at the University of Manitoba, and graduated from Wilfred Laurier in 1979 as a gold medalist in the B.Mus. class. She has studied and performed in the U.S., England, France, and Austria.

The concert will be held in The Theatre.

Winter's "best" closes Brock!

The worst snowstorm the Niagara Region has witnessed in nine years was effective enough to literally paralyze the area for 48 hours.

Businesses, schools and industry succumbed to the 59 centimetres (almost two feet) of snow that fell from late evening Monday Feb. 27 through to early Wednesday Feb. 29.

For the first time since the region's 1977 snowstorm, Brock was closed for a two day period.

The University's closing forced the cancellation of a number of events, including the Board of Governors meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening.

According to Brock President Alan Earp, the Board meeting has been tentatively rescheduled for Tuesday March 13. Agenda items for the Feb. 28 meeting will be attended to at that time.

In the meantime, Physical Plant maintenance staff at the University continue their efforts at snow removal in the parking lots and grounds of the University.

The University was expected to be fully operational, with both administrative offices and classes resuming normal schedules, by Thursday afternoon.

Nominations for dean

A memo from the Advisory Committee on the Appointment and Renewal of Appointment of Dean, Division of Social Sciences, states the following applications and nominations for the position have been received as of Monday Feb. 27: Prof L.A. Soroka, Department of Economics and Prof K.J. Tinkler, Department of Geography.

Prof Soroka is the present Dean of Social Sciences.

Applications and nominations, countersigned by the nominee can be submitted to the Committee secretary, Pat Beard, 10th floor, Schmon Tower, until 5 pm, Monday March 5. Additional names will be publicized only on the Senate bulletin board, Thistle corridor.

For one week after nominations have closed (March 5), comments in writing are invited by individual members of the University community. The comments will be held in confidence and destroyed when the committee has completed its task.

Next Friday on campus

William Mocadam, president of Norfolk Communications, speaks on "Canadian Culture: A Matter of Economics" in the Senate Chambers, March 9, from 2 to 4 pm. This Friday's guest is William Armstrong, vice-president, CBC, Senate chambers, 2 pm.

The official opening is March 23!

The University's new science complex gets its official opening Friday March 23.

Deputy Premier of Ontario, Robert Welch, officiates. The complex will also be formally re-named the MacKenzie Chown complex at the ceremony. Family members of the late Mac Chown are expected to attend.

Invited to the event are the building's architects (Moriyama and Teshima of Toronto), the University's Board of Trustees, area politicians and corporate donors to the science development fund.

The ceremony takes place at 3 pm, with a reception to follow in the Pond Inlet.

The science complex will then be open for public tours on the Saturday and Sunday following the Friday opening.

A truckload of deeds for the library

The Brock Library has received more than 1800 volumes of land registry copy books for the Niagara region dating from the eighteenth century through to the 1950s.

The books record ownerships and land transactions for all property located in the three counties, Lincoln, Welland, and Haldimand, in the Niagara region.

"Some ownerships go back to the late 1700s and record land given by the Crown," said John Burtniak, Head of the Technical Services Division of the Library.

Each volume weighs between 15 and 20 pounds and all volumes are piled up in two rooms of the Library.

The books were obtained from the province's archives, and will be of special interest to genealogists.

The books should be available for use by the public late this year said Mr. Burtniak.

Physical Plant employee honored

Brock Physical Plant employee John Ens was honored by Lincoln county, February 20th, for rescuing a woman from a burning trailer last summer.

Mr. Ens and 19-year old Jan Hunink were commended by the Royal Canadian Humane Society for their quick action in rescuing 58-year old Greta Robbins.

Mrs. Robbins later died from her injuries, but the action displayed by the two men "has not gone un-noticed" said Mayor Ray Konkle of Lincoln, in presenting the award.

Mr. Ens has been a Brock employee since 1967.

Update those bibliographies!

The Library's Reference staff asks faculty members who have previously supplied data for the Faculty Biographies file, to submit updates.

The Reference staff find the file helpful in responding to the many enquiries about faculty publications and encourage faculty who have not submitted the information to please do so.

Forward publication lists and updates to the Reference department, attention: Barb Whittard.

March lecture features ancient Egypt

Dr. William H. Peck, curator of Ancient Art at the Detroit Institute of Arts presents a lecture on "Drawing in Ancient Egypt", Sunday March 11.

Dr. Peck is the guest of the Niagara Peninsula Society of the Archaeological Institute of America.

The art of drawing in ancient Egypt as a basis for understanding the education of the Egyptian artist of the New Kingdom will be examined in the illustrated lecture.

Dr. Peck, a noted scholar of ancient Egyptian art, has also published a book on the topic.

The lecture begins at 8 pm in Th 245. Admission for A.I.A. members and students is free; others $2.50.

Canada, culture and communications

The last of three lectures sponsored by the University's Communications Studies department will be delivered Friday March 9 at 2 pm in the Senate Chambers.

Guest speaker is William Mocadam, President of Norfolk Communications, Toronto, whose topic is "Canadian culture: A matter of economics".

The inaugural lecture series was dedicated to the memory of Dr. Graham Spry, a noted figure in Canadian public broadcasting and honorary degree recipient from Brock.

The YWCA is hosting "Adventure '84", a children's spring break program, at Brock, March 12 through to March 16.

The program, for children aged four to 14, will be held at the College of Education.

Activities include swimming, horseback riding, orienteering, hiking, sports and games, arts and crafts, movies and trips.

The program runs 8 am to 6 pm daily.

Faculty or staff who would like to register their children in the program can obtain registration forms from departments throughout the University or call the YWCA at 688-3912.

The fee is $50 per child; a $5 discount for each additional child in the family.

Paul Phoenix, president and chief operating officer of Dofasco Inc., is guest speaker at Brock on Tuesday March 20.

Mr. Phoenix is the last scheduled speaker to appear as part of the "Excellence in the Eighties" series, presented by Administrative Studies. The series focused on the excellent business acumen demonstrated by certain Canadian companies.

The Dofasco president will comment on managerial excellence at 7:30 pm in the Pond Inlet. Admission is free; all are welcome.

Teaching language across disciplines

The University's Centre for English Language programs is sponsoring an inter-faculty colloquium on "Teaching language across disciplines".

The colloquium takes place over a two day period, Friday April 6 through to Saturday April 7.

Prof M. Yacowar, Dean of Humanities at Brock, delivers the opening address.

Scheduled topics include "Cross-cultural aspects of teaching French in an Anglophone environment" with Prof W. Rogers from the University of Toronto, "The inter-disciplinary nature of ESL" with Prof N. Elson from York University, and "Computer assisted language teaching" with Prof M. Canale, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education.

Lectures and discussions take place in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor.

Registration fee is $10 per person, which includes dinner at the Pond Inlet on April 6.

Faculty are encouraged to take part in the colloquium. For more information contact the CELP office, ext 3374.

Beth Anne Cole in concert

An evening with Beth Anne Cole on Friday March 9 concludes the Music Theatre series presented by the Brock Centre for the Arts this season.

Miss Cole sings a wide variety of songs in her show, entitled "Songs from the Theatre". Included are Shakesperean songs, famous and not-so-famous pieces from Broadway, Vaudeville and the French stage. Her own writing and personal commentary give the evening a warm and personal flavor.

The evening begins at 8 pm in The Theatre. Tickets are $10/adults; $8/students and seniors. They can be purchased at the Box office.

Baroque art lectures

Sylvia Osterbind of the Fine Arts department invites the University community to attend the Open House lectures on Baroque art.

"Dutch seventeenth century painting" is the focus of the lecture on Monday March 12. The talk is based on last fall's exhibition at the Art Gallery of Ontario.

"Bernini: The sculptor of the Italian Baroque" is the topic of the second lecture on Monday March 19.

Both lectures take place in Th 245 from 7 pm to 10 pm.

Break away to the campus of your choice

High school students in Ontario are on break next week from March 12 through to March 16.

For senior students that usually means a visit to the campus of their choice as they decide on universities and programs.

The students are welcome on campus. Faculty and staff are reminded that students who have further inquiries about the University should be sent to the Information office, Th 265. Liaison officers will be on hand to answer questions throughout the week.

Print shop closes for exams

Faculty, staff and students are reminded the Print shop will be closed April 2, 3, 4 and 5, in order to print final examinations.

Get those nominations in!

Faculty, students, and alumni are reminded that nominations for the 1984 Brock University Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching are now being accepted.

The award is presented annually by the Alumni Association in recognition of a teacher's outstanding performance in areas such as classroom instruction, thesis supervision, student consultation, curriculum and course development.

Teachers can be nominated by students, alumni, or another faculty member.

To pick up an application form, or find out more about the award, contact Ginny Gilbert in the Alumni office, Th 265, ext 3251.

Closing date for nominations is Thursday March 15.

Bill Matheson, Brock's vice-president

To the surprise of few, and general acclamation of all, the Board of Trustees, at their March 13th meeting, unanimously approved the appointment of Prof William A. Matheson as Brock University's vice-president.

Bill Matheson has been teaching at Brock since 1969. His department is Politics and his specialty is Canadian politics.

He became Dean of Social Sciences in 1975, remaining in that position until 1981.

He recently served as "acting president" while Brock President Alan Earp was on leave last spring.

Prof Matheson is also the recipient of another first in Brock history: the Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching (first awarded in 1980).

He was cited by students for his "enthusiasm, interest and excellent communication skills".

Born in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Prof Matheson received his BA from Dalhousie University, MBA from the University of Western Ontario, and MA and PhD from Carleton University in Ottawa where he began his career as an instructor.

His publications include "The Prime Minister and the Cabinet", one of the earliest in-depth studies of the subject in Canada.

Prof Matheson is active in community affairs, serving as vice-chairman of the Niagara Symphony Association and a member of the board of the Niagara Centre for Youth Care.

"I'm delighted the very important part Prof Matheson plays at Brock will be recognized by this new designation," said Alan Earp, president of Brock.

"I'm also delighted that as one of our outstanding teachers he will be able to continue to meet with classes on a regular basis," he continued.

The Secretary to the University is...

The Board of Trustees was also informed, Tuesday night, of the appointment of Pat Beard to the position of Secretary to the University.

Mr. Beard, 36, takes on the position left vacant by Bob Nairn who retired as Secretary Jan. 1st of this year.

A Brock graduate, Mr. Beard worked at the University from 1971 through to 1980. He left to work at the Ontario Council on University Affairs in Toronto, returning to Brock in 1983 as institutional research officer.

"I'm very pleased to have in this important office a Brock graduate who is thoroughly familiar with Brock and the Ontario university system as a whole," said President Alan Earp.

Isaac cameo approved

Other matters on the agenda at the Board of Trustees meeting included a motion which approved the adopting of a cameo of Isaac Brock as the University's logo.

An earlier motion to amend the name of the University to Isaac Brock was not put before the Board.

The suggestion to rename the University as part of the adoption of the logo was probably the most controversial aspect of the original motion.

"I have felt that we needed to clean up our institutional graphic image for many years," said Doug Geddie, Director of Information and Liaison.

"We've needed a symbol or logo, and when the cameo was unveiled, many said why not consider renaming at the same time?"

"All of this was meant to strengthen the image of the University, to build on our traditions, and to emphasize our recent success and popularity," he said.

"It certainly wasn't meant to divide the campus," he said. "Those who opposed the name change did it with a passion that was hard to ignore".

The new Brock University logo will be registered as an official university symbol. It will be phased in and will be used on stationery, publications, and other materials. A design manual will govern its implications.

Badger basketball wrap-up

For the Brock Badger basketball teams it's over for another season.

There weren't any championships this year, but both the men and women placed well in provincial rankings. The men's team headed for the CIAU regional playoffs on the weekend, defeating the University of New Brunswick, but losing to Lethbridge, 80-66 in the Eastern final on Saturday.

The women Badgers finished the season with a third place ranking in the province.

"Unfortunately, we didn't make it to the CIAU finals, but we were plagued with injuries at the end," said Chris Critelli, assistant women's coach.

All-star Candi Lohr was out with an ankle injury, and the Badgers lost to the powerful team from the University of Toronto, 73-68.

"One team wins and one team loses and we were the ones to lose this time," said Ms. Critelli.

The make-up of both the men's and women's Badger teams will consist of new talent next season, as both teams lose a number of their star players this year.

The men's team will play without the superb talent of Doug Fast, whose four years with the Badgers left a number of records including most points in a season (669 in 1982/83) and all-time leader in free throws (329).

The women's team loses a number of its top talent including Candi Lohr, Diane Hilko, and the Stamp sisters.

"We're going to be a very young team," said Ms. Critelli. "But we'll be a strong team because youth often brings a lot of determination and enthusiasm.

"I'm looking forward to our next season," she said.

BUFA meeting March 20

The Brock University Faculty Association holds a special general meeting Tuesday

March 20 at noon in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor, Schmon Tower.

The meeting was originally scheduled for February 28 but inclement weather caused the cancellation of the meeting.

Guest speaker is Prof Bill Jones, OCUFA president. The topic of Prof Jones' address is the Bovey Commission's plans to restructure the Ontario university system.

All members of the University community - faculty, librarians, staff members, BUSU, Press, student senators, etc. - are invited to attend.

Cercle francais meeting

The final meeting of the Cercle francais takes place Friday March 23 at 1 pm in Rm 1123 of the Schmon Tower.

Faculty members interested in using or improving their French are invited to attend.

For more information contact Prof L. Rosmarin, ext 3302.

This year's annual Athletic Awards Banquet takes place on Thursday March 22.

The banquet, which honors outstanding performances by the University's athletes, including male and female athlete of the year, will be held at Club Roma, Vansickle Road, St. Catharines.

Prices are varsity athletes - $5.50; guests - $11; dance only - $2.

Fine arts spring festival

The University's Fine Arts department holds its annual Spring Fine Arts Festival March 18 through to March 24 this year.

New works in theatre, video, music, mixed media, performance pieces and studio art will be performed and exhibited.

Students (and some faculty) direct, perform, write, compose, sing and dance in a variety of media.

Events have been scheduled in various locations during lunch hours, afternoons and evenings.

"The Best of the Festival" is presented Saturday March 24, along with the Department's 15th anniversary reunion.

From 10 am to 4 pm daily throughout the week, an art exhibit featuring the work of students in Visual Arts will be on display in The Gallery.

For more information regarding the scheduling of events contact the Fine Arts department ext 3214.

Jennifer Muller and the Works perform

The Brock Centre for the Arts brings its dance series to close this season with a performance by Jennifer Muller and The Works.

The New York City based company gives one performance only on Sunday March 18 at 8 pm in The Playhouse.

Jennifer Muller has studied with world renowned modern dance teachers such as Jose Limon, Martha Graham, and Anna Sokolow. She formed her own company in 1974.

Tickets are available at the Box office; $13/adults; $9/students and seniors.

U of O centennial celebrations

The Alumni Association at the University of Ottawa is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

A gala celebration from June 1 to June 3 this summer will focus on students and staff members of the University.

All former students and staff are invited back for the event.

Included in the festivities are a golf tournament, barbecue, civic reception, and grand banquet.

For further information and registration kits contact the Alumni Secretariat, University of Ottawa, Ottawa, K1N 6N5 or call (613) 231-2981.

You're all invited!

Brock President Alan Earp cordially invites faculty, staff and the University community to the official opening of the new science complex on Friday March 23.

The ceremony begins at 3 pm in the foyer of the new science laboratories.

Robert Welch, Deputy Premier of Ontario presides over the ribbon cutting. Ralph Benson, the recently appointed Assistant Deputy Minister, University and Student Affairs, will also attend.

The building will be formally named the Mackenzie Chown complex at the ceremony. Members of the Chown family will attend.

Construction on the new complex began in the spring of 1982, and was ready for a fresh influx of students in the fall of 1983.

Students honored by fire department

The level-headed actions of seven students in residence during a fire at Fitzgibbon House on Friday Feb. 17 were recognized and lauded by the St. Catharines Fire Department on Tuesday March 20.

The brief ceremony in the Board Room on the 13th floor of the Schmon Tower saw students John Sanders, Dianne Holden, Bob Martin, Roy Hunt, Brad Myles, Ed Whittaker and Allan Harris honored for their efforts at keeping the fire at bay until the fire department arrived.

The students used a fire hose and extinguishers to control the fire which is thought to have been started by a smoldering reading lamp in one of the residence rooms.

The Mayor of St. Catharines, Roy Adams, the City Administrator, the Fire Chief, members of the fire department, and Brock President Alan Earp were in attendance as the students were presented with letters of commendation.

Faculty, staff and students are reminded to submit the name of the colleague or teacher they would like to nominate for an OCUFA teaching award.

The annual awards embrace all levels of instruction including graduate and undergraduate teaching, continuing education, faculty development, proficiency in teaching, course and curriculum design and a number of other areas.

Nominations are invited from individuals, informal groups of faculty or students or both, and organizations such as local faculty associations, faculty and college councils, university committees, students' council and alumni.

Guidelines to preparing a nomination are available on request from BUFA or the provincial office of OCUFA, 40 Sussex Ave, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1J7.

Deadline for receipt of nominations is April 15, 1984.

COE and ministry sign agreements

The College of Education has recently concluded two agreements with the Ministry of Education.

The first agreement gives the College the sole responsibility in Ontario for offering the three course equivalent program for school attendance counsellors for the period of 1984-1989.

This program, under the leadership of Prof R. Chodzinsky, reflects a new thrust in Special Education and Counselling. The Ministry has provided an initial grant of $10,000 toward the development of the program.

The second agreement provides the College with a grant equivalent to approximately $15,000 for the purchase of a LEXICON/ICON micro computer configuration.

The College's responsibility will be to design and develop methods of implementation of the system for teacher education and classroom use.

The College will also be responsible for outlining ways in which the system can be used to improve instructional software and recommend possible modifications in functional requirements. Profs Connelly and Crane will coordinate the research in this area.

April history conference

The sixth annual Niagara Peninsula History conference will be held at Brock Saturday April 28 and Sunday April 29.

The welcome address will be delivered by Brock President Alan Earp.

Guest speakers and topics include Dr. Arthur Bowler, State University of New York at Buffalo who speaks on "The curse of Meroz: American perceptions of the Loyalists"; Lieut. Col. William A. Smy, Staff officer, Canadian army, "The settlement of Butler's Rangers"; Miss Edith G. Firth, author and historian, "Loyalist women in the Niagara Peninsula" and Dr. Charles G. Roland, M.D. and Jason A. Hannah, History of Medicine, McMaster University speaking on "The struggle for health during Upper Canada's first generation".

The Sunday event offers a field trip to Fort Niagara and along the Niagara River to Lewiston, through Queenston and Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Ribbons and fanfare herald opening

Ribbons, fanfare and speeches from the podium officially opened Brock University's Mackenzie Chown complex, Friday March 23.

Brock President Alan Earp led the delegation of invited speakers, welcoming the assembled guests and University community to the opening.

The $13.5 million complex was named in honor of the late Mac Chown, with Doris Chown and members of the Chown family unveiling the outdoor name sign for the complex.

Mrs. Chown said the naming of the complex in honor of her late husband was "a wonderful tribute".

"Mac thoroughly enjoyed his many years of affiliation with Brock," she said.

Calling the opening "a great day for Brock and the region of Niagara", Bob Welch, Deputy Premier of Ontario said the naming of the Chown complex was "appropriate" for "someone who gave so much of himself in the service of this community and a great memorial for a fine human being".

President Earp also thanked Prof Jack Miller, Chemistry, for the time and effort he devoted to the planning of the new complex.

Following the ceremony, guests were invited to tour the complex. A number of demonstrations were set up throughout various areas.

A reception in the Pond Inlet concluded the afternoon ceremony.

Athletic banquet awards

The University's top athletes were honored at the Brock Athletic Awards banquet, Thursday March 22.

The O'Keefe trophy for female athlete of the year went to swimmer Kathy Richardson. Kathy has won the trophy for three consecutive years.

The Patricia Lowenberger Memorial trophy for male athlete of the year was shared this year by basketball star Doug Fast and wrestler Joe Demarchuk.

Kathy, 20, who is considering retiring after the Olympic games, won four gold medals this year and was the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union swimmer at this year's meet.

Doug, 24, has been a star player with the Badger basketball team for the past four years. He has set a number of records, and was selected to the CIAU second all-Canadian team.

Joe, 19, is the first wrestler to be honored by the Lowenberger award. He won an OUAA gold medal in the 65-kilogram division. He also won a gold in the CIAU final

Lingua latina graduates

A note from the Classics department states that at a graduation ceremony in the Pond Inlet last Saturday, some fifty students from local elementary and high schools received diplomas for the completion of courses in Latin.

The program, offered through the Department of Classics, allows students who would otherwise have no opportunity to study Latin to begin the language from scratch and progress to a competence equivalent with the first year of study at university.

For further information on the program contact Prof Alan Booth, ext 3321.

Teaching language across disciplines

The University's Centre for English Language Programs would like to thank all those who have registered for the colloquium on "Teaching Language Across Disciplines".

To date, almost 70 participants have registered from the Buffalo, Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara, and Windsor regions.

In the event that any of the 75 seats have not been reserved the Centre will provide facilities for registration on April 6th and 7th.

Those interested are reminded that the registration fee is $10.

The Centre would also like to thank the Brock University Instructional Development Fund for its generous contribution to fees for the speakers at the colloquium.

Theatre Beyond Words

The Brock Centre for the Arts closes its 1983/84 season with a performance by Theatre Beyond Words on Saturday April 7th at 8 pm in The Theatre.

The troupe presents its newest show "Five Good Reasons to Laugh".

The show is an amusing look at life. The troupe combines action with sound, music and vocalization to form a unique style of visual theatre.

The company recently returned from a tour of Japan where it performed for five weeks; previous to that the company was in Hong Kong and the Soviet Union.

Tickets are $10 for adults; $7 for seniors and students.

Following the performance, Dean Maurice Yacowar will host a reception to meet the artists. The reception will be held in the Faculty Club, 13th floor, Schmon Tower.

Potato People on campus

Prior to the evening performance of Theatre Beyond Words, "Potato People", the final children's performance will be held Saturday April 7th, in the afternoon at 2 pm, The Theatre.

Potato People is a little cartoon that creates the illusion of watching live animation. It ripples with humor for both parents and children.

Tickets are $6/adult; $4/child.

Print shop closed

The Print shop will be closed April 2, 3, 4 and 5 in order to print final exams.

It's book recall time!

The University Library is holding its annual book recall this spring.

All library materials with a due date prior to March 9, 1984 are subject to the recall.

All faculty, staff and graduate students are asked to return such material to the Library by May 18, 1984.

Your early cooperation is particularly important this year since the Library will have no automated support during the computer changeover scheduled for the month of June.

Staff are anxious to complete the recall before the shutdown so that borrowing records can be as accurate and up-to-date as possible for the period during which a manual backup system will be in use.

Faculty who are proceeding on sabbatical or who will be away from the campus for extended periods for the summer are requested to ensure that all books are returned to the Library before they leave.

Extended hours for exams

In order to accommodate students studying for exams and finishing term papers, the University Library extends its Friday hours of operation from 8:30 am to 11:15 pm on April 6th, 13th and 20th.

Easter hours at the Library

The University Library remains open throughout the Easter weekend as follows:

Friday April 20 - 8:30 am to 11:15 pm
Saturday April 21 - 11 am to 9 pm
Sunday April 22 - 1 pm to 9 pm

Monday April 23 - 8:30 am to 11 pm

Reference service will be available:
Friday April 20 - 9 am to 5 pm
Saturday April 21 - 11 am to 5 pm
Monday April 23 - 8:30 am to 7 pm

Prof Liddell acting director

Prof W.W. Liddell becomes Acting Director of the School of Administrative Studies for the period July 1/84 through to June 30/85.

Prof J.R. Hanrahan, Director, will be on sabbatical leave during that time.

Fine Arts concert

The Department of Fine Arts presents a rescheduled Lunch Hour concert on Tuesday April 3rd.

Linda Stead (soprano) and Che Anne Lowen (piano), will be performing in The Theatre, at noon. Admission is free.

The latest work by R.B. Pritchard of the Department of Fine Arts, "Skulls and Drums", will premiere and be performed at the concert by Ms. Stead and Ms. Lowen.

Get your yearbook!

Brock University Yearbooks are now available at the General Brock store for $20. Photos and notes cover various activities and include graduate pictures of the class of '83.

Survival kits to ease the load

Brock University's Alumni office has come up with a unique idea to help students "survive" the pressures of final exams.

Called "survival kits", parents of students living in residence were invited by letter, early in the year, to purchase the kits for students prior to the start of exams.

The kits, which contain such items as hot chocolate and coffee, cheese and crackers, peanuts, juice, cookies, granola bars and fresh fruit, will be delivered to students Saturday April 7th.

"This is a first for the Alumni office at Brock," said Ginny Gilbert, Alumni officer. "We thought we'd experiment with the students in residence to begin with, simply because our access to their home addresses was easily available.

"The response was encouraging. We've had a 70 per cent return. Out of 650, we had 450 enthusiastic replies," said Mrs. Gilbert.

The aim of the project was to supply the student with a special "perk" prior to exams, and also provide an outlet for the Alumni office to raise some money.

"We expect to raise in the neighborhood of $1,000 through the project," said Mrs. Gilbert. "And we're thinking of expanding it next year, depending on the availability of the new computer system which will allow us access to the information we need".

Students from abroad, living in residence, were also considered in this year's project: the Office of the Dean of Student Services picked up the tab for those students and they'll be getting their survival kits as well this Saturday.

Teacher of the Year: Angus Somerville

Prof Angus Somerville of the University's English department is this year's recipient of the Alumni Award For Excellence in Teaching.

A "stimulating speaker", with "well prepared presentations", that contain "a light touch and a sense of humor" in "relating the past to the present", Prof Somerville was highly recommended by those who submitted his nomination.

Courses taught by Prof Somerville include "Introduction to Literature", "History of the English Language", and "Middle English".

He is also working on the Historical Thesaurus of English, a notional analysis and history of the English vocabulary from Anglo-Saxon to the present.

The award, which comes with an honorarium, will be presented during Homecoming '84 activities this fall.

Student election results

The vote is in, and Scott Patterson is the new president of the Brock University Student's Union.

The 24-year-old Masters student in Politics won the election with 543 votes, 238 more than his nearest rival.

The elections, which were held last week, also saw two student representatives elected to the Board of Trustees: Chris Conrad (this year's Press editor) and Craig Miller.

All appointments are effective for the 1984/85 academic year.

Elections to Senate

A note from Secretary of the University, Pat Beard, lists the following faculty elections to Senate:

For three year terms beginning the day following spring convocation/84 and ending the last day of spring convocation/87:

Profs H. Gayler, W.H.N. Hull, J.R.A. Mayer, J.P. Meeker, M. Richards and S. Sadava.

For two year terms beginning the day following spring convocation/84 and ending the last day of spring convocation/86:

Profs R. Shukla, D.M.G. Sutherland and K.J. Tinkler.

For a one year term beginning the day following spring convocation/84 and ending the last day of spring convocation/85:

Prof W.B. Turner.

A total of 172 ballots were returned from an electorate of 237. The election was held Wednesday March 28.

Something for you from the Library

The University Library is now able to provide online searching of CAN/OLE.

CAN/OLE is the online information system created and maintained by the national science library, CISTI.

The system provides access to databases that contain Canadian and/or scientific information. Two Canadian, non-scientific databases are Canadian Register of Research and Researchers in the Social Sciences and Sport, the online version of Sport and Recreation Index.

Why use CAN/OLE? Computer searches of the literature are often more effective and efficient than manual searches. The Library has added CAN/OLE to its list because of its lower costs.

Depending on the database a CAN/OLE search may cost up to 40 per cent less than the same search on DIALOG, our other online system.

For further information on CAN/OLE or any other database, phone ext 3231 or visit the Computer Search Service office on Floor 2 of the Library.

NSERC grants for Biological Sciences

A note from the chairman of the Biological Sciences department, Prof M.S. Manocha, states that the department has received NSERC operating grants for 1984 totalling $374,652 divided among 11 faculty members.

Chairman, Geological sciences

Chairman of the Department of Geological Sciences for the period July 1/84 through to June 30/86 is Prof H.L. Williams.

Spring shape up time!

Fitness classes continue throughout the spring this year, with a number of programs and times to choose from.

The Aerobics class includes a combination of stretching, cardiovascular activities and floor exercises. Class times are Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at noon; and Mondays and Wednesdays at 4:45 pm.

The Basic Exercise class includes stretching and muscular strengthening and endurance activities. For those already actively involved in aerobics, the Basic class helps to round off the program. Classes will be held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7:30 am; and Tuesdays and Thursdays at noon.

The fee for each class is $20. Participants in the classes can attend any class they would like, as many times as they wish.

Classes begin the week of April 30th. Registration takes place at each class during the first week.

For more information contact Charlotte Sutcliffe, ext 3379.

The International Film series sponsored by the Brock Centre for the Arts ends its 1983/84 season with two showings of the Italian film, "The Papal Audience".

The film, a 1972 release, was directed by Marco Ferraro, and stars Enzo Jannacci and Claudia Cardinale.

The film will be shown Friday April 6th and Saturday April 7th at 8 pm in The Studio. Tickets are $3 each.

Psychology colloquium

The Department of Psychology presents its last colloquium for the 1984 spring series with Janet Polivey from the Toronto General Hospital discussing "Dieting and Bingeing: Which comes first?", on Monday April 9th.

The colloquium begins at 3 pm in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor, Schmon Tower. All are welcome.

Niagara Regional Science and Engineering Fair

The 22nd annual Niagara Regional Science and Engineering Fair is to be held at Brock this year from April 11-13.

Students from the entire region will be displaying their projects. Judging will take place Wednesday, April 11. The public is invited to attend on Thursday, April 12 from 9am to 10pm and Friday from 9am to 3pm.

In previous years, student winners have been successful in competing against students at both the International and Canada-Wide Science Fairs.

Minister at Brock

Hon. C. Caccia, MP, federal Minister of the Environment, will address the International Association of Great Lakes conference being hosted by Brock, Tuesday May 1 at their evening banquet.

Canadian Olympic Basketball Teams at Brock

Brock University hosts the Canadian men's and women's Olympic basketball teams on Sunday, April 15.

The women play a US all-star squad at noon with the men's game against the British national team to follow at 2pm.

Tickets are available in room 217 of the Phys.Ed Centre from 9am to 4:30pm Monday to Friday at $4/students, $6/adults and includes both games.

Good Friday

All academic and business departments of the University will observe a holiday on April 20. The University library will be observing its regular hours: 8:30am to 11:15pm.

Board of Trustees Membership

The nominating committee of the Board of Trustees invites from faculty, staff and students, the names and addresses of laypersons (not faculty or students) considered appropriate for membership on the Board of Trustees.

The Committee will be pleased to give full consideration to these suggestions prior to arriving at its final slate of nominations for presentation to the Board of Trustees at its annual meeting in June. Note that the Committee is simply asking for suggested names to add to its normally extensive list for the few vacancies. It is expected that there will be four new lay-trustees election this June.

Suggested names and addresses should be forwarded in writing no later than April 27 and addressed to the Chairman, Nominating Committee, Board of Trustees c/o Secretary to the University, 13th floor, Schmon Tower.

Canadian Press News File

The University library has taken a trial subscription to the Canadian Press News File (REF PER MICROFICHE FC 1 C3) which is a companion service of the Canadian News Index (REF PER AI 3 C3). The text of every Canadian Press article appearing in the seven daily papers indexed in the Canadian News Index is available on microfiche from 1983 to date.

The seven Canadian newspapers are the Calgary Herald, Globe and Mail, Montreal Gazette, Toronto Star, Winnipeg Free Press and Halifax Chronicle Herald.

Fifty articles per day or over 15,000 articles per year will be accessible to library users. Any article bearing the CP logo is available including sports stories, local events, theatre reviews and feature stories as well as general and political news from across the country.

The News File is located in the Reference department on the main floor.

Biological Sciences

Prof Peter Nicholls took part in the FEBS Advanced Course on Bioenergetics (Bari, Italy) lecturing on 'Oxidation-reduction catalysis in membrane systems' and helping with laboratory sessions for a class of forty advanced students from all parts of Europe.

Classics

Prof David Rupp has been awarded $25,670 by SSHRCC for the 1984 study season of the Canadian Palapaphos Survey project in southwestern Cyprus.

College of Education

Profs J.Wagner and J.Castle presented the second in a series of twelve hour workshops on "Adult literacy and the treatment of reading problems", to educators from the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal in March.

Fine Arts

The following members presented papers at the 14th annual meeting of the Popular Culture Association, at Toronto in March: Glofcheskie, J. "New text for old songs: the Kashubian experience in Ontario"; Grant, B.K. "'Across the Great Divide': Canadian Rock/Pop/New Wave Music"; Leach, J. "Genre and Canadian Cinema"; Nicks, J. "Daisy: Becoming the Other"; Nunn, R. "Canadian Live Theatre vs Mass Culture: Some Observations"; and Miller, M.J. "Seeing Seeing Things: Two Forms of Creative Tension in Canada's Popular Mystery Series Seeing Things". Prof Miller also chaired two panel sessions at the conference.

Recreation & Leisure Studies

Prof A.M. Guilmette presented a paper entitled "Play Potential for Older Canadian Women" at the Association for the Anthropological Study of Play (TAASP) conference (Clemson, So.Carolina). She also chaired a session "Play and Socialization: Varieties of Experience", and Sandi Wilson, a BRLS student, won the TAASP student paper competition and delivered her paper entitled "Doll's Play: Should We Be Listening?" at the same conference.

Romance Studies

Prof B.McEwen presented a paper at the Popular Culture Association conference, held in Toronto, entitled "Talking to ourselves: monologues in Quebec theatre." She also taped an interview on the subject for the CBC ration program Morningside.

Urban & Environmental Studies

Prof F. Banfield has received further support for the Fourth International Reindeer/Caribou symposium, 1985, of which he is the convenor. NSERC has approved a conference grant of $7000 to bring foreign speakers to the symposium. Indian and Northern Affairs Canada has offered an additional $20,000 to bring native delegates and speakers to a session dealing with 'caribou as a northern renewable natural resource'. Environment Canada has offered financial assistance to publish the papers presented in a special issue of Arctic, the journal of the Arctic Institute of North America.

Great Lakes Conference at Brock

The 27th annual conference on Great Lakes research will be held at Brock at the end of April. 190 papers will be presented to an expected 300 participants. The conference, sponsored jointly by Brock and the Canada Centre for Great Lakes Research, has been organized on campus by Prof. Mike Dickman of Biological Sciences.

The Hon. Charles Caccia will address the conference at a banquet on May 1. Sessions will be chaired by R.H.Hall, a McMaster biochemist and D.Hallet from Environment Canada.

The public is invited to attend a special session on the Niagara region on Monday, April 30 at 7:30pm which will deal with locally found toxics.

The Greenhouse is complete...almost

It's finally finished! Our new greenhouse, to be known as the Alumni Greenhouse, is structurally completed. All that remains is the exterior landscaping and the myriad of tiny details left to Diane Eaton, the keeper of the greenhouse. According to Diane, there's a lot to be done yet, but the facility is expected to be functional by the end of May. "The landscaping, the window cleaning, the ordering of the plants - all that will be taken care of during the next few weeks. Come and see it at the end of the month." Diane is really enthusiastic about the new greenhouse. After working under the less-than-ideal conditions in the old Glenridge location, the new facility is "an absolute dream."

When will they fix these doors?

It's been a long time since the morning of the accident. Why aren't the front doors of the University being fixed? It is a common question as regular travellers through the front doors of the Schmon Tower have been looking at plywood coverings for months.

According to William Armstrong, Director of Physical Plant, we have become the victim of a hesitant insurance company. The doors at the front of the Tower, made originally of stainless steel, are very costly to replace. The insurance company responsible for their replacement is balking at the repair tag.

"I hope this will be resolved soon," says Mr. Armstrong. "The tower will look better with a proper entrance."

Negotiations continue.

Closing for a day

The Book Store and the Badger Shop will be closed for inventory taking on Thursday, April 19.

Friday is a holiday

Good Friday, April 20, the University offices will be closed. Library hours will be 8:30am to 11:15pm. The Phys.Ed. building will be open from 10am-5pm; the pool, from 11am-4pm.

Monday will be a regular working day for the University. The Easter Monday holiday has become a summer holiday, June 28, to be taken during the July 1 holiday weekend. This will create a four day holiday when we will appreciate it most.

Sometimes it's on, sometimes it's off

Have you noticed that some evenings there are building lights that don't seem to be operating, and other nights the same lights seem to work properly?

It's the fault of an aging control panel, according to Director of Physical Plant, William Armstrong. The lights, clocks, thermostats, and many other vital campus devices are controlled by a master control. Unfortunately, the control is aging, and being mechanical, it sometimes works and sometimes doesn't. There is no rhythm to the breakdowns, and according to Mr. Armstrong, it is very hard for maintenance operators to repair the problems. "We need to make very expensive repairs and replacements to the controller and, unfortunately, this is the type of replacement that we just cannot afford with our tight budgets."

That explains the great variations that will sometimes occur in heating and cooling in various parts of the University (the clocks that never seem correct, the lights that do not seem to illuminate outside walkways). "The problem is underfunding," says Mr. Armstrong. "With a greater capital acquisition budget, we could have replaced the faulty controller. With our limitations, we simply do whatever we can to fix the problem areas."

Faculty and Staff club

On April 13 the election of officers for the 1984/85 year took place. The new executives are: president, J. Black; vice president, S. C. Chang; treasurer, W. H. N. Hull; secretary, A. Young; membership, M. Manocha. Councilors are: R. F. Anderson, S. Booth, B. Crick, J. Hogan, L. Krasnor, W. Liddell, D. MacRae, D. McCarthy, W. Turner, A. Wheeler, and C. Thompson. The club hopes to offer luncheon facilities throughout the summer. In the event that there are too few users to justify keeping the club open, two weeks notice of closing will be given.

Brock faculty men's 'A' team victorious

Friday the 13th proved to be a very lucky day for the members of Brock's faculty 'A' squash team, as they walked away with a trophy from the Ontario Interfaculty Squash team tournament at York. The occasion marked Brock's second consecutive win in this tournament. The victorious team members were J. Radue #1, J. Fleming #2, J. Kushner #3, A. Wheeler #4, and J. Mitterer #5.

The York win was an extension of the team's victorious streak. They recently won the Niagara Squash Racquets Association 'A' league tournament, with a total of 20 matches won of 21 played. The 'A' team consisted of J. Radue #1, I. Haslam #2, J. Fleming #3, and J. Kushner #4, with occasional help from T. Varcoe and A. Wheeler. Congratulations, gentlemen.

New editor for Campus News

Liz Fleming is the new writer/editor in the Information and Liaison office who will be responsible for Campus News. Liz replaces Iris Shegda who left Brock to accept a position in media relations in the public relations office at the University of Western Ontario.

Liz, who has been teaching in the Centre for English Language Programs at Brock, has also been writing extensively for What's Up Niagara on a free-lance basis.

Anyone wishing to submit stories or ideas for Campus News is invited to address their letters, notes and calls to Liz.

Two convocations are better than one

This year, 800 students will be graduating at Spring Convocation. Such large numbers of graduates has made it necessary to divide the ceremonies into two. Although this represents a break with tradition, it is in fact the only way to accomodate the graduates' relatives and friends without whom, the day could not be complete. The convocation, scheduled for June 1, will be divided in the following manner: at 10:30am, B.Ed., B.Phys.Ed., and B.Recreation & Leisure Studies degrees will be conferred and at 2:30pm, M.Sc., B.A., B.Sc., B.Admin., and B.Business Economics. Congratulations to all.

Hooray! The barbecues are back!

Here is the best news you'll hear all day: Alphies Summer '84 barbecues begin May 17. These glorious gastronomic galas will be held each Thursday from 11:45am to 1:45pm all summer long. Hot-off-the-grill goodies will include German sausages on rolls, Canadian back bacon on buns, perogies, salads and much more that must be savored to be believed. In addition, full bar service will be available. Because seating is limited to 125, it would be wise to book in advance. Tickets are available from either M.Murdoch, Purchasing ext.3282, K.White or Rick Orr, Receiving/Stores ext. 3511 or from the bar at Alphies. Enjoy, enjoy!

Kidding around

June is much closer than we think and registration for children's summer programs is upon us. This summer, programs are being offered by both the Part Time Studies & Phys.Ed. departments. Fans of last summer's arts camp will be thrilled to hear of its return. Three sessions are available, running from July 2-Aug.10. New this year is Brock's own computer camp which will be run in six sections, from July 9-27. For further information on either of these programs, contact the Part Time Studies office. Sports School begins July 2 and runs in three sessions to Aug.13. Because of its enormous popularity, the boys basketball school is already filled, but space is available for the girls school which will run from Aug.13-18. Contact the Phys.Ed. centre for more information. Prices for programs vary as do times; the people with the answers are in the Part Time Studies office and the Phys.Ed complex.

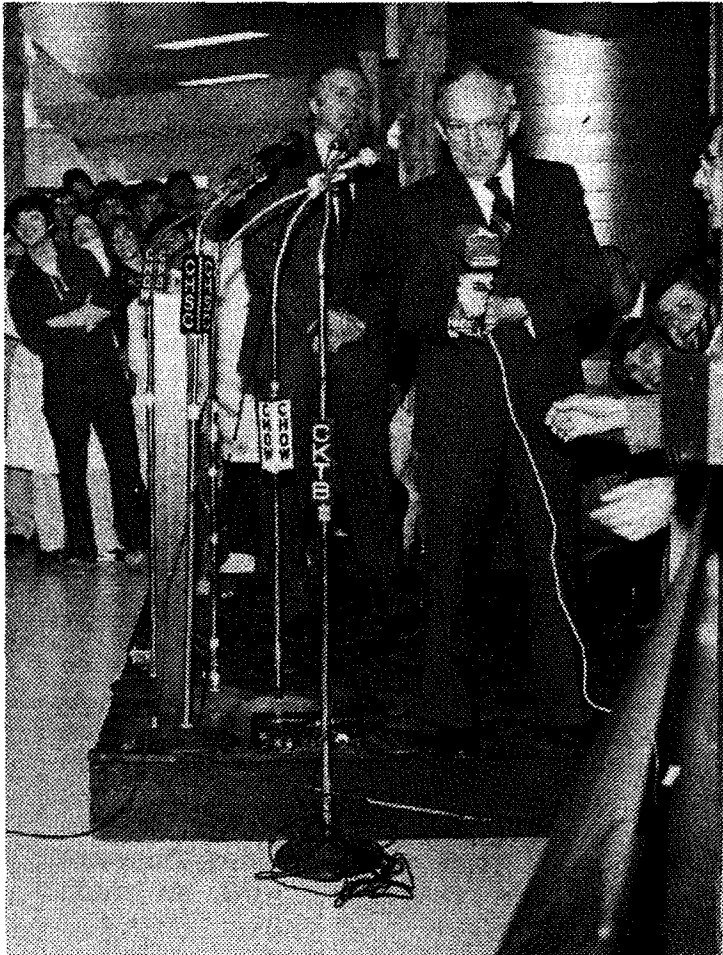

Keep those 'phones ringing

The alumni 'phonathon goes to Toronto on April 30, May 1 and 2 with the help of group captains Jim Dow, Rob Thistle (Board members both), Kathryn Hawke and Vicki Migus. Ginny Gilbert, Alumni officer, has high hopes for the Toronto blitz. "We're $25,000 away from our goal and I'm sure that after this campaign, we'll be much closer."

Dialogue '84 comes to Brock

Don't be surprised if the place looks a bit livelier than the usual summer lull for a few days. May 9, 10 and 11 will see the campus brimming with between 500-600 secondary school counsellors and university liaison officers from all over Ontario, who will have come to Brock to participate in Dialogue '84. The conference has elicited great interest and promises to be a great success. Key-note speakers will address two issues of great current interest - the OSIS paper and the issue of standardized testing. Brock last hosted the conference in '73 and we look forward to another opportunity to show just what our University has to offer.

Arigato gozaimasu (Thank you)

The Japanese Cultural Society of St. Catharines recently presented the University with a copy of the Kodansha Encyclopedia of Japan. The presentation, which took place at the Multicultural Centre, was attended by more than 200 members of the community, many of whom were Brock faculty members. The nine volume encyclopedia contains 10,000 entries on all subjects relating to Japan and its civilization, and is now available for consultation in the Reference Dept. of the library.

Especially for women

The Women's residential weekend will be held for the fourth year, at Brock on May 4, 5 and 6. This unique program allows participants a chance to reassess their lives and plans in an atmosphere removed from the stresses and strains of their normal routines. Three 'tracks' are offered to provide scope for many different needs and interests: Track one deals with Recreational Fitness, Track two, with life and career assessment and planning, and Track three, with Management Skills. Sessions begin at 5pm on Friday and conclude at 3:30pm, Sunday. The $110 fee includes two nights accommodation in residence, all meals, a wine and cheese social, use of the pool and Phys.Ed. facilities, and all instructional and course fees. Registration is still open. For further information, contact the Part Time Studies office.

Ticats roar back onto campus

Look out football fans, the Ticats are coming back for their fifth training season at Brock. We're happy to have them, and they're happy to be returning. Says Al Pedler of Ticat General Manager Joe Zuger, "He and head coach Al Bruno rate our facilities as highly as any training camp in the U.S.". The big guys arrive May 19 and will be with us until June 3. You'll be seeing them... they're hard to miss.

Room and board for oarsmen

Room and board for university oarsmen who will be rowing in the area this summer is needed. "Living with a family makes the whole experience so much more pleasant for them" says Mike Nurse, the man to contact for more information at ext.3245.

War in Minoan Crete

The Niagara Peninsula Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will present its final lecture of the 1984 season on Sunday, April 29, at 8pm. Professor G.Cadogan, U. of Cincinnati, will give an illustrated lecture on war in Minoan Crete. Admission: students and A.I.A. members/free, others/$2. Public welcome.

Attention: history buffs

A special course dealing with early hydro-electrical plants will be offered by R. Barnett, through Niagara College, during their Spring session. For further information, contact Brian McKeown at 735-2211.

Faculty and staff notes

College of Education

Prof. A. Thomas was an invited speaker at the annual meeting of the Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities in Toronto. Her topic: "Learned Helplessness and Coping Skills for Children".

Three students from Geological Sciences have been awarded NSERC scholarships. A. Maddalena and B. Williams will go to McMaster for doctoral studies and H. Plint will go to Dalhousie for an M.Sc. Politics

Information & Liaison

Don Rickers is one of six local players invited to try out for positions on a 21 member lacrosse team which will compete in an International field lacrosse tournament in Los Angeles, prior to the Summer Olympic Games. If Don is selected, it will be his second year on the team. Good luck, Don.

Phys. Ed. and Fine Arts

D. Geary, Manager of Facilities and Equipment, and Prof. B. K. Grant, Fine Arts, won first place in the 'C' doubles in the Niagara Falls Y.M.C.A. open racquetball tournament in early April.

Politics

Prof. D. Madar has been appointed an affiliate of Kirkland House at Harvard University.

Urban and Environmental Studies

Prof. F. Berkes was a guest speaker at the Institute for Environmental studies, University of Toronto, in March. His topic was "Some cross-jurisdictional impacts of fishery management policies."

Residence Refurbished

The last brick is in place and the residence is complete. After many months of work, the external refurbishment of the residence is finished. Says James R. Fleming, director of residence, "We're really pleased with the final result. It looks great and will last for years to come." The residence has required rebricking for years but the work had been held up as a result of court tie-ups with the original bricking company's insurance firm. The difficulties were finally resolved last summer, allowing the work to be done. There is still more work to be done, most notably the landscaping, but says Fleming "We'll be able to greet the students in the fall with a much improved home."

BUFA calls press conference

The BUFA executive held a press conference at Brock on Tuesday May 1, to discuss the new advertising campaign to be launched this week by the OCUFA. The campaign is designed to alert the public to the implications of the Bovey commission with regard to University funding and cut-back. Said Debra Harrison past BUFA president, "The public hasn't been made aware of what the Bovey commission might mean to their children's education."

Taking an interest

You don't need to wait for fall to get started on a new course. In addition to the full roster of spring and summer credit courses being offered now, the Part Time Studies department is serving up a whole smorgasbord of general interest, non-credit courses to bring new possibilities to light for you. Interested in the Olympics? Enrol in Lorne Adams' course - The Olympic Games - from Athens to Los Angeles. Are your sights pointed skyward? Look into the aviation ground school offered for those wanting to qualify for a private pilot's licence. Practical gemmology (diamonds can be anybody's best friend), Human prenatal development, Dissident movements in contemporary Soviet society, Income tax for small business... there is a course for every interest. Classes are beginning but registration is open. For further information, contact the Part Time Studies dept. ext.3249.

Fitness Flash

The summer fitness classes began April 30, and will be there to keep us in shape all summer thanks to the efforts of Charlotte Sutcliffe and the Phys.Ed. crew. The class, which was very well attended during the school year, promises to continue its success this summer. The summer program will be varied to provide something for everyone. On Monday and Wednesday there will be three classes at 7:30, 12noon, and 4:45pm. On Tuesday and Thursday, there will only be classes at noon, and on Friday, there will be two classes at 7:30 and noon. Not all classes will offer an aerobic workout to provide an opportunity for an entire class of floor exercises. These floor exercise classes will be held at the following times: Monday 7:30am, Tuesday noon, Wednesday 4:45, Thursday noon, and Friday 7:30. All other classes will combine stretching and strengthening exercises, with a cardiovascular workout. Your $20 fee entitles you to attend as many classes as you like. It's the best fitness deal in the area.

Brock's Olympic hopefuls

You'll be surprised by how many Olympic candidates there are on campus - surprised and impressed. Says Arnie Lowenberger, director of Athletics "Brock has many fine athletes to be proud of. We'll all have a reason to watch the games this summer." Those of us who attended the Badger basketball games this last season will be well aware of Candi Lohr, one of the best women basketball players in Canada, who holds the OWIAA all-time scoring record. Despite an ankle injury earlier this season, Candi hopes to compete on our national basketball team. In addition to our basketball star, Brock has four swimmers who will represent Brock at the 1984 Olympic trials in June: Kathy Richardson, Tammy Balkwill, David Shemilt and Brian Wasylowich. We'll have our oars in the rowing competition too, with Olympic hopefuls Greg Murphy, Richard Doey, Tim Storm, Jim Vanderburg, Cathy Lund, and Marie Hurdon. Gail Cort and Kathy Lichty, both Brock graduates, are also contenders for places on National rowing crews. Last, but by no means least is wrestler Richard Deschatelets, who recently returned from Cuba with a gold medal and is expected to come home with another from Los Angeles. Brock has a great deal to be proud of.

Few universities can boast of as many outstanding athletes. Compare our small student numbers to our enormous success, and you see that we're only small in number.

Bon Voyage

Please join in wishing Karen Mandziuk of the Registrar's office farewell at a luncheon in the Alumni Lounge on May 17, from 12-1 pm. Cost per person for luncheon and gift is $6.50. RSVP Fay Fairbairn, Registrar's office by May 11.

Honorary Graduates

There will be three honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws (honoris causa) conferred at Spring Convocation on June 1. Dr. James Gibson, Brock's first president, Mr. R. A. McLeod, a well-known local education administrator and former chairman of Brock's board of trustees, and Prof. John Polanyi, an outstanding scientist and professor of Chemistry at the U. of Toronto, will all be honored. It is particularly fitting that Dr. Gibson be honored this year, Brock's 20th anniversary.

Phabulous 'Phonathon

Ginny Gilbert, alumni officer, has a great big smile on her face...the Toronto 'phonathon raised the titanic sum of $12,600. The three evening campaign was carried out by Ginny, Brock alumni, and various other members of the univerty community. When it was all over and the last phone call had been made, excitement was still running high. "Aren't there any more numbers to call?"

Congratulations and many thanks to all those who contributed their time and enthusiasm. Good luck in the Ottawa campaign!

More squash glory

Prof.J.Radue, captain and coach of the Brock faculty squash team was recently awarded a trophy for the most outstanding player in the Niagara Squash Racquets Association. The Association consists of 195 members who play regularly on Tues. evenings in Niagara Falls, Welland, Niagara-on-the-Lake and St. Catharines.

Centre for the Arts Celebration

The Brock Centre for the Arts has a lot to celebrate as it marks its fifteenth year of programming. During those years, the Brock community as well as thousands of other Niagara region residents have been treated to season after season of outstanding entertainment. According to the exciting lineup in the year's new brochure, there is even more to come. The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, the Laurentian String Quartet, The Frantics and Bob Berky are just a handful of the fine performers who will grace our eyes and ears this year. Both individual and series tickets are available now. For further information, please contact the Centre for the Arts.

Signs, signs, everywhere signs

"Could you tell me where..?" Soon, this song will be sung no more.

The initial stages of a complete new signage system for the campus will shortly be in place. The system will include not only up-to-date signs, but eventually information kiosks to assist visitors and new students. Signs will be positioned both inside and out, in an effort to make the university as navigable as possible- a great boon to all those who have ever wondered how to get around our new science complex, or where E209 is.

Peace conference

The second Inter-University workshop on Peace education will be held at Brock May 11-13. Participants from all over Canada and the United States will come to hear speakers, Dr. Anatole Rapoport, U.of Toronto, Mr. Douglas Roche, MP for Edmonton W., Mr. Geoffrey Pearson, former Canadian ambassador to the USSR, and Prof. John Mayer of Brock. The conference is co-sponsored by Science For Peace, Physicians for Social Responsibility and the World Federalists of Canada. Interested members of the Brock community are welcome to attend and may register by contacting Prof. Mayer, ext.3316.

Development Day

The university's secretarial and clerical staff attended professional development sessions last week. The sessions were conducted by Lynn Tribling, a Toronto sociologist, who specializes in a formula for 'rational living' intended to improve one's outlook on work, leisure and life in general. The day-long sessions were well attended and reactions were enthusiastic. Said one participant "It was a very positive experience...made you feel good about what you were doing and where you were."

Summer swilling schedule

Alphie's would like to remind us of their summer hours which are: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday 6pm-12am. Happy hour is from 6-7pm on those days. The pub is closed Friday and Saturday but is available for private parties. For more information, call ext.3535.

Rooms for Rowers

Room and board is still needed for many potential national team oarsmen who will be living in the area this summer. If you are interested, please contact Mike Nurse, ext.3245.

National Physical Activity Week

The Aquatic Centre would like to get us into the swim of things this week and so have planned an ocean of activities to get even the most hardened land-lubber into the pool. Races and demonstrations, lifesaving techniques and "bring a friend"swimming lessons are just a few of the many activities planned for this week. Come out to the pool and remember what fun it is to swim a few laps. For more information, call ext.3387

Great Grants

Brock academics received $709,607 in operating grants from NSERC this year as well as $34,000 in equipment grants. Many Brock researchers have already been granted funds by NSERC and are now in the second or third year of their grants. Many researchers are beginning a second stage of an on-going grant while a few are actually beginning a newly funded project. The total number of NSERC grant-sponsored researchers is now 56. The largest grants went to the Biology dept.: Prof.P.Nicholls received $64,554 and Prof.J.Rossant, $62,000.

Chown Portrait

A portrait of the late Mackenzie Chown, former Chairman of the Brock Board of Trustees and general Chairman of the Science Development fund will be unveiled at 7pm on Thursday, May 24 in the foyer of the new Science Complex.

'Vette your tickets ready

The final reverse draw for the 1984 Corvette, the grand prize in the "Vette For Science" raffle will be held at 8pm, Thursday May 24, in the Pond Inlet. The winner of the Corvette should be announced by 9pm. Good Luck to all ticket holders. May you 'vette your wish.

Badger Best

The Badger award is presented each year to the graduating student who has contributed the most to the extra-curricular life of the university, and has, at the same time, maintained a satisfactory academic standing. Nominations are invited from all departments and should be sent to Barry Joe, Student Awards/Scholarships, Prizes and Bursaries, Registrar's Office.

Professors retire

Brock will lose two fine faculty members this year when Prof.R.Bismuth of Romance Studies and Prof.D.Goodspeed of the History Department retire on July 1. In recognition of Prof. Goodspeed's contributions to the University, he will be designated Professor Emeritus.

A BIDS beginning

Brock Institute for Disabled Students' (BIDS) summer university orientation program for physically handicapped students will take place this July 2-15. Although registration information was only received by the potential participants two weeks ago, registrations have already begun to come in, from as far away as Sudbury. Pat Smolak, a Brock graduate, is co-ordinator of the program which operates out of the Part Time Studies Department.

Getting a line on them

If you've been wondering how to contact various people in the Registrar's office, the new phone numbers you need are right here: Mike Somerville, 3442; Barry Joe, 3445; Carol Faranachi, 3442, and Mary Berg and Shelagh Booth, 3441.

Staff Changes

Personnel Services would like to advise us of the following staff changes during the month of April, 1984: Mr. Czeslaw Kopec appointed Electronics technician, Instructional Media Services, effective April 1; Mrs. Jean Penner, appointed Secretary, Department of Computer Science, effective April 2; Mr. Roy Alder, appointed Trades Helper, Physical Plant, effective April 4; Mr. James Marshall, appointed Trades Helper, Physical Plant, effective April 16; Mr. John Rynberk, appointed Cleaner II, Physical Plant, effective April 16; Mr. Ted Costanzo, appointed Cleaner II, Physical Plant, effective April 18; Mr. George Todd, Cleaner II, retired effective April 1.

Oops

The Brock Centre for the Arts has available only series tickets for their new season, not individual tickets, as was mentioned last week. The individual tickets will be available approximately three weeks prior to each performance.

Looooong weekend!

Don't be the only one in the parking lot on Monday, May 21. The University will be closed for the Victoria Day holiday. The Phys.Ed. facilities will be available and the library will be open from 4-11pm.

A Word from Central Purchasing

Central Purchasing will act as a clearing house for excess equipment, especially computers and related hardware. Please forward details and current value to W.Thiessen, Purchasing agent, ext.3277.

New dean for Mathematics and Sciences

Prof.A.Houston a longstanding member of the Brock Biology department, whose special interest is fresh water fish, will assume the duties of Dean of Mathematics and Sciences when Dean Martin Gibson's term ends on July 1. Prof.Houston will also assume Dean Gibson's position on the Senate Elect as a member ex-officio. Dean Gibson plans to take a year long sabbatical, after which he will return full time to the Chemistry dept. at Brock.

Conference Comings

The Conference Services Department has a busy season ahead. With Dialogue, the Peace Conference and the United Church conference just over, you might expect a lull, but things are charging forward. On May 18, 500 members of the Islamic Society arrive, followed by the Tiger Cats on the 19th. Brock is an important stop for school historic tours and 300 secondary and public school students are expected to come to view Queenston Heights, between May 17-24. The Anglican Synod will arrive on May 24 with 500 members for a meeting that will last until May 26. There's never a dull moment at Conference Services.

Mediterranean Charters

For all of you in the University community who have always wanted to go to Greece, the opportunity is now available. Join the charter flights this summer arranged by the Department of Classics and fly from New York to Athens return for US $610 or US $639 (plus airport taxes) depending on when you depart and when you return. A wide range of departure and return dates are available in June, July, August and September. Uniglobe Peninsula Travel, Inc. of St. Catharines, which is handling the charters, can book your connecting flights from Buffalo. Do not delay, make your reservation now. For more information, call D. Rupp, Classics, Ext. 3319.

Faculty and Staff Notes

Biology

Kevin Dixon and Elizabeth McGowan, honors students in Biological Sciences, recently presented papers from their research on insect behavior to the Ontario Ecology and Ethology Colloquium held at the University of Waterloo.

Classics

Prof. N. Robertson read a paper titled "The cult of freedom at Athens" to the Association of Ancient Historians when they met recently at the U.S. Naval Academy.

College of Education

Prof. J. Novak recently presented two papers at the annual meeting of the American Educational Research Association in New Orleans. One paper was entitled "Inviting Research: Paradigms and projects for a theory of educational practice." A second paper presented in conjunction with Les Howarth was "So you want to be inviting? A study to improve invitational theory and practice in a special education setting."

Prof. Novak presented a workshop at the Ontario Moral and Values Education Association's annual meeting at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, in Toronto last month. His title: "Inviting Moral Development."

Prof. Novak gave a general session presentation at the Invitational Educational Annual Conference at Kenesaw College in cellence: An inviting perspective."

Dorothy Cline, Keith Ashley and Prof. J. Wagner presented a paper on "Reading Span as a Function of the Decoding Demands of Text" at the Annual Meeting of the American Research Association in New Orleans last month.

Eleanor Moyses and Prof. J. Wagner presented a paper on "The effects of Redundancy on the Visual Word Learning Performance of Children" at the Annual Meeting of the American Educational Research Association in New Orleans recently.

Maureen Bartlett and Prof. J. Wagner presented a paper on "The Generation Effect and Inviting the Acquisition of Learning Strategies" at the Annual Meeting of the American Educational Research Association in New Orleans recently.

Fine Arts

Murray Kropf has an exhibiton of recent paintings currently on view at Artcite, in Windsor, Ontario. The one-man exhibit entitled "Imposed Order on a Fallen Tree" is a visual analysis of the interaction between the environment and the individual. The exhibition will continue 'til May 20.

History

Prof. A. Arthur has been awarded an SSHRC research grant of $5750 to continue his work on regional religious styles and testamentary devotion in 16th and 17th century France.

Prof. P. Dirks has received a research grant of $4651 from the SSHRC as continuing support for her work on the development of voluntary associations for youth in early 20th century Canada.

Recreation and Leisure Studies

Prof. J. Yardley and Ann Marie Guilmette presented two papers entitled: "Naturalistic Inquiry: A Complementary Leisure Strategy" and "The Parametric/Non-Parametric Dilemma in Leisure Research" at the Canadian Congress on Leisure Research IV, in Trois Rivieres, Quebec recently.

Urban and Environmental Studies

Prof. F. Berkes chaired a special session on Great Lakes fisheries at the 27th conference of Great Lakes Research, May 3 at Brock University. He also presented a paper: "The ecology of user-groups in Ontario fisheries."

Welcome, Tiger Cats!

Friday, the coaches, training staff and player personnel arrived. Saturday, it was the rookies. Sunday, the veterans roared in and now we have a total of 104 Tiger Cats (88 players) of various kinds on campus. If you would like to see them in action, they will be practicing on fields one and three at 3pm each day. You're welcome to watch.

Senior's Complex Complete

A two million dollar senior citizens' complex developed by the Fairview Senior Citizens' Association had its official opening May 5, and Prof.N.Carlsen and Prof.J.J.Lavery were both on hand for the ceremonies. Profs. Carlsen and Lavery had supervised a summer research project conducted by eight Brock students during a student summer employment project in 1981 to help the senior's prove that there was a need for housing. Their research proved the point and the housing complex was built. Said Ron Harris, president of the Fairview Senior Citizen's Association, "They did a beautiful job."

Making an Entrance

You can start looking forward to a new entrance to the University; Brock has settled the claim with the insurance company.

As the new door could change the face of the university many suggestions have been made. Some include aluminum replacements, doors which would provide easier access for the disabled, revolving doors, or a return to our former shining portals of stainless steel.

Brock-Niagara French Contest

The Brock-Niagara French contest celebrated its fifth anniversary on May 11, 1984. The contest was organized by Prof.L.Rosmarin of Romance Studies with the help of colleagues, Prof.B.McEwen and Prof.M.Cardy. This year, 125 candidates from secondary schools throughout the Niagara region, as well as a few francophone participants from the Toronto area, competed.

Canadiana's Bicentennial Concert

June 2 is going to be a special evening for those who love music and dancing. The popular Canadiana group, recently returned from Europe, will be performing with a guest group from Schlanders, Italy. The program will include music of all sorts with a special emphasis on Canadian heritage songs and traditional dances. Of special interest is the fact that the junior and intermediate dancers have been taught by Diane Marleau, a Brock student. There will be only one show at Brock, beginning at 8pm, but the group will also be participating at various Folk festival performances during the next week.

Pats on the Back

Criticism is something that always flows freely; praise is often harder to come by. This time, however, a pat on the back is due all those who contribute their time and effort to make Brock the popular conference facility that it is.

According to Vicki Lowenberger of Conference Services, more people are involved in making a successful conference than you might expect. The grounds crew, the cleaning staff, the cafeteria workers, the crew from theatre services, and the finance office are just a few of the many who pitch in and help when the conference season is on.

A recent visitor from the U.S. told Conference Services that he was delightfully astounded by the treatment he recieved. After trying unsuccessfully to find an extra Canadian flag pin, he remarked to a clerk in the Bookstore that one of his children would just have to understand. She quickly unpinned her own flag and gave it to him.

Our people are our best p.r.

The Gibson's Honored

The many friends of President Emeritus James Alexander Gibson and Caroline Gibson are planning a banquet in their honor and to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of Brock University. The banquet will be held on Thursday, June 21, at the Yorkshire House in St. Catharines. For further information contact E.A. Cherniak, Chemistry, 3403 or J. Meeker, Geography, 3487. Members of the Brock community are invited to send anecdotes, stories etc involving James and Caroline to Prof. Cherniak.

Alphies Update

The first barbecue of the season, revealed some classy new touches. In addition to the usual good food and fresh air atmosphere, the diner was treated to free coffee and (last but certainly not least) real cutlery. This last may seem a paltry point to those who have never lost plastic tines to a tenacious chicken breast; for the regular b'bque diner, stainless steel is pure gold.

Look for future barbeques to include back bacon on a bun, pierogis, cabbage rolls and more

Campus News goes fortnightly

Like everything else, the University slows down a bit during the long, hot days of summer. As in past years, Campus News will appear fortnightly until the end of August when we will resume our regular schedule of publication. The deadline for copy to be included in Campus News will remain 3pm of the Friday before the issue appears.

Fitness Leadership Training

There are still a few spots available in the Fitness Leadership training program to be given at Brock beginning June 1. The program, led by Charlotte Sutcliffe and Joanne Moore, (Queens), is sponsored by Fitness Ontario and is designed for those interested in learning to teach fitness classes. Unlike many less involved courses, the Fitness Leadership Training program will not be a short term project for the participants. The course will run over two weekends and will include four days and one evening of instuction. For more information, contact Charlotte Sutcliffe, Phys.Ed.

Convocation Figures

For those fascinated by figures, here is the Convocation data. A total of 825 degrees will be conferred this year: 60

Convocation Congratulations

June 1 is a very important day for all members of the graduating class of 1984, but especially exciting for the four academic medalists. This year's winner of the Governor General's medal is Soobhash Sonah, a fourth year Computer Science student. The Vice-Chancellor's medals will be awarded to: Peter Nicholas Fortura, honors Economics; See Keung Lam, honors Computer Science; and Cecily Anne Flemming, honors Biology/Science. Two of the medalists are from the Niagara region: Mr. Fortura from Thorold, and Ms. Flemming, Ridgeville.

The morning convocation will be addressed by Dr. James A. Gibson, President Emeritus, who will be introduced by Prof. W.H.N. Hull of the Politics dept. Dr. J. Polyani, an eminent scientist, will address the afternoon convocation, introduced by Dean M. Gibson.

Nine, lucky nine

It's all over now - the 'vette has found a home. Although three Brock people were among the lucky 34 finalists, the car was won by Dr. R. Rose, a local physician. Doug Austrom was second and Les Myers, third. All participants in the final reverse draw won prizes ranging from cases of wine to a family swim membership at the Brock Aquatic centre.

If you're looking for a lucky number, take nine every time. Dr. Rose's ticket number was 9003, his number for the reverse draw was nine, and, after jokingly telling his daughter that the ticket was hers, the car was won on her 9th birthday. We hope that Miss Rose will let her Dad borrow her car until she turns 16.

Chown portrait now in place

A gathering of more than fifty people watched as Mrs. Doris Chown unveiled the portrait of her husband, the late Mac Chown, on the evening of May 24. The portrait, now hanging in the foyer of the Chown complex, was painted by a Toronto artist, Mr. Rudolf Stussi and depicts Mr. Chown in his academic robes, standing at the side of the University. Al Teather of the St. Catharines Standard opened the proceedings.

Demolition Deliberations

The old Glenridge facility will soon be no more. The project of demolition, salvage and removal will go to tender very shortly and already close to twelve firms are interested. In addition, the building at 80-82 Sovereign Dr., (known as Psych House and formerly used as a sleep research lab) will also be taken down.

The question of what to do with the property has been under consideration for some time. A Board of Trustees sub-committee, which includes several local residents, has been investigating a number of possible uses for the land. The sub-committee will be presenting their report and recommendations to the Board shortly.

That's a Switch

Effective Monday June 4, the switchboard will be on summer hours: 8:30am - 5pm. Regular hours will resume Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Have a heart

In conjunction with Heart-Save-Niagara, the University is proposing to offer a training program in cardio-pulmonary-resuscitation (CPR). This particular program is a four hour introductory course, targeted at educating the public about heart disease, risk factors, prudent heart living, recognition of heart attack and appropriate action to be taken, specifically one-man CPR. It involves two hours of lecture and two hours of manikin practice. The course also includes how to recognize and manage the conscious obstructed (choking) victim.

Depending upon interest, the course is scheduled to take place in the next month or so and will be open to as many members of the full-time faculty and staff as may be interested. As noted earlier, the entire program is four hours in length and will be held at either 8am-12, or 1-5pm; there will be no cost. If you are interested, please contact Chris Elliot ext.3247 or Louise Wilding ext.3273 by June 8, 1984.

Wonderful Wonderland passes

Passes are again available for Canada's Wonderland at the reduced price of $7.50 per person for Brock employees, their families and friends. Children under two are admitted free. Passes are valid until June 16, 1984. (Park is closed June 17, 1984). Beginning June 18, 1984, passes are available at the price of $10.95 per adult and $7.50 per child. For more information, contact Personnel Services, ext.3273/3274.

Banquet to Honour the Gibsons

The many friends of President Emeritus James Alexander Gibson and Caroline Gibson are planning a banquet in their honor and to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of Brock University. The banquet will be held on Thursday, June 21 at the Yorkshire House in St. Catharines. For further information contact E.A.Cherniak, Chemistry, 3403 or J. Meeker, Geography, 3487. Members of the Brock community are invited to send anecdotes, stories etc. involving James and Caroline Gibson to E.A.Cherniak.

Brock's Foreign Students Entertained

The United Nations Association of Niagara Falls recently entertained a number of Brock's foreign students with a dinner, concert and tour of the Niagara region. The students who attended were from Trinidad, Sri Lanka, China, Kenya, Singapore, West Germany, Ethiopia and El Salvador. They were accompanied by Mr. John Kaethler, Brock's foreign student advisor.

Inspire your feet

Dance, dance, dance the night away... or rather, watch talented young dancers from various local dance studios do it for you. Both the Theatre and the Playhouse will be the scene of a number of exciting dance recitals during the next few weeks and we are welcome to attend. "Danceworks", the Dianne Brisson Dance Recital, the Janice Luey and Company School of Dance recital, and the Star Dance Studio recital will all be held at Brock during the first few weeks of June. The exact dates and times for each recital are noted in the June calendar and tickets may be obtained by contacting the Box Office at the Brock Centre for the Arts. Come and give your eyes, ears and feet some inspiration.

Joan Nicks wins coveted Carleton award

Joan Nicks of the Brock Fine Arts department was the winner of the Senate Graduate award at the recent Carleton convocation. The highest honor given by Carleton, Senate Graduate awards are presented to the postgraduate students (one MA, one PhD) who have made the greatest academic strides based on the evidence of their thesis, and the recommendations of their examining committees. Ms. Nicks received her award for her outstanding achievements in graduate work in the Carleton Institute for Canadian Studies; this marks the first occasion on which a Canadian Studies student has been the recipient of the award. Congratulations.

Commission briefs and transcripts

The Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada (chaired by Donald S. Macdonald) completed the first stage of its hearings at the end of 1983. During these hearings, it received 1,103 briefs and generated 75 volumes of transcripts. The Documents department of the Library has acquired a microfilm set of all the 1983 briefs and transcripts of the Commission. The films are located in the Documents microfilm cabinet. Call Number DOC CA1 RC E175. The Commission's interim report and other documents are available in paper copy in the Documents department.

Ottawa...outstanding!

Brock's ten thousand alumni are a generous lot. On top of the proceeds from the highly successful Toronto 'phonathon, we can now pile close to $4,000 more raised in one evening of 'phone calls by Ginny Gilbert, John Bird and a crew of alumni 'phoners at Carleton, June 4.

Joint teaching excellence seminar

This autumn, 3M Canada Inc. of London Ontario, will sponsor a teaching excellence seminar in the discipline area of the health and life sciences, in collaboration with the Council of Ontario Universities and the Ontario Confederation of University Faculty Associations. To be held the 11-13 of October, this will be the inaugural seminar in a series promoting the quality of university teaching in various subjects.

3M Canada's earlier involvement with universities in research is being broadened to include teaching, an aspect of academic work which often goes unheralded.

The universities have been asked to nominate members of faculty who have received recognition through teaching awards or have demonstrated excellence in teaching and interest in teaching methods and their improvement. Participation will be limited to 40 persons and the selection of participants is expected to be completed by the end of June.

Travel and accommodation costs for participants will be covered by 3M Canada. Further details will be forthcoming.

Things are going swimmingly

Beginning June 11, the pool will close at 9pm on weekdays, and will not be open on weekends. On July 2, a new schedule goes into effect and the pool will close at 8:30pm Monday-Thursday, and at 4pm on Fridays. Annual pool renovations will take place during the period August 25-September 9. The summer recreational swim schedule will be as follows: Adults (18 and over) lengths-7:30am-9am, noon-1:30pm, 4pm-6:30pm; recreational swim-2:30pm-4pm, 7:30pm-8:30pm. Children and teens (17 and under) 2:30pm-4pm, 7:30pm-8:30pm.

We've got you covered

Personnel Services would again like to remind faculty and staff members travelling abroad that they are covered for emergency medical care under the University's supplementary health care plan.

This plan provides coverage to full-time faculty and staff for emergency treatment while outside of Canada. Coverage is provided for hospital and medical expenses up to levels which are customary and reasonable for the area where treatment is rendered. When claiming for such expenses follow the steps outlined below:

In most cases, you will have to pay the full amount of your bill when treatment is given. Be sure to obtain detailed receipts which clearly indicate the diagnosis, treatment rendered, dates of service and name of physician.

When you return, make copies of all receipts, as OHIP does not return any of the originals.

Send original receipts, along with a note that lists your OHIP number, your mailing address and gives a brief description of the emergency to: Out-of-province-claims, OHIP, 25 Main St. W., Hamilton, Ontario, L8P 4P9.

When you receive your money from OHIP, compare the amount received against the amount submitted. If your costs have not been completely recovered, obtain a Confederation Life claim form and return it to Personnel along with copies of your receipts and the OHIP cheque stub.

Banquet to honor Gibsons

The many friends of President Emeritus James Alexander Gibson and Caroline Gibson are planning a banquet in their honor and to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of Brock University. The banquet will be held on Thursday, June 21 at the Yorkshire House in St. Catharines. For further information contact Prof. E.A.Cherniak, Chemistry, 3403.

Members of the Brock community are invited to send anecdotes, stories etc. involving James and Caroline Gibson to E.A.Cherniak.

Dinner held for Gibsons

The friends of James and Caroline Gibson gathered at the Yorkshire House Thursday, June 21, for a dinner organized by Prof.-E.A.Cherniak. Speakers included Vice-President W.A.MAtheson, Prof.E.A.Cherniak, Prof.McEwen, and Prof.M.Hornyansky. Following the dinner, the nearly 200 guests watched the presentation of a new portrait of President Emeritus Gibson by a Newmarket artist, which will soon be hung in the University. Caroline Gibson was presented with a gift by Florence Plint. The evening was a sharing of twenty years of Brock memories and concluded appropriately with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Annual meeting of the Board

"I've always been impressed by the sense of duty that members of the Board of Trustees showed toward their job." said Bob Nairn.

The Board honored Bob at a dinner following the annual meeting of the Board. All former Board members were invited and a total of nearly 100 arrived to honor the University's former secretary. President Alan Earp proudly introduced Earl Davey and James Gibson, members of the founding Board of Trustees; and two former University chancellors, Cecil Shaver and Charles Sankey, who were in attendance as well as the current members of the Board and the University's Chancellor, Ralph Misener.

In her annual report to the Board, the Chairman, Christine McMillan chronicled the year of the University and referred to the "burden of growth that has fallen on the shoulders of faculty and staff."

Our last 'twelvers'

Our last group of grade twelve students arrived on Saturday June 23. The 61 students are the final phase of Brock's grade twelve summer program which, although popular, has had to be terminated for reasons of swelling enrolments. Despite the fact that it will be the last, grade 12 advisor Anne Smith is determined that the session will be the best. The students were welcomed with a barbecue and the Dean's mystery tour their first weekend. The rest of the program will include both a taste of university life and a social roster designed to break up the study schedule. Ms.Smith, herself a Brock student and former residence don, will be available to the students during regular office hours, and will also live in residence with them for the session.

For a small fee ($35-$50 U.S.) you can get a password to use Knowledge Index or BRS After Dark which allows you to search over 20 different databases in such fields as business, computer science, education, psychology, physics and chemistry. The limitations are that you must search between 6pm and midnight on weekdays as well as limited hours on weekends. All references or abstracts must be printed directly on your microcomputer or downloaded. No more typing! The cost to search a database ranges from $6 to $24 US.

If you would like more information or are interested in a demonstration call ext.3231 or inquire at Computer Search Services in the Library.

Free us from these chains!

The warm weather has caused bicycles to bloom all over the University. Unfortunately, many bike owners choose not to leave their bikes in the racks provided and instead chain them to trees, signs and lamp standards. This not only damages trees and causes great difficulty for the grounds crew who cut the grass, but also spoils the appearance of the campus. Effective immediately, Campus Police will be cutting the chains of any bicycles not left in the bike racks. Forewarned is forearmed; bicycles belong in the racks.

Criminals beware...

Kathryn Gregor, a Brock judicial administration student is one of seven students hired by the solicitor-general's office to assist in their crime prevention and awareness program this summer. The program will help home and property owners to protect themselves from loss through a system of marking goods with serial and social insurance numbers, and will attempt to establish a better rapport between the public and the police.

Hurray for holidays

The Easter Monday holiday we didn't have has come back to us. Thursday, June 28, and Friday, June 29 will both be holidays to create a four day Canada Day weekend. Exams for Spring evening courses will be held and both the Phys.Ed complex and the library will be open (The Phys.Ed complex will not be open on Sunday.)

Basketball excitement

The Canadian National Women's basketball team will play their Czechoslovakian counterparts on July 4 at 8pm in Gym 1. The public is welcome to watch and tickets will be available soon. For further information, call Phys.Ed., ext.3259.

Super summer cinema series

The Department of Fine Arts has a treat to roll out for movie lovers. This summer's cinema series will feature the works of Martin Scorsese. One of the most innovative American filmmakers of the late '60s and early 70's, Scorsese is best known for his films Taxi Driver and Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore, both of which will be featured in the cinema series. The season will also include a showing of Raging Bull and will conclude with King of Comedy, two Robert Deniro films. Tickets for these films are available at the door only on the evening of the performance. Admission is $3.50 or $2.50 for students and seniors (with proper I.D.). For information, call the Department of Fine Arts, ext. 3550.

Joan McCurdy recently ran a series of workshops on study skills for high school students at E.L.Crossley S.S.

Fine Arts

Monsieur G.Ducornet, visiting instructor in Studio Art, is participating in a group show called 'Amerives' at the Mexican Cultural centre in Paris during May and June. The show has been organized by the magazine "Ellebore" of which M.Ducornet is an editor. M.Ducornet will have a one-man-show retrospective of his paintings at his gallery, Le Grenier De Villartre, in Bourges this Fall and a touring exhibition of his ceramics.

Biology

Prof.A.H.Houston, Dean-designate, Division of Mathematics and Science, has been appointed to the committee on Research Development of the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada.

Politics

The following papers were presented by members of the Politics department at the Learned Societies' meeting held recently at the University of Guelph:

Prof.C.Barr with Prof.E.Barr of York University: "Using regulation to manage interdependencies."

Prof.W.H.N.Hull: "Back to the drafting boards: a re-examination of local content regulations in Canadian and Australian television."

Prof.W.Mathie: "Reason, revelation and justice: Reflections on George Grant's account of the crisis of Liberal justice."

Prof.J.Woodward (who will be teaching in Politics and the Liberal Studies program in 1984-85) presented: "A plea for theological considerations in Political Philosophy."

Psychology

Prof.S.J.Segalowitz organized a symposium entitled "Genetic determinism and developmental psychology" for the Biennial Waterloo conference on Child Development held recently. He also gave a talk entitled: "The concept of epigenesis and the biology/psychology interface."

Prof.Segalowitz also gave an address recently on "Language organization in the bilingual brain" at the conference on Research in Language and Cognition in Bilingual Education.

Prof.Segalowitz chaired a session at the recent meeting of the Canadian Psychological Association in Ottawa, and gave a paper entitled "Left visual field dominance in free-field viewing of ambiguous faces."

Prof.Segalowitz was a participant at the recent symposium "Semiotics of the human face" at the University of Toronto and spoke on spatial frequency analysis and hemispheric models of processing.

Romance Studies

Prof.L.Rosmarin presented a paper at the Learned Societies (University of Guelph) entitled: "La Libido sublimée: La Conception de l'amitié chez Saint-Evremond."

Sociology

At the Learned Societies meeting, held recently at Guelph, Prof.V.Tomovich presented two papers: "Yugoslavia Today: A Sociological View", to the Canadian Association of Slavists and "Serbian Family in Canada: An intergenerational index of the socio-economic status" to the Canadian Association of Sociology and Anthropology.

Bovey Commission asks questions

The commission on the future development of the universities of Ontario has published and distributed a 50 question discussion paper which invites responses and briefs for the public at large - universities, business, industry and labor. The questions address all aspects of the future development of our university system and deal with such issues as enrolment accessibility, program quality control, tuition, research funding and resource allocation. Copies of the discussion paper are now available. For more information, please contact the department of Information and Liaison, ext 3245.

Campus News is published by the Information and Liaison office, Th265, Editor: Liz Fleming. The next issue will be July 13; copy deadline is July 6, 3pm.

Showing off

Members of the local media were treated to a demonstration of the capabilities of our new Burroughs computer, last Tuesday. They learned a great deal about our new system of which many of us within the Brock community may not be aware. Did you know that the new computer has four times the memory and disk capacity of the old system?... that the new system has a database to allow information to be transmitted via terminals, eliminating the reams of paper used in the past?...that the programming for the new computer is 4th generation, state of the art?...that the new system is on average, eight times faster and ten times more powerful than the old?...that the new computer, although able to handle a much greater workload, takes only one third the space of what we had in the past? You learn something new every day.

They're coming to have a peek

Clutching their letters of acceptance, thunderingly enthusiastic hoards of prospective Brock students will arrive for Sneak Preview this weekend. Although the actual program begins at 11am on Saturday the 14, many will arrive on the Friday evening to spend their first night in residence. Saturday is an introduction to Brock, and includes a welcome by President Earp, presentations by Dean McGraw and the Brock Students' Union, a residence presentation, a campus tour, a session on "How to survive as a university student", and, for parents and guests, a discussion of changing relationships between students and their families.

Alumni presentation

You've heard the phrase "Give of yourself", but it isn't often that you hear of someone who does. Veneranda (Venie) Vabalis, a Brock graduate and professional artist, chose not to give a cash donation during a recent 'phonathon, but instead donated a piece of her own work, an oil painting showing an autumn view of the Scootamata River. Alumni officer, Ginny Gilbert, felt that the generous gift ought to be shared by the other alumni, and so drew a name from among those who had contributed to the 'phonathons. The winner of the painting, Richard Hemphill, was presented with the painting by Veneranda on June 27 in the Alumni lounge. A coincidental note - both Venie and Rick graduated in 1975, she with a degree in Fine Art, and he, Education.

Swimming medals

Phil Mindorff, a first year honors Physics student, won two silver medals at the World Olympic Games for the Physically Disabled in Long Island NY, recently. Phil's medals were for the 100m backstroke and the 400m relay. Congratulations!

Move over, Arnie. Alphonse's here

Arnold Palmer, watch out. Alphonse's is sponsoring its first annual golf tournament at Brock Golf and Country Club, on Friday, July 20. Tee off is from noon until two o'clock and dinner is at seven. Dinner for Brock's pros, will be barbecued steak and for the thirsty - we'll fill your troughs with wine. Dinner, green fees, wine and a prize for every golfer is included in the $20 registration fee. The tournament is limited to 60 people, so register early. For more information, call ext.3535.

Roll 'em!

Don't miss the Martin Scorsese film festival now on; it could make an exciting series of summer evenings. The films, including Taxi Driver and Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore, are being shown on Wednesday evenings at 8pm in the Studio during July and August. For more information about specific films and showing dates, please consult your Campus News July calendar, or call the Fine Arts Department, ext.3553.

Learning Latin

Churchill once said that he was biased in favor of boys learning English- "I would make them all learn English: and then I would let the clever ones learn Latin as an honor and Greek as a treat." Churchill would have been proud of the 200 grade five to eight pupils from Canadian Martyrs (St.Catharines) and Our Lady of Fatima (Grimsby) who recently participated in a course in Latin organized by the Brock Department of Classics, and received their diplomas. Similar programs, open to elementary and secondary school students are conducted at Brock on Saturday mornings from September to April. For further details, contact Prof.A.D.Booth, ext.3321.

Good luck

Brock will be well represented at the Summer Olympic games in Los Angeles. Students, present and former, who will participate in the games include Gail Cort, Cathy Lichty, Angela Schnieder, Kathy Lund, Greg Murphy, Rich Doey, and Tim Storm (rowing), David Shemilt (swimming), and Richard Deschatelet (wrestling).

Elderhostel Returns

There will be a new breed of student on campus during the next two weeks. During the weeks of July 15-21, and 22-28 Brock will be host to Elderhostel, a group providing educational experiences for seniors. While at Brock, the participants will stay in residence and attend sessions given by members of the Brock faculty designed to provide education and excitement... no exams. This year's sessions deal with: diet and activity, the Welland canals, an examination of the mass media in North America, and the Geology and Ecology of the Niagara region. Evenings include walks, tours and a trip to Alphonse's trough.

Faculty and staff notes

Administrative Studies

Prof.C.A.Sales will be acting Chairperson of the Department of Management and Marketing, School of Administrative Studies for the period July 1, 1984 to December 31, 1984.

Prof.D.Austrom recently delivered a workshop "Managing smarter: Regaining the competitive edge in changing times" in Winnipeg to the Graphic Arts Industries Association (Prairie Region).

Prof.D.Austrom and Prof.E.Levanoni presented a paper entitled "Lifestyle differences and workplace attitudes and behaviors" at the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada conference held in Guelph.

Chemistry

Prof.M.Richardson and Mr. Naresh Pandya attended the American Crystallographic Association meeting in Lexington Kentucky recently, where Prof.Richardson presented a paper "Searching the Inorganic Database". She was also Program Chairman for the meeting which attracted 300 crystallographers to hear 179 presentations.

Prof.Richardson also attended the Sixth Annual National Homebrew and Microbrewery Conference in Denver Colorado in June. In the Homebrew competition, her Continental Lager won second prize and her Wheat Beer, third.

Prof.M.F.Richardson has been awarded grants by the Canadian Weizmann Foundation and the Swiss National Science Foundation to cover her living expenses while on sabbatical in Israel and Switzerland.

Prof.H.L.Holland presented a seminar at Carleton University on "Asymmetric Organic Synthesis". He also presented a paper "Steroid Hydroxylation Mechanisms" at a meeting in Washington D.C. recently.

Professors E.A.Cherniak, D.C.Moule, J.S.Hartman, H.L.Holland and J.M.Miller and Roger Theberge, Elly Riemland, Mel Farquharson and Cindy MacLaurin attended the annual meeting of The Chemical Institutute of Canada which was held with the annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemists in Montreal. The following papers were presented: "Design and construction of new chemistry laboratories in a time of financial restraint", J.M.Miller; "Studies of strong H-bonding to Fluoride by FAB, MS and NMR", J.M.Miller, J.H.Clark, H.Mondal and J.K.Puri; "Novel mixed-donor (R_3N) (D) BF_3^+ Cations and $R_3.BF_2Z$ adducts", M.J.Farquharson and J.S.Hartman; "Microbial dehydroxilation of corticosteroids", H.L.Holland and E.Riemland; "Reactions of epoxides with metal alkoxides", H.L.Holland and S.Khan; "Microbial epoxidation of Δ^6 steroids" H.L.Holland and P.Ch.Chenchaiiah; "The conformational changes accompanying the $\tilde{a}^3A \leftarrow \tilde{X}^1A_1$ triplet-singlet transition in Acetaldehyde", D.C.Moule and K.H.K.Ng; "Rydberg and valence shell transitions in Thioacetone", A.E.Bruno, R.H.Judge, D.C.Moule and R.P.Steer.

Classics

Prof.D.W.Rupp, who assumed the position of Chairman of the Department of Classics for a three year term on July 1, gave a paper at the Classical Association of Canada meeting at the Learned Societies meeting entitled "The re-emergence of the State in early Iron Age Cyprus".

Prof.D.W.Rupp was also awarded $2,000 (US) by the American Philosophical Society for the study of the early Byzantine floor mosaics of the Eustolios complex at Kourion on Cyprus this summer.

College of Education

Prof.J.Novak conducted a two-day Department Heads conference for Cedarbrae Collegiate Institute of Scarborough. The topic for the conference was "Invitational learning-evaluation".

Prof.J.Novak was the keynote speaker for the Clarkson-Erindale Family of Schools of Peel County. The title of his talk was "Invitations to Life".

Fine Arts

Prof.R.C.Nunn presented a paper titled "The interplay of action and set in the plays of David Fennario" at the annual meeting of the Association for Canadian Theatre History held at the University of Guelph as part of the Learned Societies conference.

Information and Liaison

Don Rickers, liaison officer, has been chosen to play for a fourth year on a 23 member lacrosse team which will take part in an International field lacrosse tournament in Los Angeles next week, just prior to the Summer Olympic games. Good luck, Don!

Politics

Prof.C.Baar, with Toronto lawyer Jeff Sack, spoke on the topic "In defence of tenure" at the recent National Collective Bargaining conference of the CAUT held in Kimberley, Ontario.

Psychology

Prof.L.Krasnor presented a paper entitled "Observational methods in the assessment of social problem solving" at the invitational conference, "Research strategies in children's social skills training", held recently in Ottawa.

Prof.S.Sadava was a participant in a symposium on the psychological study of social issues in Canada at the recent meeting of the Canadian Psychological Association in Ottawa. His paper was entitled "Social issues and self-contained individualism: A Canadian perspective. He also attended the meeting of Chairpersons of Departments of Psychology in Canada.

We have a Hand in politics!

Stand up and be proud. Even the Conservative and N.D.P. supporters among us will be pleased by the success of this Brock alumnus. Linus Hand, our 1983-84 Students' Union president won the St. Catharines riding Liberal nomination on Thursday, July 19. His defeat of veteran politician David Wiebe came as a surprise and a thrill to not only Linus, but also to his faithful band of supporters who, with little money but lots of enthusiasm, handlettered banners, photocopied posters and boosted him to victory. Congratulations, Linus, and the best of luck in the coming election.

Alphie's Aces

Teed off because you missed the first annual Alphie's golf tournament? You missed a great time if you weren't there to try for that elusive hole in one or to gorge on barbequed steak. The tournament winner, with a low score of 64, was assistant manager of liquor services, Harry MacNaughton. Maria DiFillippo, a Brock alumnus and former Miss Niagara, took home Alphie's hind end for her high score of 157, but was given a bottle of creme liqueur in which to drown her sorrows. The 27 participants came from all areas of the university and beyond, including the 10th floor (the team of Boom Boom Goor, Smack'em Odell, Move Over White and Damn'em Woodland must be noted specially), the plumbing department, Carling O'Keefe breweries, visitors from across the river, and of course some contestants right out of Alphie's trough itself. Everyone went home with a prize and a certificate for a complimentary meal at Barton's Inn - a gift from the golf-playing owner, Mr. Peter Brass. Putt some thought into signing up for next year's tournament!

We'll be all heart soon

We owe a vote of thanks to Personnel Services for providing an important opportunity for the University community. On July 25 and 26, from 8am-12pm, in the Phys.Ed. centre, interested members of the faculty and staff will be trained in Cardio-Pulmonary-Resuscitation. The program has generated both enthusiasm and registration and there are now a total of thirty participants lined up for the two sessions. The thought that we have staff and faculty members trained in C.P.R. should make us all breathe more easily.

Tan time

Monday, Aug. 6th is the Civic holiday and so the University offices will be closed for the day. Sports school will still be in session; therefore, the athletic complex will be open. Summer day classes will also be held and the library will be open for regular hours. Enjoy the summer while you can - tan, tan, tan.

Bora Laskin National Fellowship

The Prime Minister announced June 27 the establishment of the Bora Laskin National Fellowship in Human Rights Research to be awarded annually by the Secretary of State of Canada beginning with the 1985-86 academic year. The award was named for the late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, and will take the form of a one year fellowship for research on themes and issues relevant to human rights in Canada. The objective of the fellowship is to encourage interdisciplinary research and the development of expertise in the field of human rights, involving the arts, humanities, and the social sciences as well as journalism and law. Candidates should possess a graduate degree in one of the fields addressed by the research, five to fifteen years of proven experience in their field, and should be Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada. More complete details concerning application procedures will be available soon. The deadline for receipt of applications for the first award for the academic year 1985-86 will be Oct. 31, 1984. For further information, contact B. Bellows, ext.3425.

Club notes

Luncheon-minded club members take note: the faculty and staff club luncheon service will continue until the end of the Summer Day session on Aug. 10, after which it will be suspended until Sept. 4. The last happy hour was held on July 13, but cheer up, these too will resume on Sept. 7.

Memberships are now available for 1984/85 from the Membership Chairman, Dr. M.S. Manocha. A wine tasting for members will be held on Sept. 28, at which time memberships will be available at the door.

Turgenev display

The Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies has on display in the Brock library showcase a presentation dedicated to Ivan Turgenev entitled "One hundred years after the death of Ivan Turgenev." This display will remain in the library until Aug.15, 1984.

A sneaky weekend

Saturday July 14th saw the campus jammed with prospective students and their parents who came to take advantage of Sneak Preview and have a look around. The various information sessions were attended by close to 600 people, approximately 280 of whom were students. Student services personnel, faculty members and tour guides were all on hand to make certain that our guests were well cared for.

In the last lap

David Shemilt may feel a bit waterlogged by the end of the summer. Having qualified for the Canadian Olympic Swim team (a silver medalist in the 400M Freestyle, and a gold medalist in the 1500M Freestyle), he is now off to Los Angeles to compete Aug. 2-4.

We have other aquatic stars of whom to be proud. Aquatics manager, Herb deBray, has been named Head Men's Swimming Coach for the Canadian team swimming in the Australian Nationals and New Zealand Dual meet on Aug.19. Tammy Balkwill and Brian Wasylowich, both second year students, will be participating in the Canadian National Swimming Championships in Vancouver Aug. 14-18.

More excitement - Brock has been awarded the 1985 Canadian Games Swimming trials (July 12-15) and will host the 1985 CIAU

Physics

Prof.B.Mitrović recently gave a seminar talk at the Institute of Physics in Belgrade Yugoslavia. The title of his talk was "Electron-Phonon interaction in high T_c A-15 compounds".

Politics

Prof.T.G.Carroll has been appointed to a three year term as Chairman of the Department of Politics, effective July 1, 1984.

Sociology

Prof.V.Tomovich gave a talk to the Board of Directors of the Social Planning Council of Niagara Falls on Human Sexuality. The Social Planning Council of Niagara Falls faces many problems associated with sexual behaviour, the most prevailing being prostitution. This was Prof.Tomovich's second appearance before this group in the last two months.

Mayer wins NDP nomination

Brock is doing very well in the political forum these days. Just recently we were pleased to hear of the success of a Brock student and now we applaud the election of one of our faculty members. Prof. J. Mayer, of the Philosophy department won the NDP nomination for the Lincoln riding on July 24. Prof. Mayer is well known for his work in the Peace Movement and intends to base his campaign largely on this issue. We wish Prof. Mayer good luck, and will all be interested to see how our Brock people do in the coming election.

Ray Woodfield remembered

The Brock University community was saddened this weekend, by the death of Ray Woodfield, the University's first employee. When he retired in 1981, Mr. Woodfield was Director of Physical plant. A funeral service held on Tuesday, Aug. 7 was well attended by Brock faculty and staff members. A Ray Woodfield bursary fund has been established; donations are to be forwarded to the Finance office.

New Library acquisition

The University has recently received a complete set of the Canadian pleadings in the case concerning the Delimitation of the Maritime Boundary in the Gulf of Maine which was recently heard before the International Court of Justice in the Hague. The fifteen volume set is the full documentation of Canada's case in the boundary dispute with the United States. Annexes to the three main submissions incorporate detailed geological, oceanographic and fisheries information as well as the texts of all official and diplomatic documents and correspondence related to the case. The last volume contains a detailed subject index and table of cases. The volumes are shelved in the Documents Collection, Call Number Z UN IC 82 D25.

Take heart

If you missed the last C.P.R. sessions offered by the Department of Personnel Services, you're getting a second chance. Depending on the numbers of people who indicate an interest, one or two sessions will be offered during the final week of August. The courses will be held on weekday mornings, from 8am-12pm. The program, offered through Heartsave Niagara, costs University participants nothing, and covers both Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation and choking aid. If you are interested in taking this course, please contact Louise Wilding, ext. 3273, or Chris Elliot, ext. 3274 before Wednesday, Aug. 15.

Russian Exhibit

The Russian section of the Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies will mount an exhibit in the main floor library show-cases, Aug.15-Sept.15. The theme of this exhibition is the Eastern Othodox religious tradition in the arts and architecture of Russia. The main emphasis will be on Christian art and architecture, but at the same time, the exhibit will attempt to show how this tradition reverberates in modern times and in modern art.

Get your caboose down that hill

Tie on your runners on Sunday, August 26th and get ready to take part in a 2.7 mile funrun from Alpie's trough to the Cat's Caboose on Glenridge avenue. Enthusiastic organizers are gushing "It's the fastest course in the world...all downhill." Watch for, or better yet, be part of the University team. We grabbed third place in 1982. Volunteers are needed to help keep things running smoothly. If you can lend a hand, please contact John Yardley, ext.3423, or Pauline Coppard, ext.3592.

Welcome Graham

Saga Foods has appointed a new manager for the Decew residence dining hall. Graham Jones takes over his responsibilities in early August and looks forward to the challenge of providing service to more than 685 ravenous students. Graham is a graduate of Saga's management trainee program and comes to us from the University of Toronto operation.

Vacate your tote box

Please note that all memberships in the Physical Education centre expire on Friday, Aug.5, 1984. All members are requested to clear all of their personal belongings out of the tote boxes, leaving the padlocks secured in their usual places by this date. Unfortunately, we have neither the staff nor the space to retain your personal belongings after this date, and the University will not accept any responsibility for items left in tote boxes.

Stretch your swim hours

Beginning Aug.13, swim hours will be extended: Adult lengths 7:30-10am, and Family Fun swim 1:30-4pm. The adult lengths have been extended one hour, and the Family Fun swim now starts one hour earlier.

Do you have room for a student?

Many students are now in the frantic process of looking for a place to stay for the coming term. If you have a house, apartment, flat or room to rent, please call the University Housing office ext. 3370.

Fit yourself up for the coming year

The 1984-85 memberships to the Physical Education centre for Faculty/Staff/Alumni will go on sale after Aug.20, 1984 in the Physical Education main office from 8:30am to 4pm. They will not, however, be in effect until the start of the membership year - Sept.10, 1984. This year's rate for all Faculty/Staff/Alumni is $70 (Sept.'84 to Aug.'85), and $35 for their spouses. Avoid the rush and buy early.

Faculty and Staff notes

Biology

Prof.P.Rand was keynote speaker at the first international conference on hydration forces held recently at Orenas castle in Sweden. Hydration forces were discovered at Brock eleven years ago and have now become the subject for theoretical explanation by several physical-chemical groups with divergent views about their origin.

Chemistry

Prof.S.M.Rothstein has recently received a grant on the Vector Computer Access program for a project entitled "Diffusion Monte Carlo simulations".

College of Education

Prof.Chodzinski addressed the Ontario School Attendance Counsellor Association annual convention held recently at the University of Toronto. The title of his paper was "New Directions in Training".

A joint paper by R.Chodzinski and R.J.Samuda titled "Global Perspectives in the Assessment of Minorities" will be presented at Acapulco, Mexico, for the annual Congress of the International Association of Cross Cultural Psychologists, Aug.30.

Counselling

Joan McCurdy chaired the Counselling Division Program committee for the annual conference of the Canadian Association of College and University Student Services, held recently at the University of Windsor.

Mathematics

Prof.S.C.Chang recently gave a talk entitled "Replaceability and -uniqueness" at the University of Trier. His visit took place at the time of the two-thousandth-anniversary celebrations of the city of Trier.

Philosophy

Prof.J.Mayer presented an invited paper on Creation in Athens, Greece recently. Following the conference, Prof.Mayer visited some classical sites and spent a week in Hungary.

Welcome Concordia

Our new neighbors in the Concordia Lutheran Seminary will be celebrating the official opening of their doors during the week of September 10-22. A tour and reception for Brock faculty members will be held on Sept. 19, from 3-5:30pm, and an open house for Brock students, on Sept. 20 and 21, 3-5:30pm.

Federal Co-operative Education Program

Practical work experience, integrated with academic learning increases marketability of graduates entering a competitive labor market.

The Federal Co-operative Education program will be launched in September 1984. The program is designed to defray the administrative costs of creating new co-operative education projects or the expansion of existing programs. Employment and Immigration Canada will contribute 85 percent of such costs in the first year, and 75 percent, 55 percent and 35 percent respectively over the subsequent three years.

On with the shows

Film, theatre, music, visual arts...the Brock Fine Arts department is creating a little bit of cultural heaven on earth this season. Five different film series will be screened - The English Channel: Films from the British Institute, the International Film series, New Italian Directors' films, Melodrama on Film, and the Noon Hour Film series. Theatre patrons, look forward to "Ten Lost Years", "She Stoops to Conquer", "Tonight We Improvise", and "Yankees at York". A continuing series of free concerts featuring Jane Hayes, William Aide, John Glofcheskie (piano); the Christmas Choral concert, student recitals and more will be given in The Theatre during lunch hours. During the academic year, there will be a series of workshops and lectures held on various media, such as sculpture, painting and photography. Again, there will be no cost to the participants. A Bach Symposium, a Canadian Colloquium (Where's Canada?), a multi-media event (Ten Years that Shook the World, a presentation in various media on revolutionary Soviet culture) and the Spring Arts Festival will round out the years' schedule.

Bora Laskin National Fellowship

Application forms for the Bora Laskin National Fellowship in Human Rights Research are now available in the Deans' office. The deadline for applications for the academic year 1985-86 is Oct.31, 1984.

Signing On

Monday, August 20th saw a flurry of new parking signs installed in the various University lots. These signs indicate the type of parking available (free or permit); look carefully and avoid tickets. In addition, there are some new traffic signs on campus; you should be on the lookout for new stop, yield, and speed limit signs.

Second Annual Colloquium

The second annual colloquium at the Centre for English Language Programs will be held on Saturday March 2nd, 1985. The theme of the colloquium will be "Cultural Attitudes to Language Instruction". Individuals with proposals for possible presentations (talks, demonstrations, etc.) are invited to contact Dr.J.N.Sivell, ext.3374. The expected audience for the colloquium will be language teachers of all levels from the Golden Horseshoe area.

Just our type

Granny loves the homey touch of a handwritten message from you, but we would prefer that you type. Handwritten materials leave room for errors in transcription; therefore, in the interests of accuracy, we ask that all submissions to Campus News be typed. Thank you.

Overnighters

Students who have not found spaces in our residences will soon be arriving to look for off-campus accommodations. If you would consider offering some temporary accommodations to students while they search, or would like to rent to a student for the school year, please contact the University Housing office, ext.3370.

Having a fling

There's been a lot of flinging going on around the campus lately - Highland flinging that is. Brock is, for the sixth year, playing host to the Royal Scottish Dance Society who are conducting a two week long teacher's accreditation course. There are currently 160 dancers at the University, but this number will swell to 220 on Saturday when other members of the society arrive for the closing ball.

Thorold Bus

Live in Thorold? Dreading the battle for parking spots in the main lot come September? We have good news for you. Starting September 10, the St. Catharines Transit Commission will be running a bus between Thorold and Brock. The proposed route will be from Thorold, starting at the Roadway Inn on Ormond St. to Beaverdams Rd. to Pine St. to Richmond St. to Collier Rd. to St. Davids Rd. to Brock; the return run will follow the same course. The bus will leave the Roadway Inn at 8am and 9am and students along the way will be able to flag the driver to pick them up. In the afternoon, the bus will leave Brock at 4:30pm and 5:30pm. There will be no transfers allowed to and from this Thorold route and the fare will be single rather than double as in the past. The routing may change depending on the demand from other Thorold areas, and the service will run on a trial basis for the month of September. If there is sufficient use, it will continue for the remainder of the school year, so leave your car at home and forget the parking hassles.

Finding more rooms

Residence is a popular place to be these days...so popular that the University has had to rent 22 rooms at the Leonard Motel on St. Paul St. in an attempt to house at least a part of the overflow. The rooms have been modified slightly to include a study area, and will accommodate 45 students. Even with the addition of these rooms, nearly 400 students who have requested residence will not be assigned places. If you have a house, apartment or room to rent to a student, please contact the Housing office, ext.3370.

Spectrometry facility

Brock is to be one of six Ontario universities to share a new $692,000 high mass high resolution, mass spectrometry facility to be installed next year at McMaster. The instrument has just been ordered after an evaluation trip to England by Jack Miller, (one of the principle applicants) and Mike Quilliam of McMaster. The $626,000 NSERC grant provides most of the funds for the new equipment which will be used to solve problems in chemistry, medicine, toxicology, pollution, geology and archaeology.

A little praise

Criticism comes cheap, but every drop of praise is golden. We thought you'd like to share this excerpt from a letter sent to the Development office recently.

"Brock University is a great asset to the community and has been especially beneficial to our local office of Thorne Riddell. For the past several years, we have been hiring Brock Accounting Co-operative students in addition to regular Brock graduates. We are very pleased with the calibre of such students, and the program fits in very well with our staffing requirements".

Reports now available

The University's response to the questions asked by the Bovey commisison has been submitted to the Commission. Copies have also been sent to members of Senate and the Board of Trustees; a limited number are available in the Information Office. In addition, a copy of the OCUFA report and recommendations to the Bovey commisison has been received and is available for anyone wishing to read it.

Excellence in the eighties

The School of Administrative Studies Speaker Series begins on September 18. Mr.G.B.Mitchell, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Dana Corporation will speak on the subject of excellence at 7:30pm in the Pond Inlet. The public is invited and admission is free.

We've got the stats

Statistics Canada has recently begun a Small Area Data Program. The first publications of this program are Statistical Profiles of each of the 282 Federal Electoral Districts of Canada. Each profile contains geographic, demographic, political, social and economic data drawn from the Census and other Statistics Canada sources. The University Library has acquired the profiles for the electoral districts of Erie, Lincoln, Niagara Falls, St. Catharines and Welland. They are available in the Documents Collection, call number DOC CA1 DS04 S73.

University Women's Club

The University Women's Club of St. Catharines would like to extend an invitation to all women university graduates to attend a wine and cheese party on September 11, 8pm, at Rodman Hall. There will be an opportunity to register for various study and interest groups.

The Twelve Trail

Brock is now the home of a new nature trail intended to introduce visitors to, the flora and fauna of the area, and to help preserve a healthy environment for plants and animals. The Twelve Trail, which traverses the area from the Glenridge Fill to the north end of the University, is an alternate route for the Bruce Trail and will connect it with the Merrit-trail. The trail was named for the original settlement here (known as the "Twelve") and was established by a group of Brock students under Environment Canada's Environment 2000 program, and was sponsored by Brock University. Guides are available in both the Brock and the public libraries and from the Niagara Peninsula Conservation Authority.

The key to the problem

A reminder from Campus Police: In order for the key request system to work efficiently, requests must be made on the special key request form available for general use and obtainable from the Campus Police office. Only in emergency situations, will a key request be honored which is not received on the correct form.

Be alarmed

We've become immune to the sound of fire alarms because so much testing and adjusting of the system went on last term. The testing will now be carried on at night in order not to disturb classes. Therefore, treat any alarm you hear as the real thing. Be aware of the exit nearest you; use the stairs, not the elevator.

New season pass

The Niagara Artist's Centre is offering Brock faculty, staff and students a new season pass. For $50, the pass is good for admission to all the NAC events for one year. Some 50 events are planned, in art, film, music, reading and performance. The season pass is transferable and includes membership in the organization ($20 without the season pass). For a pass and application for membership, see Joan Nicks, Murray Kropf or Barry Grant in the Department of Fine Arts or Maurice Yacowar in the Deans' Office.

Need a hand?

Once again the Counselling Centre is offering a variety of Learning Skills programs to help Brock students improve their confidence and competence as students. All of the following programs begin in either September or October: mature student orientation; general study skills; skills for seminar participation; Reading skills; re-entry mathematics; writing skills; essay/research clinics; basic grammar. Each department has been sent a notice detailing the program contents, dates and times. As you identify students in your classes who might benefit from these programs, please let them know about these services.

Noon hour films begin

The Department of Fine Arts will present "Daisy" (The story of a facelift) on Tuesday, September 25 at 11:30 as part of the noon hour film series. Directed by Michael Rubbo, "Daisy" explores the cultural distortions behind the alteration of the human face. Admission is free; bring your lunch. The film will be screened in The Studio. Please note that all events originally scheduled for noon, will now start at 11:30 and run until 12:30 as a result of the timetable being moved to 8:30am.

Run results

Captains Coppard and Yardley would like to thank all the members of their team in the Cat's Caboose fun run. The Brock team finished a respectable fourth and won a trophy. The effort was appreciated and a strategy is already cooking for next year.

Planning ahead

In case you're already thinking about Christmas, here's the holiday run-down. The University will be closed during the Christmas/New Year's holiday from 4:30pm on December 21, 1984 to 8:30am on January 2, 1985...the twelve days of Christmas.

Thank you, Alphonse

A large round of applause was heard for Paul Dwyer at the final Alphonse's b'bq on Thurs. Aug.30, as the lucky 120 munched their strip sirloin and mourned the end of the feasts for another year. Many thanks to everyone at Alphonse's for making Thursday our favorite day.

Wine and sign

Memberships for the Faculty and Staff club 1984/85 are now available from the membership chairman, Dr.M.S.Manocha, at a cost of $20. Memberships may also be obtained at a winetasting to be held on September 28th. Happy hours re-commence on September 14.

Library hours

During the week of September 4 -9, the library will be open Tuesday-Friday, 8:30am-8pm; Saturday, 11am-5pm and Sunday, 1pm-5pm. Regular hours resume September 10.

Return to normal hours

Summer hours ended on August 31st 1984 and staff members began observing the normal office hours of 8:30am to 4:30pm on September 4, 1984.

Rhodes Scholarships

Information and application forms for the 1985 Rhodes scholarships are now available in the Office of the Deans of Humanities and Social Sciences. Candidates for these scholarships, tenable at Oxford for two and possibly three years, must be Canadian citizens or resident for at least five years, unmarried and between the ages of 18 and 24 years. They should have completed at least three years of university training by October 1, 1985, and must be students showing both high academic and personal standards. Students may not apply directly but must do so through a faculty member who knows their capabilities. Nominations should be submitted to the Office of the Deans of Humanities and Social Sciences in time to reach the selection committees by October 25, 1984.

Shastri Institute

Applications are invited for grants tenable in India for faculty research, faculty training, and performing arts fellowships. Please contact Prof. V.M. Fic, Department of POLitics, ext.3480. The deadline for grant application is September 10, 1984.

SSHRC Fellowship grants

Information and application forms have been received by the Office of the Deans of Humanities and Social Sciences concerning the following SSHRC fellowship grants for 1985/86: Leave Fellowship; Postdoctoral Fellowship; Special Postdoctoral Fellowship for research on urban poverty in Canada. The deadline for all these awards is October 1, but the Council wishes to receive applications by the end of September, if possible. For further information, please contact the Office of the Deans of Humanities and Social Sciences, ext.3425.

Fascinating figures

The preliminary enrolment and course enrolment figures (based on money received during registration) are out. It is estimated that we now have 343 more students than last year, and there have been 1751 more course enrolments. News from residence: With the addition of the Leonard Motel residence, we now have accommodation for 730 students: Decew-418, Shaver-31, Queenston-236, Leonard-45. All of these spaces will be filled.

New faculty and staff introduced

The following new members of faculty were welcomed to the University by Prof. W. Matheson at the President's dinner, Friday, Sept. 7: S. Cesar, College of Education; M. Donnelly, Administrative Studies; J. Glofcheskie, Fine Arts; J. Hayes, Fine Arts; M. Howe, Administrative Studies; Z. Koustas, Economics; M. Laurence, Recreation; P. McLaren, College of Education; M. Miles, Philosophy; A. Mollica, College of Education; M. Morrissey-Clayton, Fine Arts; R. Pritchard, Fine Arts; F. Razavi, Physics; E. Riddell-Dixon, Politics; U. Rege, Administrative Studies; G. Rush, Sociology; J. Sivell, C.E.L.P.; D. Kennedy, Geology; J. Woodward, Politics; D. Maskell, English (visiting professor); E. Cunningham, Physical Education; C. MacDonald, Physical Education. The following new members of staff were welcomed on the same occasion: Father F. Wagner and Reverend S. Hershey, Campus Ministries and C. Singleton, Library Services. Welcome!

Where has the time gone?

You may have noticed that nothing seems to operate the way, or rather, at the time that it used to. As a result of our increase in enrolment, additional time has been added to the day. Classes now begin at 8:30 (so that's why you can't find a parking spot by 8:20!). Lunch hours now run from 11:30-12:30 or 12:30-1:30. With luck, this should ease the congestion in the cafeteria, but you should remember to expect changes in bank line-ups, court bookings and almost anything else that runs by the clock.

*Cinderella's coach changed back into a pumpkin at midnight; we change back to hourly scheduling at 5:30 each evening.

Charles Bovey on campus

On Monday, September 17, Mr. Charles Bovey will be at Brock to discuss the questions put to the University by his commission and Brock's response to them. The Commission is travelling to all universities to get first-hand information and input for this most important study.

When is the library open?

The Brock library is now operating on its regular hours: Mon-Thurs.8:30-11pm; Friday 8:30-7:45; Saturday 11am-8:45pm, Sunday 1pm-8:45pm.

Political secrets

The secret is out. We now know where everyone in Politics is: S.Brooks, A326, ext.3477; T.G.Carroll, A332, ext.3481; M.Hawes, A325, ext.3482; D.Madar, A331, ext.3587; J.P.Sewell, A330, ext.3587; J.Woodward, A328, ext.3477.

Tired of your tire?

Carrying a little spare tire around with you? Why not carry it over to the Phys.Ed. centre on Wednesday, September 19 between 11:30 and 1:30pm and sign up for a fitness class? Registration will be for the beginner and intermediate/advanced classes to be held from 11:30-12:30pm (daily); 4:45-5:30pm (Mon.,Wed.&Thurs.) and 7:15-8am (Mon.,Wed.& Fri.). The staff and faculty price is $30 for 10 weeks of classes, three times a week. Classes begin the week of Sept.24. If you're tired of your tire, sign up!

Speaker Series reminder

Mr.G.B.Mitchell, chairman and chief executive officer of Dana corporation will be the first in the School of Administrative Studies' Speakers series. The public are cordially invited to attend this free presentation, which will take place in the Pond at 7:30pm, September 18.

An end to Telex

Effective, Friday, September 28, the University library will no longer provide Telex use. Over the last year, library use of Telex has declined dramatically whilst the small amount of traffic generated by other University departments does not justify the expenditure of the relatively high rent for the Telex line and equipment. Alternatives to Telex are cable or priority post; details of the latter service can be obtained from Administrative Services.

Club Memberships

Those interested in joining the Staff and Faculty club can obtain memberships from Dr.M.S.Manocha, the membership chairman. The $20 memberships will also be available at the wine tasting to be held on September 28. A glad note: Friday afternoon happy hours re-commence on September 14.

Thank you, Saga

Saga once again celebrated the opening of term with a lunch-time special on Monday, Sept.13. A glorious hip of beef was carved and served by President Earp, who proved very deft with the carving blade. Thank you Saga and President Earp for a great kick-off to the year.

Tracking the journals

The second stage of cataloguing and classification of serials in the University Library has been completed with the rearrangement in call number order of all the science journals located on floor 5 of the library. This rearrangement, which uses the same classification system as that used for the book collection, brings together on the shelves firstly, journals on the same subject and secondly, all volumes of a journal which has been published under different titles. Previously, holdings of such journals were shelved in various locations because of the alphabetical arrangement by title.

The call number for a journal can be found by checking in the computer-generated Serials Lists, copies of which are located on the 5th and 6th floors and in the reference department. Additionally, directional posters will be placed on the ends of the shelves to help users familiarize themselves quickly with the new layout. Library users having difficulty locating a journal should contact staff in the reference department.

Badminton, anyone?

The College of Education gym has been reserved for faculty and staff badminton players every Friday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 starting Friday, September 28, 1984. Everyone is welcome, skilled players and beginners alike. Join in and have some fun.

Savings Bonds

Paid up 1983-84 Canada Savings Bonds are now available to be picked up in the Payroll department on the 10th floor.

Faculty and Staff Notes

Classics

Prof.D.Rupp has given two invited papers recently. The first, entitled "The Canadian Palaipaphos Survey Project: a half-decade of work", was given in early August at an Archaeological symposium in Nicosia, Cyprus, sponsored by the Cyprus American Archaeological Research Institute. The other was given on September 8 at the McMaster University Ontario Bicentennial local history workshop on "Preserving our Industrial Heritage". The paper was entitled "Industrial Archaeology: The documentation of our industrial past".

College of Education

Prof.J.Novak conducted a teacher's institute for the faculty and staff of the Kindersley, Saskatchewan school system. The topic of the Teacher's Institute was "The theory and practice of invitational education". In addition, he was also the keynote speaker at the Chesapeake Virginia Public Schools' Preschool conference. The title of his keynote address was "Invitations to educational excellence".

Fine Arts

Murray Kropf has accepted an invitation from the McMaster University art gallery to mount an exhibition of his recent paintings entitled "Imposed order". The exhibition details the artist's concern with the relationship between the local environment and collective perception in terms of space, and runs September 4-24.

Politics

Prof.D.Madar was a discussant for a workshop on economic policy and regulation at the annual convention of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C. in early September.

Sociology

The newly appointed chairman and professor of the Sociology department is G.B.Rush, formerly a chartered member of faculty at Simon Fraser University. Professor Rush is also currently an associate editor of the Canadian Review of Sociology and Anthropology.

Concordia Open House

Our new neighbor, the Concordia Lutheran Seminary, invites Brock faculty and staff to attend a tour and reception to be held on September 19, 1984, from 3-5:30pm.

A word from Campus Ministries

Regularly scheduled worship sponsored by the Campus Ministries will be held this year in the Alumni Lounge. Mass will be celebrated on Sunday afternoon at 3pm; an Ecumenical Folk communion, open to all, will take place on Thursday at 12:30pm.

Bovey and Brock

Four members of the Bovey Commission, F. Mustard, E.C. Bovey, P. Watts and D. Jamieson, were at Brock on Monday, September 17. During the four hour meeting, held in the Senate chambers, various members of the University community, including Dr. Earp, Dr. J.A. Gibson and Dr. C. Barr presented briefs; the Commission members posed questions about the submission given them by Brock. The meeting drew faculty, staff and students as well as members of the press.

New York, New York!

Pack your bags. Have we got a trip for you! Spend Thanksgiving in New York City. The trip, which lasts from Friday, Oct. 5 to Monday, Oct. 8, includes all bus and air fare from Brock to the hotel (return), accommodations at the N.Y. Penta Hotel (formerly the Hilton), and a four and a half hour tour of New York City upon arrival. The prices are: four to a room - $210 US; two to a room, $245 US. For more information, please contact Murray Kropf, Department of Fine Arts, ext. 3214. Act fast; numbers are limited.

Care to make a comment?

The CBC French service would like to compile a list of academic resource people for news commentaries. Interested, bilingual faculty members who are prepared to comment on current events are asked to contact the Department of Information and Liaison, ext. 3245.

Lost and Found

Please remember that the only official repository for found items is the Campus Police office where the Lost and Found section is located. Campus Police should be notified immediately when objects - particularly valuable items such as rings watches and wallets - are turned in. An officer will pick the articles up. It is discouraging for students to come to the Campus Police office repeatedly to look for a lost item when it is being held by another department.

Presenting...!

The Philosophy Society presents: "The Wisdom of Teilhard deChardin" by James Birx of Canisius College, in the Alumni Lounge, at 7:30pm, Sept. 21.

Same day service

No longer do you have to wait a week to get your printed list of bibliographic citations from the Library's Computer Search service. A new, high speed printer terminal has finally arrived and is operational

With the new terminal working at 1200 baud, the cost of printing online is often equal to or less than the cost of offline printing. Consequently, it is now economic to obtain your results on the same day as your search is completed.

Ministry news

A service of celebration and commissioning for the beginning of the new Campus Ministries team will be held in the Alumni Lounge at 12:15pm on Thurs., Sept. 20. Rev. Frank Wagner and Rev. Steve Hershey extend an invitation to all members of the University to attend.

A reminder: the mass will be celebrated in the Alumni Lounge at 3pm on Sun., Sept. 23, and an ecumenical folk communion will take place in the Alumni Lounge beginning at 12:30pm, Thurs., Sept. 27.

The Campus Ministries office is located in Decew residence, Room 216, 688-5550, ext. 3373.

Getting together

Why not drop into the Alumni lounge for the foreign/Canadian student get-together next Thursday at 7:30pm? Free coffee, tea, doughnuts, and good company combine to make memorable evenings. All members of the Brock community are welcome to attend; faculty members are asked to pass the invitation along to their students. The gettogethers are held every Thursday.

The Orwellian year

Professor Anatol Rapoport will address the Brock Science for Peace group on "The Orwellian year" at 4pm on Thurs., Sept. 27 in TH243. Professor Rapoport is the first holder of the chair of peace studies at University College, Toronto and the national president of Science for Peace. All members of the University community are invited to attend this opening meeting of the year. Refreshments will be available following Prof. Rapoport's talk.

Library hours

The library hours listed in the last issue of Campus News were misleading as the schedule given us was for circulation hours, rather than the hours of operation. In fact, the library is open: Mon.-Thurs. 8:30am-11:15pm; Fri. 8:30am-8pm; Sat. 11am-9pm; and Sun. 1pm-9pm. The circulation desk closes fifteen minutes prior to the rest of the library.

Microcomputer lab

This year, the Microcomputer lab (A204) will be open for general student and faculty use during the following hours: Mon./Wed./Thurs. and Fri.-8:30-5:30pm; Tues.-8:30-10pm; Sun.-2-5pm. During some of these hours, the lab will be reserved for specific courses as posted on the door. Others may use the lab during course hours if there is no disruption of the class and during all other open hours. A library of software is available in the lab, including wordprocessing software. A lab supervisor will be on duty at all times. Instructors may reserve the lab for regular or occasional classes by booking through Pat Cane in the Registrar's Office. For further information call Dean Soroka.

Itchy phone finger?

The Alumni Association is going to take a run at raising the remaining $10,000 needed for the Alumni Greenhouse, by holding a "phonathon" in Hamilton on Oct.22-24. The phoning will be done from McMaster and there will be cars driving to and from all three nights. If you would like to lend a hand, please contact G.Gilbert, ext.3251.

A West Coast Tempest

Commedia dell'arte improvisation styles - a source of inspiration for Shakespeare's play - will be used as creative tools in this 'scripting rehearsal' to be held on October 4 and 5, at 8pm in The Playhouse.

The use of magic is a strong element in west-coast native culture and tradition and will provide a relevant setting for the play. Following the performance, there will be an informal discussion with the cast for all those who are interested. This work in progress is expected to be in full production by next year; be part of the birth of a play.

Best Badger

The Badger Award is presented each year to the graduating student who has contributed the most to the extra-curricular life of the University and has, at the same time, maintained a satisfactory academic standing. Nominations are invited from all departments and should be sent to Barry Joe, Student Awards-Scholarships, Prizes and Bursaries, Registrar's Office.

Campus Ministry begins

Thursday, September 20 marked the official investment of our two new chaplains, Father Frank Wagner and Reverend Steve Hersey. A non-denominational service attended by many members of the Brock community, solemnized their commitment to the University. Welcome Frank and Steve.

Scholarship information

Information has been received by the office of the Deans of Humanities and Social Sciences concerning the following awards for 1985-86: Special MA scholarships (SSHRC) deadline-December 1, 1984; SSHRC Doctoral fellowships for applicants registered at a Canadian university, deadline November 19, 1984, for applicants not registered full time at a Canadian university, deadline-November 15, 1984; IOE War Memorial scholarships for graduate work in Canada or other Commonwealth countries. The value of these scholarships is $8,500 for study in Canada and $11,00 for other Commonwealth areas.

These scholarships are tenable in Canada, the U.K. or any other Commonwealth country. Deadline-December 1, 1984; The University of New England, Armidale, Australia offers scholarships for graduate work in MA or PhD programs. The application deadline is October 31, 1984. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Deans' office.

Sharing an interest

Recent years have seen the emergence of a new discipline called Cognitive Science. There are many psychologists, computer scientists, linguists, philosophers and others who see in the computer a compelling metaphor for studying man. Any faculty members who share an interest in Cognitive Science are asked to contact J.Mitterer, Psychology, ext.3467.

Films for all

"The Days Before Christmas": Candid eye, cinema verite, direct cinema - these terms define the mobile, free-style documentary that launched the international wave of new cinema in the '50's. "Caroline": an ironic docu-fiction, this film is a fusion of film 'truths' in the manner of Jean-Luc Godard. Both films will be shown at 11:30am on October 23 in the Studio. The showing is free. Bring your lunch and enjoy.

Sherrill to speak

Dr. Claudine Sherrill, Texas Women's University, author and professor in the area of adapted physical education and recreation will be speaking on Monday at 8:30am in Thistle 246 on the topic of "Fostering creativity in the handicapped". All members of the Brock community are invited to attend this lecture.

Computer Science colloquium

The Department of Computer Science and Information Processing presents guest speaker, Prof.S.Srihari, from the department of Computer Science, SUNY Buffalo. Prof. Srihari will speak on the topic "Expert systems". The colloquim will be held Wednesday, October 3 at 10am in TH248. All members of the University community are invited to attend.

Psychology colloquium

On Friday October 19, Barry Willer, Associate Professor/Associate Director, Division of Community Psychiatry, at SUNY Buffalo and visiting researcher at Brock will speak on the topic of applied Psychology in the 1980's. Professor Willer will be the first speaker in the fall colloquium schedule for the Brock Psychology department.

Faculty and Staff Notes

Counselling Centre

Leslie Myers recently conducted half day workshops on "The use of imagery in counselling" and "Constructing the therapeutic metaphor" at the annual national conference of The Canadian Association of College and University Student's Services.

College of Education

In Sept., R.Common conducted a two-day curriculum implementation in-service program for Superintendants and Subject Co-ordinators for the Board of Education City of Toronto. R.Common and D.Pratt of Queen's University jointly offered a two-day Curriculum Design Workshop to the Curriculum Consultants of the Halton Board of Education.

Fine Arts

R.B.Pritchard's work was premiered twice this summer during the Banff Festival of the Arts. Out of the Mouths, an orchestral work, was premiered by the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Victor Feldbrill, and the Banff Centre's 1983-84 resident string quartet, the Chamber Arts Quartet, premiered Pritchard's Classique 625. In addition, his electronic work Escarpment was performed on the electro-acoustic music series, and Movement, a mixed-media work realized with R.Creighton, was presented as an installation.

Management and Marketing

Prof.B.Metcalf was a key speaker at the 32nd annual meeting of the Trust Companies Association of Canada, Ontario Section, in Toronto recently. The title of his address was "Marketing in the financial sector-an overview".

Physics

Prof.B.Mitrovic gave a colloquium talk at McMaster University. The title of his talk was "Electron tunneling spectroscopy of superconductors".

Psychology

Prof.J.Preston and Sonia Fiorucci presented a paper entitled "Second language acquisition: A preliminary study of psycholinguistic abilities and early vs later instruction", at the recent meeting of the Canadian Psychological Association meeting in Ottawa.

At the recent International Congress of Psychology in Acapulco, Prof.S.Sadava chaired a symposium "Alcohol/drug use and the principle of interactionism". He also presented a paper "Problem drinking in context" at that symposium.

Registrar's Office

Ainsley Towe was elected first vice president of the Association of Registrars of the Universities and Colleges of Canada at the biennial meeting in June, 1984. Mr.Towe held the position of Secretary/Treasurer for the ARUCC from 1980-84.

Founder's portrait unveiled

A portrait of the late Arthur Schmon, often called the founder of Brock University, was unveiled during a ceremony held on the evening of the 25th of September. The painting, by the well-known artist Cleeve Horne, was donated by Mr. Robert Schmon and his family. When an appropriate place has been chosen, the portrait will be hung in the lobby of the Tower. In addition to this very valuable piece of art, Mr. Schmon donated $130,000 to the Brock Science Development Fund, on behalf of the Ontario Paper Company.

Alumni Association Scholarship

Nomination/application forms are now available for the Brock University Alumni Association Scholarship. To be eligible for this $500 award the student must have completed a minimum of ten credits at Brock and have achieved an average of B in his major. He must, in addition, have made a meaningful contribution to the development of extracurricular life within the Brock community and must currently be a part time or full time student at Brock. Students may be nominated by professors or may apply themselves. Nomination and application forms are available from the Alumni office, Th.265 and must be returned by Monday, October 29. For further information, please contact Ginny Gilbert, Alumni Officer, ext.3251.

A Freiburg welcome

"It is a particular honor that the Rector Schupp, new chancellor of the Freiburg Institute, should visit us at Brock during his first year at the post," said President Earp during a reception held in honor of the Rector and Frau Schupp, and Herr Rams of the Freiburg Institute on September 27, in the Alumni Lounge. German and English blended as students of the exchange program, both past and present, German and Canadian, greeted the Freiburg officials and shared wine and memories.

The opening show

The Fine Arts committee is pleased to announce "The First Show", a display of work by artists Jane Ferguson and John Paul Frederick Gosen. The exhibit takes place October 1 through October 27, 1984 in The Gallery, from 10am-4pm.

The old parking lot blues

You don't need to be told that parking spaces have been at a premium in the main "A" lot on weekdays since the start of the Fall/Winter term, or that people parking in prohibited areas have been receiving violation tickets. What you do need to know is that there has been ample room to park every day in the "M" lot, located between Concordia Seminary and "G" block. This general parking lot will soon become a pay lot when the gates (already ordered) arrive. Use this freebie lot while you can and avoid the nasty white citations.

Visiting artists' lecture series begins

Jan Melito will begin the visiting artists' lecture series for the Department of Fine Arts on October 25 at the Niagara Artists' Centre, 26 Upper Queen Street Ms. Melito will give a slide lecture of her work which exhibits curiosity in religions, philosophies, rituals and ceremonies in sculpture, painting and print-making. The use of the found object, along with conventional artistic techniques conveys her interest in the mystic quality of the object and subject. The lecture, beginning at 8pm, is free and open to the public.

Vice-President Matheson ensconced

Vice-President (Academic) W.A. Matheson can now be found in his rightful office on the 13th floor of the Schmon Tower. His telephone extension is 3583.

Get the right channel

The Department of Fine Arts will sponsor a series of British Films to be shown in The Studio on October 25, 26 and 27. Entitled "The English Channel", the films selected show the more experimental vein of the British Film Institute. The films will be screened in the following order: Oct.25, 8pm, "A walk through H" and "Crystal Gazing"; Oct.26, 3pm, "Silent Partner" and "At the Fountainhead" followed by "Doll's Eye" and "Phoelix" at 8pm; Saturday Oct.27, 3pm "Mirror Phase" and "Finnegan's chin" followed by "The Falls" at 8pm. Admission is $2 per person/per program or $7 for a pass. For further information, please call ext.3553.

Latin lives on Latin classes for interested elementary and high school students will begin at Brock on Saturday, October 13 at 10am. Anyone interested should contact Alan Booth, Classics Dept., ext.3321.

Tacky behavior

When you place your carefully lettered posters on campus bulletin boards, be sure to use thumbtacks and not staples. It has been University policy for some time that staples are not to be used to attach posters to bulletin boards. Protect your efforts and your art work by using tacks; otherwise, you may find that Campus Police have posted your work in the garbage can.

Raffaele DeLuca

The Department of Romance Studies, and the University as a whole, deeply regrets the loss of one of its colleagues, Prof. Raffaele DeLuca who passed away on Sunday, Sept. 30th at the age of 49, after a long struggle with cancer. Professor DeLuca, who was co-founder of both the Brock Italian Club and the Dante Alighieri Society, came to Brock in 1970 and could often be seen riding his bicycle to the University. The funeral mass for Professor DeLuca was held at St. Alfred's Church on October 3rd. The family has requested that anyone wishing to make a donation in his memory should send it to the Roswell Park Memorial Institute, 666 Elm Street, Buffalo, New York, 14203.

Exciting ensemble

The Brock Centre for the Arts opens its exciting 1984/85 music series with The Canadian Chambre Ensemble on Saturday, October 20 at 8pm in The Theatre.

The Canadian Chambre Ensemble has been hailed as one of the finest and most sensitive small orchestras in Canada. The repertoire for this season is exclusively Bach, and features the Brandenburg Concerti. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors. Series tickets are still available at $24 for Adults and $18 for students and seniors. Reserved seating available at the Box Office.

On wisdom

"What is wisdom?" will be Marcel Paquet's topic when he speaks at Brock on October 12, at 7:30pm in the Alumni Lounge. His talk will be the second in a series presented by the Brock Philosophical Society. All are welcome to attend.

Vogelgesang to speak

The second speaker in the Administrative Studies Speakers Series will be Sandy Vogelgesang, Economic Counsellor of the United States embassy in Ottawa. Mr. Vogelgesang will give an overview of US-Canada economic relations on Tuesday, October 23, at 7:30pm at the Pond Inlet. The public is cordially invited and the admission is free.

The Tree of the Wooden Clogs

Film lovers awake! The New Italian Film series, sponsored by the Department of Fine Arts has a special treat in store for you. On October 17 at 8pm, "The Tree of the Wooden Clogs" will be shown in The Theatre. The film presents a rich and detailed portrait of life in a village near Milan at the turn of the century. The price of a single ticket is $3.50 at the Box Office, or reserve yours by phone, 688-5475 or 688-5476.

One flew east and one flew west and...

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" is the exciting first offering of the Press Theatre's 1984/85 season. This year's productions include "Special Occasions" by Bernard Slade, "Dames at Sea" by George Haimsohn and Robin Miller, "Blood Relations" by Sharon Pollock and "A Day in the Death of Joe Egg", by Peter Nichols. "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest", by Dale Wasserman (based on the novel by Ken Kesey) begins on Friday October 12, at 8pm in The Playhouse. Tickets are available from the Press Theatre Box Office, 684-8644.

Bach to basics

The Department of Fine Arts is sponsoring a Bach symposium to be held at the University from Thursday October 18 until Sunday October 21. The program includes a series of five concerts, a delight for all music lovers. For more information, please contact the Department of Fine Arts, ext.3214.

A Homecoming reminder

Add one more item to your list of Homecoming events to attend: the Homecoming Swim and Dive meet to be held at the University at 7pm on November 2. Come out and see Brock swim the suits off Ryerson and Windsor.

Double feature picture show

Catch a double feature at the noon hour film series on October 23. "The Days Before Christmas" and "Caroline" will both be shown in the Studio at 11:30am. Admission is free and you are welcome to bring your lunch.

AIA lecture

Helping hands

Your time, energy and skills are very valuable to several helping agencies in the St. Catharines community. The Campus Ministries has been doing some investigating and has discovered the following agencies who are in need of assistance: Careline, the 24hr. telephone distress centre needs volunteers to help respond to calls (688-3711); The St. Catharines General Hospital Reach Out program needs people to share their time with lonely patients (contact Campus Ministries); The St.Vincent de Paul House and Women's Place, shelters for battered and homeless women need volunteer staff (227-6436, and 684-8331 respectively); The Mennonite Volunteer Service Friendly Visiting program (682-7010), the Bestview Nursing Home (934-3321) and the Seniors Living in the Community program are all looking for volunteers to visit the handicapped, the elderly and the socially isolated.

For our convenience

The switchboard hours have been changed to meet the demands created by our switch to earlier class hours. Effective Monday, October 29th, the switchboard hours will be as follows: Mon.-Thurs. 8am-7:30pm, and Fri. 8am-7pm.

Save your pennies

The new series of Canada Savings Bonds goes on sale shortly. A Payroll leaflet, calendar and purchase application will be included in the October 30 pay envelopes. Those who have not yet picked up their paid-up 1983-84 bonds should do so as soon as possible.

Faculty Board meetings

The meeting dates for the current academic year are September 26, October 25, November 28, January 24, March 27 and April 25. Meeting time is 11:30am in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor.

A summer in Thailand?

The 1985 World University Service of Canada International will be held in Thailand. Applications for the three faculty positions are invited from Brock faculty members. Six weeks of travel, study and exploration of development projects in various regions of Thailand will provide a unique cross-cultural experience and opportunities for research in areas such as economics, education, geography, demography and the social and health sciences. English is the working language of the seminar, but a familiarity with Thai would be an asset for faculty applicants. All travel, lodging and meal expenses would be covered for faculty members. The deadline for applications is November 1, 1984. For further information and application forms, please contact W.H.N.Hull, Department of Politics, ext.3483.

Thumb great theatre

The Brock Centre for the Arts is particularly proud to open the Children's Fall Series with the Green Thumb Theatre's production of "The Bittersweet Kid" at 2pm on Saturday, October 27 in The Theatre. The play deals with the frustrations of a diabetic child coping with Hallowe'en and her own rebellious urges. What happens to the eleven-year-old heroine becomes a lesson to children in learning to take responsibility for the differences in their lives. Series tickets for the three production Children's Fall Series are $12 for adults and $9 for children and seniors. Tickets may be purchased at the Box Office

Happy Birthday Johann

In celebration of Bach's 300th birthday, the Brock Fine Arts Department is sponsoring a four-day Symposium of eight concerts, eleven lectures, a master class and a dance workshop. All events are free, with the exception of the five Guest Artists' Concerts. The Symposium begins Oct.18 and will conclude on the 21. For further information, please contact the Department of Fine Arts, ext.3214.

Pension plan meeting

Members of the Brock University pension plan are invited to an open meeting scheduled for Thursday, October 25, 1984 at 4:30pm in the Alumni Lounge, Schmon Tower. The University's actuary and the money managers will be in attendance to review their roles and to respond to queries. Questions should be forwarded in advance, in writing to Marlene Penner, 13th floor, Schmon Tower. These questions will be answered first before questions from the floor are dealt with.

Three days of flicks

The English Channel, a series of films showing the more experimental vein of the British Film Institute, will be shown at Brock from October 25-27. The films will run in the following order: "A Walk Through H" and "Crystal Gazing" on Thurs. at 8pm; "Silent Partner" and "At the Fountainhead" at 3pm Friday and "Doll's Eye" and "Pheolix" at 8pm that evening; "Mirror Phase" and "Finnegan's Chin", on Saturday at 3pm and "The Falls" at 8pm. All films will be shown in The Studio. For further information regarding ticket purchase, please call ext.3553.

Gentle reminders

Don't miss the following lectures: "Family and Social Crises: Barbarians in Roman Art", by Prof.N.Kampen of the University of Rhode Island, part of the AAIA lecture series, at 8pm in TH 245; An overview of the US/Canadian economic situation by Sandy Vogelgesang, Economic Counsellor for the United States Embassy in Ottawa, on Tuesday, October 23 at 7:30pm in the Theatre, part of the School of Administrative Studies Excellence in the Eighties Speaker Series; Slide lecture of the work of Jan Melito, given by the artist on October 25 at 8pm at the Niagara Artists' Centre, 26 Upper Queen St.

Slide presentation

Everyone is welcome to attend a slide presentation given by Prof. and Mrs. Martin Gibson, on October 25 at 8pm in the Alumni Lounge. The title of the presentation is "Nicaragua: Land of Sardino". Free tea, coffee, doughnuts and discussion to follow. Please inform any students who may be interested. For more information, contact John Kaethler, 3732.

Canadian Asian Studies Association

The Canadian Asian Studies Association is looking forward to the visit of three Asian scholars to Brock next week. Two of the gentlemen are newspaper editors from Bangkok and Karachi, and the other is the Executive Director of the International Centre, Kwansai Gakuin University, Nishinomiya, Japan. The three will participate in a seminar entitled "The Media and development: An Asian perspective" on Tuesday, October 23, 9:30-11:30am. An informal luncheon sponsored by the Brock Committee of World University Services of Canada will be held following the seminar; those attending the luncheon will be asked to contribute by taking out a $1 membership in the local WUSC committee. Both the luncheon and the seminar will be held in the Alumni Lounge, 13th floor of the Schmon Tower.

Medalists selected

Mrs. Shirley Bryson and Miss Dawn Marie Pottie will be presented with Vice-Chancellor's medals at the 36th Brock convocation on Friday, October 26. The Psychology department should be proud; Mrs. Bryson will graduate with an honors degree in the subject, and Miss Pottie, with a three-year degree. Both students achieved averages of 86 per cent, and are local residents.

What's going on in front of the Tower?

The old, pre-formed concrete steps in front of the Tower are being removed as they have proven to be a tripping hazard. They will be replaced by poured concrete steps and a ramp for the handicapped. A similar operation will be performed between Thistle and the Phys.Ed complex during the next several weeks. Watch where you walk; Physical Plant is watching your step.

Royal Winnipeg Ballet

The Brock Centre for the Arts is proud to present the Royal Winnipeg Ballet in the Playhouse, on October 31, 1984. Reserved seats are $9 for students and seniors and $14 for all others. For information, contact ext.3257/3338 or 688-5475, 688-5476.

Where's Canada?

Members of the Department of Fine Arts are participating in a colloquium on the arts and media in Canada on Thursday, Nov. 1, from 7-10pm at the Pond Inlet. The colloquium will emphasize the making and meaning of popular and traditional arts in Canada and will be open to both the public and the Brock community. There is no admission charge; a cash bar is available.

Tape Music Competition

R.B.Pritchard has organized an international competition for electro-acoustic tape music. Through the assistance of various companies, the first prize offered is a Soundchaser Computer Music System and an Apple II+ computer. The winning work and runners-up will be broadcast on CBC-FM's Two New Hours and will appear on the local Elektra Music Series. The deadline for entries is February 15, 1985. For more information, contact R.B. Pritchard, Dept. of Fine Arts, ext.3214.

Disarming ideas

National disarmament week is being observed at Brock by the Campus Ministries team. On Thursday, October 25, there will be an ecumenical service for peace at 12:30pm in the Dean's Meeting Room, featurring the film "Gods of Metal", Reverend S. Hershey presiding. The same film will be shown at a Mass for Peace to be held on Sunday, October 28 in the Alumni Lounge at 6:30pm, Father Frank Wagner presiding.

Lace up your runners

Rev up those runners for the Alphonie's Trough 10K run to be held on November 17 at 2pm. The famous 'Rolling California start' will be at the Phys.Ed centre; level and flat is the way the course is described. The entry fee is $7 and the post entry, $8. Entries must be in by Wed. November 14; the first 250 entrants will receive a free racing singlet. Prizes will be awarded to the first three runners both male and female, but all those who manage to race, run, walk or crawl around the course are invited to a post-race party at the new Alphonie's Trough. Entrants need only be 13 to compete, but those under 19 should be aware that drinking age regulations will prevent them from attending the post-race party. For more information, contact Al Pedler, ext.3276.

Slide presentation

Everyone is welcome to attend a slide presentation given by Prof. and Mrs. Martin Gibson, on October 25 at 8pm in the Alumni Lounge. The title of the presentation is "Nicaragua: Land of Sandino". Free tea, coffee, doughnuts and discussion to follow. Please inform any students who may be interested. For more information, contact John Kaethler, 3732.

Coming home

You can come home again, and that's just what our Brock alumni will do next weekend. The weekend of November 1, 2 and 3 is devoted to making our graduates feel welcomed and remembered. You can participate by joining in the many homecoming events planned. The Alumni Fun Runs to be held on Saturday, November 3 at 11am are open to any interested runners. Each participant will be timed and placed and will receive a souvenir of the occasion. Choose either run (For the Hale and Hearty, 3.1 miles or For the Discreet, 1.9 miles) and then join us at Alphonie's Trough for a post-race quaff. Also on Saturday's agenda is the Alumni Volleyball Challenge in Gym 2 at 1:30pm. Sign your team up now. The only restriction is that there be no more than two ex-varsity players on any team. For more information about Homecoming, contact our very busy Alumni Officer, Ginny Gilbert at ext.3251.

Fall Arts and Crafts exhibition

The Women's Committee of the Niagara Symphony Association is holding its annual Fall Arts and Crafts exhibition and sale in the College of Education Gym. It will be held on Friday, November 2 from 12-9pm; on Saturday, November 3, from 10-9pm; and on Sunday November 4, from 1-5pm. Admission is $1 for adults, 50¢ for students and senior citizens.

Clean out your closets

The Scott Mission in Toronto badly needs used clothing, household articles, toys etc. for free distribution to the poor who come to them for help. Especially needed is warm clothing for children and teens; nothing is too old or shabby so long as it is useable. The delivery of a large shipment to the mission is planned for Saturday, November 17 and all donations would be welcomed. To have your donations picked up, and for further information, please call Carol Vanecko, Room 214, Library, ext.3226.

Dollars by dial

Most members of the University community never have the opportunity see the effort that goes into the fund raising drives, without which our new Alumni greenhouse would not have been built. Last week, a series of evening 'phoning sessions were held at McMaster University to canvass Hamilton area Brock graduates for contributions and we are now less than $6,000 away from our $100,000 goal. During the past year, Brock students, alumni and staff have participated in a number of such 'phonathons, all orchestrated by our Alumni Officer, Ginny Gilbert. Congratulations, Ginny, for many jobs well done.

Test your treads

Test your treads on the Alphonie's Trough 10K run to be held on November 17 at 2pm. The famous 'Rolling California start' will be at the Phys.Ed centre. Reports have it that the course is level and very fast. The entry fee is $7, the post entry, $8 and entries must be in by Wednesday, November 14. The first 250 entrants will receive a free racing singlet and prizes will be awarded to the 1,2 and 3 place runners both male and female. All racers, runners, and crawlers are invited to a post race party at the new Alphonie's Trough. Entrants must be at least 13 to compete, but those under 19 should be aware that drinking age regulations will prevent them from attending the post-race party. For more information, contact Al Pedler, Race Director ext.3276.

Farewell to old friends

A reception was held in the Pond Inlet last week to honor a number of Physical Plant employees who have or will be retiring from the University in 1984. W.Loveman and J.Ens have been with us for seventeen years, C.Young, for fifteen, A.Schmid, for fourteen, H.Rymer, for thirteen, and A.Macro for nine. They will all be missed by the staff, faculty and students at Brock.

A pleasant exchange

Senor Casanova, president of the Mexican university with which Brock operates an academic exchange program, visited Brock with his wife last Thursday. Present at a meeting presided over by Prof.Riddell-Dixon of the Politics department, were our flagwaving 1984/85 Mexican exchange students, a few photo-album-bearing Brock students who had studied in Mexico in past years and a number of excited, interested hopefuls for next year's program.

Memorabilia madness

Still have those go-go boots stashed in a closet somewhere? How about that peace medallion? What have you done with your Elvis Presley record collection? Ginny Gilbert wants to know. If you have any marvelous memorabilia of the fifties and sixties that you would consider lending for supervised display at the Homecoming Sixties dance to be held in the Pond Inlet on Saturday, November 3 at 9pm, please call ext.3251. Beatles buttons, saddle shoes, and Mickey Mouse ears...come out of those closets!

Swim honors

Brock University has been selected for the Canada Games swimming trials to be held July 12, 13 and 14 to determine the Ontario team to compete in St. John, New Brunswick, August 20-24. In addition to this honor, Brock has also been selected to be the training camp for the 24 swimmers selected to represent Ontario. The team will train here from August 6-18, and will provide a great opportunity for the University community to see some of Ontario's best swimmers hone their skills for the Games.

Help out

The Scott Mission in Toronto badly needs used clothing, household articles, toys etc. for distribution to the poor who come to them for help. Clean out your closets and see what you can do to help out. A large delivery to the Mission is planned for Saturday, November 17. If you have any articles to donate, please contact C.Vancko, ext.3226.

Make a pint of donating

There are people who require blood transfusions to live; you have the power to help. Attend the Blood Donor Clinic at the Legion Hall, 111 Church Street, on Nov.6.

Blood is life, pass it on!

War? Peace?

Brock Campus Ministries invites members of the campus community to reflect on the significance of Remembrance Day. On Wednesday, November 7, two one-hour films of the N.F.B. series "War", with international affairs journalist and military historian Gwynne Dyer will be shown: "The Road to Total War" at 10:30am and 12:30am and "Goodbye War" at 11:30am and 1:30pm. "Goodbye War" will also be shown during the International Students' meeting on November 8. The Ecumenical service on November 8 at 12:30pm, and the Catholic Mass on November 11 at 6:30pm will both deal with the theme of Remembrance Day and will both be held in the Alumni Lounge.

Frantic?

The Frantics of Toronto nightclubs and CBC Radio fame will kick off the Brock centre for the Arts comic series on Friday, November 9 at 8pm in The Theatre. Lloyd and Monty Boyd, Mr. Canoehead and Professor Wallaby Goldfarb are guaranteed giggles. Individual tickets are $10 for adults and $8 for students and senior citizens, and series tickets are available for $24 for adults and $18 for students and senior citizens. Tickets may be purchased at the Box Office or by phoning 688-5475, 688-5476 or exts.3257, 3338.

The "Just So Stories"

Why is the rhino's skin wrinkled? It's just so. Rudyard Kipling's popular stories designed to answer the age old questions of children will be performed at Brock by the Mermaid Theatre company on Saturday, November 9 at 2pm, as part of the Brock Centre for the Arts children's series. Tickets are available at the Box Office

Where's Canada?

A last minute reminder: Members of the Department of Fine Arts are participating in a colloquium on the arts and media in Canada on Thursday, November 1, from 7pm-10pm at the Pond Inlet. The colloquium will emphasize the making and meaning of popular and traditional arts in Canada. "Where's Canada" is open to the public as well as to the Brock community. There is no admission charge; a cash bar is available.

Our united efforts

The Brock United Way campaign is all but over, although a few donations are still trickling in. Our total is now $19,101.20, which surpasses our objective of $18,950. Many thanks to all those who contributed and especially to those who canvassed.

Administrative Studies Speaker

"No company can be a great company unless it becomes a leader in technology" says Frank Stronach, the next speaker in the Administrative Studies "Excellence in the Eighties" speaker series. Mr. Stronach, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Magna International Incorporated, will speak at 7:30pm, in the Playhouse on Tuesday, November 13. The public is welcome; admission is free.

Child Studies Speaker Series

The second guest in the Child Studies Speaker Series will speak at Brock on Friday, November 9. Dr. Susan Goldberg, of the Hospital for Sick Children and the University of Toronto, will speak on "Growing up in the Nuclear Age: A survey of student hopes and worries". The presentation will take place in TH246 from 11:30 to 12:30 am.

Homecoming lineup

Don't miss the official opening of the Alumni Greenhouse on Saturday, November 3 at 11am, part of the 1984 Homecoming festivities. Take a tour, sip some wine and take home a little plant as a souvenir. If you'd prefer some early morning exercise, participate in one of the two Alumni fun-runs, also at 11am. Later on, volley a ball in the tournament in the gym and still later dance to your favorite oldies at the Sixties dance in the Pond Inlet. Feel free to join in the Homecoming fun.

8 November, 1984

We made it!

The Alumni Greenhouse fund reached its $100,000 goal just in time for the official opening on Homecoming weekend. Alumni, students, staff and faculty were on hand for the opening of the Greenhouse as well as for the many other homecoming festivities. The final event of the weekend was the annual meeting of the Alumni Association at which the following members of the Alumni Board of Directors were elected: President, Geoff Borland; Vice President, Charlotte Sutcliffe; Secretary Treasurer, Roslyn Kocot; Chairman Fundraising, Pat Smolak; Chairman Homecoming, Rob Thistle; Chairman Long-Range Planning, Don Rickers; Chairman of the Board, Ed Godden.

Checkpoint Charlie

Ninety people were on hand last Wednesday for a luncheon reception in the Alumni Lounge to honor Melva Denholm (alias Checkpoint Charlie) who has retired after seventeen years in the University Library.

Box Office swamped

Tickets for the Royal Winnipeg Ballet couldn't be had for love nor money on Halloween night. The performance opened up for single ticket sales on Wednesday, October 24 at 10am and by noon that day the house was completely sold out. The wise dance-lover will book early for the next two offerings in the Brock Centre for the Arts Dance series: The Danny Grossman Dance Company on February 16, at 8pm and the Ballet Eddy Toussaint de Montreal on March 8 at 8pm. Some good tickets are still available for these two evenings of dance. For more information, contact the Brock Centre for the Arts, ext.3216.

A Brock first

On November 17, approximately 25 mentally handicapped adults from the St.Catharines area will be coming to the Physical Education complex to spend a 12 hour day receiving instruction in activities based on the participants' suggestions and on those suggested by community activity consultants.

This project is under the direction of Prof.J.Evans, assisted by Ms. 'Charlie' Johnson, an honors student in Adapted Programs in the School of Physical Education and Recreation. Instructors for the day will be ten third-year physical education students who have chosen this project as their field experience in PHED 304 - Physical Education for the Exceptional Individual.

In addition to instruction in soccer, dance, orienteering and fitness, participants will see and be involved in break dancing, water games, and will silk screen their own Brock T-shirt. The day will close with a dinner in Brock's airport lounge funded by the participants and Arc Industries.

Propaganda?

A selection of Propaganda maps produced by students in GEOG.302, a third-year cartography course, is on display in the University Map Library (Room C306, Mackenzie Chown complex). They include the map by Paul Trietz, depicting the effect on the Niagara Peninsula of nuclear strikes on Buffalo and Niagara Falls, that came second in the Canadian Cartographic Association's President's Prize competition.

Showing their fibre

Velta Vilsons, Aito Suzuki, Frauke Voss, Laura Biscotto and Hey Frey will all have paper and fibre art works displayed at Brock in The Gallery from November 13 to December 10. These artists have had their works displayed in such places as Expo's habitat, the Royal Ontario Museum, the Harbourfront Art Gallery, the O'Keefe Centre, and the St.Lawrence Centre. Don't miss this facinating display, presented by the Brock Fine Arts Committee. Gallery hours are 10am-4pm, (closed during performances in The Theatre).

Inexpert systems

On Friday, November 16 at 12:30pm in the Alumni Lounge, Patrick J. Hayes, Luce Professor of Cognitive Science, University of Rochester, will speak on "Inexpert systems: Cognitive Science and Technology".

Keeping us on the run

Wednesday, November 14, is the deadline for entries for the Alphonie's Trough fun run to be held on Saturday, November 17.

Get your $7 in now and avoid the $8 late entry fee.

After your spritely sprint over the finish line, wind down at the post race party at Alphonie's. On your marks, get set...go sign up!

Growing up in the Nuclear Age

Dr. Susan Goldberg of the Hospital for Sick Children and the University of Toronto will be the second guest speaker in the Child Studies Speaker Series. Dr. Goldberg will speak on the topic of "Growing up in the Nuclear Age: A survey of student hopes and worries", at 11:30am, on Friday, November 9 in Th246.

Gypsies

Professor A.L.Basham, the noted Indologist, now a visiting professor at the University of Toronto, will speak on "Gypsies: their origin and place in history", on Thursday, November 8 at 3pm in the Alumni Lounge. All are welcome to attend. The lecture, accompanied by slides has been arranged by the Asian Studies program.

Ten lost years

Barry Broadfoot's highly acclaimed book about the Great Depression is now a heart-stirring play, originally produced by Toronto Workshop productions in 1974. Now, "Ten Lost Years", comes to Brock in the Studio on November 15, 16 and 17 at 8pm. The audience will be surrounded by original music created for the play by Perth County Conspiracy, will wave to the hungry men journeying towards employment and self-respect as the women-folk keep the home fires burning. Advance reservations are recommended to avoid depression-like lineups. General admission is $2. "Ten Lost Years" is a production of the first year Theatre course in Fine Arts.

When the employee grows...

...the company grows, according to Frank Stronach, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Magna International Inc. Mr. Stronach will speak at Brock on Tuesday, November 13 at 7:30pm in The Playhouse, as part of the Administrative Studies Speaker Series.

The Canadian identity

All interested members of the faculty are invited to attend a lecture to be given by Professor J.A. Gibson on "The Constitution and the Canadian Identity" on Thursday, November 15 at 4:30pm in the Alumni Lounge. This is the first of the Social Science Lecture Series presentations.

Tools for peace

"Tools to heal, tools to build, tools to make music, tools to build a better tomorrow".

On Wednesday, November 14 at 7pm in the Board Room, Brock Campus Ministries will sponsor a slide presentation concerning a project to support the reconstruction of the wartorn society of Nicaragua. "Tools for peace" is a practical project for material aid for Nicaraguans and an educational activity for us to understand their hope for a better tomorrow.

Kipling at Brock

Find a special small someone and give yourself an excuse to come out to see the Mermaid Theatre's production of Rudyard Kipling's famous Just So Stories on Saturday, November 10 at 2pm in The Theatre. Find out how the elephant got its trunk and how the camel got its hump. Tickets are available at the Box Office at $6 for adults and $4 for children and senior citizens.

Sculpture in slides

David Bobier, sculptor, will give a slide lecture on his own work and development as an artist on Friday, November 9 at 7pm in the Alumni Lounge. Mr. Bobier's recent work deals with the integration of nature's components and with the artificial world of human inventions, systems and devices. The slide lecture is part of the Brock Fine Art's department's Visiting Artists Lecture Series.

Always remember

The services of worship this week, to be led by the Campus Ministries team, will focus on the theme of Remembrance Day. The Ecumenical service will be held at 12:30pm on Thursday and the Roman Catholic Mass, on Sunday at 6:30pm.

Keep up the good work

The response to the plea for items for the Scott Mission has so far been terrific. Let's fill the van before it makes its delivery on November 17. If you have any used clothing, household articles, toys etc. to donate to the Mission for distribution to the poor, please contact Carol Vanecko, ext.3226.

Frantically funny

We all need a laugh now and then. Why not now? The Frantics are coming to Brock on Friday, November 9 at 8pm to perform in The Theatre. The collection of manic characters, hilarious sketches and extraordinary songs is bound to amuse. Individual tickets are $10 for adults and $8 for students and senior citizens, but series tickets are also available for $24 for adults and $18 for students and senior citizens. This comedy series, opened by the Frantics performance is presented by the Brock Centre for the Arts.

Shape of Things to Come

Prof. Barry Grant will introduce the second film in the Cinema of the Fantastic Series on November 9 at 9pm at the Niagara Artists' Centre, 26 Queen St. The film "Shape of Things to Come" is a joint presentation of the Niagara Artists' Centre and the Brock Department of Fine Arts. Admission is $1; members are free.

Ta da!

Campus News will never be the same again! All things change and so do we. We thought the news would look newsier on new paper so....

Northrop Frye to speak

Canada's most eminent literary critic, Northrop Frye will speak at Brock, Thursday, November 29, 1984 at 8pm in The Theatre. Professor Frye's lecture "The Authority of Literature", is part of a series sponsored by Imperial Oil of Canada and Brock's School of Administrative Studies. The public is welcome to attend this free presentation.

Better borrowing

Under a recently established reciprocal borrowing agreement, Brock undergraduates may borrow material in person from the libraries of the following Ontario universities: Guelph, Waterloo, Western, Wilfred Laurier and York. When applying for borrowing privileges, a valid Brock ID must be presented; depending on the policies of the library visited, a local lending card may be issued. Students who use this service are bound by the regulations of the library from which they borrow and should therefore, familiarize themselves with applicable regulations.

Graduate students, faculty and staff may borrow in person under this reciprocal agreement. They are reminded that they can also borrow in person from other Ontario and Quebec universities but must obtain in advance of their visit, an Inter-University Borrowing Project (IUBP) card from the Circulation department at Brock (Bob Rossini, ext.3727).

ISEP

The International Student Exchange program could provide a unique educational experience for a special student. Students nominated by Brock University for the exchange would have the opportunity to study in an American university for one year. They would be responsible only for those fees and expenses they would normally incur at Brock and the U.S. host university would be responsible for any discrepancy. The only additional expense the student would have to meet would be travel and miscellaneous expense money.

There will be an informational meeting held on Thursday, November 22 from 11:30am-12:30pm in room ST409, at which Dean Soroka and Vice-President Matheson will be on hand to answer any questions. All interested students are encouraged to attend. In addition, ISEP directories, containing information about the program, are available on reserve in the Library and in the Dean's office, room 300A of Schmon Tower.

A rebirth of interest in literacy

The North Central conference of the Renaissance Society of America met at Brock on Homecoming weekend. The subject of the conference was literacy and illiteracy in the Renaissance. Participants came from as far as Edmonton and New York city.

Clara Hollosi, of the Department of Germanic and Slavic languages, gave a paper on "The Renaissance library of King Matthias of Hungary" and Profs. J. McEwen and H. Schutz, both chaired sessions. The conference was organized by Prof. G. Coggins with the assistance of Sylvia Osterbind, Profs. A. Arthur, B. Bucknell and Mrs. Shirley Welstead, and was supported by a grant of $2,800 from the SSHRC.

TESL Niagara newsletter

A limited number of copies of the latest TESL Niagara newsletter are available for anyone on campus interested in keeping up with local TESL events. The newsletter contains articles on L₂ pedagogy and on linguistics, as well as an interview with sociolinguist Paul Garvin and a practical article on teaching French as a second language to children. For a copy, contact co-editors J. Kooistra or J. Sivell, ext. 3374, Centre for English Language Programs.

Marg Boyle

The print shop will be losing a friendly, familiar face when Marg Boyle retires next month. A retirement party is to be held in her honor on December 13, in the Pond Inlet. Cocktails will be served at 6:30pm, and dinner, at 7pm. Tickets are available from Marg Murdough 3282, or Pat Buckland, 3276 or Jenny Gurski at 3320.

Checking us out

During the month of October, 125,385 exits from the Library were recorded. This figure represents a 44 percent increase over that of October 1983 and is the highest monthly total ever. The highest figure previously recorded was 110,363 in March of this year.

Parlez vous?

Anyone interested in improving his French conversational skills is invited to join a group meeting Wednesdays at the St. Catharines Public Library. For further information, please phone Carol Vanecko, ext. 3226.

Get ye to The Gallery

You have until December 10 to visit The Gallery and revel in the fine display of works in fibre and paper by five artists. The show, featuring the works of five well-known artists, opened Monday and is a presentation of the Brock Fine Arts committee.

The eye hears, the ear sees

The plastic sounds and images of animator Norman McLaren are the subject of an audio-visual presentation by Robert Pritchard and Joan Nicks, Department of Fine Arts on Tuesday, November 20, 1984 from 11:30am-12:30pm in The Studio. The talk-show format will include some demonstration of McLaren's animation practice.

Ethical perspectives

Professor Margaret Doxey of Trent University will speak on "Ethical Perspectives on International Sanctions", Friday, November 23, from 11:30am to 1pm in room A319.

Don't miss it

Don't miss the first year, Fine Arts theatre course production of "Ten Lost Years", based on the book by Barry Broadfoot in The Studio, November 15, 16 and 17 at 8pm. Relive and gain a new understanding of the Great Depression, through the intimate environment of a non-traditional theatrical experience. Advance reservations are recommended as space is limited due to seating arrangements. To avoid the depression of lining up, call the Box Office, ext.3257 or 3338.

Cognitive science

On Friday, November 16 at 12:30pm in the Alumni Lounge, Patrick J. Hayes, Luce Professor of Cognitive Science, University of Rochester, will speak on "Inexpert systems: Cognitive Science and Technology". Anyone interested is welcome to attend this lecture.

She stoops...

The Department of Fine Arts is pleased to present Oliver goldsmith's play "She Stoops to Conquer", the last mainstage senior production of Gregson Winkfield. For the past five years he has taught acting, directing, and playwriting at Brock; in 1985, he will leave to return to a professional career in the theatre. "She Stoops to Conquer" is the story of a young girl who tricks a modest young man into becoming a confident suitor and thus traps him into marriage. It is a delightful, humorous farce that has charmed audiences for two centuries.

For information and tickets (a steal at $3 per person), please call the Box Office, ext.3257 or 3338.

This is it

This Thursday afternoon at 4:30, Professor J.A.Gibson will speak on "The constitution and the Canadian identity" in the Alumni Lounge. Dr.Gibson's lecture is a part of the Social Science lecture series. All are welcome to attend.

SENATE

SENATE SYNOPSIS

At its 289th Meeting, held on Wednesday, November 7th,
Senate:

1. Heard a report from the President which included:
 - (a) a summary of October Student/Faculty Ratios for the past three years, along with a ten-year comparison. The Institutional SFR has increased to 20.7 (from 20.3 in 1983-84);
 - (b) an indication that the Bovey Commission was some two weeks behind schedule (which means the Commission's Report will not likely be made public until early in 1985);
 - (c) an announcement on 1984 promotions as follows:

To Associate Professor - A. Arthur, R. Chodzinski,
D. Hughes, E. Levanoni and J. Mitterer

To Assistant Professor - D. Siegel; and
 - (d) an evaluation of the proposed re-alignment of the OUAA and OWIAA.

2. Approved a series of amendments to the Faculty Handbook, proposed by the Rules Committee, such that:
 - (a) additional nominations for Faculty Representatives on the Board of Trustees must specify a term of office;
 - (b) meetings of the Committee on Petitions and Appeals shall not be open to members of the Brock community and only agendas for open meetings of Senate Committees will be posted on the Senate bulletin board;
 - (c) the position of Senate Reporter to the Students' Council was abolished and the Senate Reporter to Faculty Board will be named by the Faculty Board;
 - (d) the Sub-Committee on Extradepartmental Studies was abolished; and Why pour concrete?

You may have been wondering why workmen have been tearing up concrete blocks and replacing them with poured concrete. These blocks have shifted, over time, and have become a hazard to pedestrians. The government chose this job from a long list submitted by the University and has provided the funds to complete it.

Smoke gets in your eyes

The City Council of St. Catharines has received a recommendation from the Inter-agency Council on Smoking and Health that the City's by-law regulating smoking be amended to include areas to which the public has access, in the following establishments: retail shops, banks, financial institutions, hospitals, municipal offices, theatres and other places of public assembly. As well, that organization has recommended that smoking be regulated in reception areas, elevators, service lines and school buses. This proposal has been referred to various organizations in the city which could be effected, in order to obtain comments.

What do you think? If you wish to comment, please write to Rod Hollick, C.M.O., City Clerk, City Hall, Box 3012, St. Catharines, L2R 7C2, by December 3, 1984.

Get into the Christmas spirit

If you watch carefully from now until December 3, you may see Santa make an appearance in the Schmon Tower lobby. Every few days, well-known Brock personalities will don the red suit and beard to collect toys for a local charity drive. Bring a new or used, unwrapped toy and put it in the bin; give a child a Christmas.

Posting problems

We all want to put our message across, but please remember not to put it across windows, concrete walls or university signage. Posters belong on the bulletin boards, attached with tacks only, no staples and should be restricted to a few only - we don't want wallpaper. Any signs that are posted in restricted areas will be taken down immediately and will not be returned to the owner. Forewarned is forearmed.

Remember

The first notice of the Christmas holiday schedule was given very early, so a reminder may be in order. The holidays will begin on December 21 at 4:30pm and will end on January 2 at 8:30am. Now make your merry plans!

New women's cinema/new German cinema

The Departments of Fine Arts and Germanic and Slavic Studies are pleased to announce that special arrangements have been made with the Goethe Institute in Toronto and the German Embassy in Ottawa to bring six German films by women filmmakers to the Niagara region.

Here is a chance to see some of the best films by German women filmmakers which offer a fresh and lively look at life after the post-war economic "miracle" in West Germany.

The series opens November 22, at 8pm in The Studio with a showing of "The Cat has Nine Lives" followed by "Erika's Passion" and "Do the Right Thing" on December 6. On December 13, "A Totally Demoralized Girl" will be screened, followed on January 17 by "Years of Hunger in a Land of Plenty", on January 24 by "Sisters", and to conclude the series, "Malou" on January 31. Admission is free. For further information, call the Department of Fine Arts, ext.3553 or 3214.

A retirement party for Marg

A retirement party is to be held on December 13, in honor of a long-time print shop employee, Marg Boyle, who will soon be retiring. The party will take place in the Pond Inlet; cocktails will be served at 6:30pm and dinner at 7pm. Tickets are available from Marg Murdough 3282, Pat Buckland 3276, or Jenny Gurski at 3454.

Last Brock production for Winkfield

The Fine Arts department and all Brock theatre-lovers will be sorry to lose Greg-son Winkfield, who has been teaching acting, directing and playwriting at the University for the past five years. He will soon leave Brock to return to a professional career in the theatre. His last mainstage production will be "She Stoops to Conquer", a charming farce dealing with the universal topics of courtship and marriage. The play will run from November 22-24 in The Theatre and performances will be at 8pm each evening. Tickets are only $3 and are available at the Box Office, ext.3257 or 3338.

Cognitive Science

The Brock Cognitive Science group will begin to meet regularly after Christmas. As a first project, the group proposes to work through the arguments given in Zenon Pylyshyn's book Computation and Cognition, which concerns the foundations of Cognitive Science. This should prepare the group for his visit to Brock next May. For more information, contact John Mitterer, ext.3467.

Brock WUSC to meet

The Brock committee of World University Service of Canada invites any interested individuals or groups to attend a meeting to discuss a co-ordinated university-wide effort to raise funds in support of Ethiopian famine relief. The meeting will take place in the Deans' Meeting Room, A302 at 11:30am on Thursday, November 22.

Student to direct Brock show

Paul Stontz is a fourth-year theatre student who last year directed "What the Cat Saw" for the Spring Arts Festival, "My Foot/My Tutor" for the Fringe Theatre Festival, was the assistant director for

"Waiting for the Parade", and is currently assistant director for this year's main-stage production of "She Stoops to Conquer". Paul's next production will be "The Maids" a play revolving around the swapping of identities between two maids who maliciously dream of killing their seemingly cruel mistress. "The Maids" will be performed for one night only, December 1, 1984 at 7pm and 9:30pm. Admission is $1. For further information, contact the Department of Fine Arts, ext.3553.

Motor behavior

The School of Physical Education and Recreation is pleased to announce the forthcoming visit of Dr.G.E.Stelmach, Director of the Motor Behavior Laboratory at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, on November 30, 1984. Dr. Stelmach, an internationally known scholar in the field of motor control, will address third and fourth year students on major issues and trends in motor learning and motor control. A faculty colloquium entitled "Implications and perspectives of generalized ability in motor performance" will be held from 1pm to 2:30pm in the Senate Chambers. All interested faculty are welcome to attend and may call Prof.P.Laurence, ext.3713.

Senate meetings rescheduled

Due to a lack of agenda items, the Senate meeting scheduled for Wednesday, November 21 has been cancelled. The Senate meetings for the remainder of 1984 will be as follows: Wednesday, December 5 at 3:30pm and Wednesday, December 19, at 10am.

Frye at Brock

Canada's most eminent literary critic, Northrop Frye will speak at Brock, Thursday, November 29, 1984 at 8pm in The Theatre. Professor Frye's lecture "The Authority of Literature", is part of a series sponsored by Imperial Oil of Canada and Brock's School of Administrative Studies. The public is welcome to attend this free presentation.

Print now, not later

The Print Shop will be closed for the printing of examinations, December 4, 5 and 6.

Computer Tutors

Dr.John Anderson of Carnegie-Mellon University will present two lectures at Brock in the coming month. At 7pm on December 6, Dr.Anderson will speak on "Cognitive principles in the design of computer tutors", in Th.244. The lecture will be followed by an informal discussion in the Mezzanine from 8:15-9:30pm. On December 7, at 12:30pm, Dr.Anderson will speak on "Intelligent tutors for LISP and geometry" in Th.243. These lectures are part of the Brock University Cognitive Science Series, sponsored by a grant in aid of small universities from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. Lunch hour screenings

The next two offerings in the Noon Hour Film series will be "Universe 1960" a visual trip into the galaxies, inspired by the special effects in Kubrick's "2001: A Space Odyssey", and "In the Labyrinth 1979". Created by the renowned Unit B for Expo '67 as a multi-screen presentation, this film is said to reinvent the art in documentary filmmaking. Both films, presented by the Brock Department of Fine Arts, will be shown in the Studio at

Ten year celebration

A number of Brock employees are celebrating their tenth year with the University: K.McBride (Housing); C.Barr (Politics); M.Balsom (Computing Centre); S.Booth (Registrar's Office); I.Brindle (Chemistry); J.Chalcraft (Economics); R.Climenhaga (Finance); J.Coote (College of Education); R.Crane (College of Education); M.Dickman (Biology); F.Fairbairn (Registrar's Office); N.Fuller (Biology); J.Hastie (Chemistry); S.Haynes (Geology); T.Jones (Chemistry); S.Kamady (Language Laboratory); Ron McGraw (Registrar and Dean of Students); C.Paskey (Personnel); D.Rupp (Classics); A.Sawchuck (Physical Education); D.Scott (Media Centre); S.Segalowitz (Psychology); P.Sewell (Politics); D.Sinha (Philosophy); O.Slachta (Geography); S.Slade (English); A.Sommerville (English); D.Thorne (Centre for the Arts); L.Vincent (Library); K.White (Stores); L.Baccaro (Custodial Services); R.Gigliotti (Custodial Services); O.Krugel (Custodial Services). In addition, Dr.Earp is marking the tenth year of his presidency. A luncheon was given in honor of these employees on Thursday, November 22. Congratulations to all.

Trespassing charges

Three Brock students charged with failing to leave the lobby when requested to do so appeared in provincial court on Monday, November 19. Also present were members of the University's administration, faculty and student body, many of whom were to testify as witnesses. A long discussion of the manner in which the evidence was to be heard held up the proceedings and the case has been remanded to January 15, 1985.

Phone lines instead of long lines?

Brigham Young University and Georgia State University may have found a solution to the problems of registration day lineups and congestion. The two universities are using a registration-by-telephone system that links pushbutton phones to computers. It is expected that the phone registration system will not only make life more pleasant for all involved, but may also boost enrolment, particularly among part-time and non-credit students.

Music hath charms

The Department of Fine Arts, Music Division, has a spectacular Christmas gift for the University community - a series of Christmas choral concerts. The first will be held in The Theatre on Tuesday, December 4 at 11:30am and will consist of old and modern carols, Christmas motets and Vaughan Williams' Fantasia on Christmas Carols. The program will be performed by the Brock Chamber Choir, featuring soloist John Nickel, baritone. The Concordian Lutheran Seminary chapel will be the scene of the second program on Thursday, December 6 at 12:25pm, this time featuring Chris Teeuwesen, organ. The selections will include 16th century motets, modern carols and four chorales with chorale preludes from Bach's Orgelbuchlein. The final performance will take place in the Ridley College chapel on December 7 at 8pm. Old and modern carols, Christmas motets and Vaughan Williams' Fantasia on Christmas Carols will all be a part of the evening's entertainment. John Nickel will be the soloist and Peter Orme will play the organ. Admission is free to all performances.

Study a bit longer

University Library opening hours will be extended on Fridays and Saturdays in December in order to assist students studying for examinations and completing term papers. The revised hours are as follows: Fridays (Dec.7, 14, 21) - 8:30am-11:15pm, Saturdays (Dec.8, 15) - 9am-9pm, and Saturday, Dec.22 - 9am - 7:15pm.

B.U.F.A.

A Brock University Faculty Association meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 4, at 11:30am in the Alumni Lounge.

C.U.P.E.

The C.U.P.E. Christmas dance and dinner will be held this year at the Canadian Legion on Church St. on December 15. Dinner is at 6:30pm followed by dancing to the Stu Black Music Makers beginning at 9pm. All Brock staff are welcome to attend and may purchase tickets from the following members of our cleaning staff: Marjorie Fitzgerald in the Tower; Ian Dunn in the Central Utilities building; Mary Berges, Mackenzie Chown complex, Lillian Scot in the Phys.Ed. complex and Jean Ray in the DeCew residence. Please get your tickets before November 30, 1984.

David Fennario

Playwright David Fenario will read from his works on Tuesday, December 4 at 7pm in the Airport Lounge. This event is co-sponsored by the Department of Fine Arts and the Playwrights Union of Canada and is made possible by a grant from the Canada Council. Admission is free.

Before and after

The Brock Centre for the Arts is pleased to announce that their patrons can now take advantage of before and after theatre specials at the Keg Restaurant. By presenting their Brock Centre for the Arts ticket on the evening of a performance, the public will be entitled to a free appetizer or dessert with dinner before the show. A ticket stub presented after the performance will entitle a patron to the same special after the show. Make yours a complete evening on the town.

Library loan periods

Loan periods will be extended for books signed out from the University Library for the Christmas/New Year holiday. Stack books signed out from Friday, Dec.7 on, will be due back on Thursday, Jan.3, 1985. Reserve material signed out from Friday, Dec.7 on, will be due back on Thursday, January 3, 1985. Reserve material signed out on Friday, December 21 and Saturday, December 22 will be due back on Thursday, January 3, 1985. Non-circulating material such as journals and reference books/documents may be signed out from Friday, December 21, due back on Wednesday, January 2, 1985.

New theatre supervisor

The Brock Centre for the Arts is pleased to announce the appointment of Debbie Thorne as Theatre Supervisor for the Arts Centre. Debbie will be replacing Robert Monteith who leaves Brock to become the Assistant Manager for the University of Waterloo Arts Centre. The new appointment will take effect December 3, 1984.

Anne of Green Gables

Garden City Production's Christmas show this season will be "Anne of Green Gables", based on the novel by Lucy Maude Montgomery. Directed and choreographed by Alan Lund, this musical offers entertainment for adults and children alike. The play will run from December 6-15 at the Playhouse; tickets are available from the Box Office at 85 Church Street from 9am-4pm, Monday-Friday. Phone 682-1353 and ask about special senior citizen and student rates on selected performances and matinees. Group rates are also available.

DROUGHT IN AFRICA

The meeting, held on November 22nd, to coordinate university wide efforts in support of Ethiopian famine relief decided to channel all funds raised through WUSC and Oxfam. The choice of these two agencies is based on the following:

1. both agencies are respected
2. both agencies support not only relief but also long term development
3. Oxfam has field workers in the northern provinces of Ethiopia while WUSC has field workers in the southern provinces of that country.

You will have already seen tables set out at various places throughout the university aimed at raising spontaneous donations. We hope that faculty and staff, when reflecting on the deteriorating situation in North Africa, will be prepared to make more substantial contributions. Your cheque should be attached to one of the two forms at the bottom of this page. For further information, ideas, offer of help, etc. please contact anyone of the following:

Bill Hull, Politics
John Kaethler, Foreign Student Advisor
Eric Muller, Mathematics
Esther Sleep, Library

Thank you, Niagara Symphony Association

The Science Development Fund got a boost from the Niagara Symphony Association recently. President Earp received a letter thanking the University for the cooperation of our staff and for the use of the facilities in the College of Education gym for the annual Christmas craft show. Enclosed was a cheque for $200 in support of our Science Development Fund.

Candlelight

On Monday, December 10 and 17 at 12pm in The Gallery, Campus Ministries will hold special Advent candle lighting services. The focal point of the service is an Advent wreath whose circle of evergreen branches and candles bear a special symbolism for the Christmas season. The University community is invited to join in the services and share the joy of the season.

When does the food stop?

You'll need to know when your suppliers of Saga food are going to close down for the holidays. The Pond is the first to close on December 7, followed by the Tower stand, the Faculty and Staff Club and the Concession stand on December 14. The Tower Cafeteria will fade away on the 21, and the Decew residence cafeteria, on the 22nd. Nothing will reopen until January 2, when the Tower will come back to life. From January 2-4, however, the facility will only be open until 3pm each day. The rest of the food service facilities will reopen on January 7.

Need help?

Do your students need help in basic skill areas? If so, refer them to the Counseling Centre, Thistle 270, for the following Learning Skills programs to be offered in January 1985: general study skills, effective reading, writing skills, "Let's Trance"-for relaxation and memory techniques.

Researchers and where they are Often, it is difficult to obtain information about researchers and research in Canada. The University library now provides access to two Canadian online directories which can give the location of a researcher, check what research is being done in a particular field or give a quick list of publications by an individual.

CANREG is a directory of Canadian social science researchers; 35 names in this database are affiliated with Brock University. NRC PUBS provides information on all publications written by National Research Council of Canada staff and those written for the NRC.

Other online biographical dictionaries to which the Library has access are the Marquis Who's Who and American Men and Women of Science.

Contact Computer Search Service for more information, ext.3232.

Supplementary health care plan

Personnel wishes to remind faculty and staff that the supplementary health care plan (i.e. drugs, eyeglasses, etc.) covers only expenses which are incurred during the current and preceding calendar years. Receipts which are dated 1983 must, therefore, be submitted before the end of 1984 in order to be eligible for reimbursement.

We'll find them!

Because of internal reallocation of secretarial duties, there have been some changes in telephone numbers in the Registrar's Office. The following people can now be reached at these extensions:

Sheelagh Booth: 3441, 3744

Barry Joe: 3445, 3744

Michael Somerville: 3442, 3550

Plan ahead

Don't forget the meeting to be held on Thursday, December 13 at 4:30pm in the Alumni Lounge for members of the Brock University pension plan. The University's actuary and the money managers will be in attendance to review their roles and to respond to queries.

Be certain to forward your questions to Marlene Penner, 13th floor, in advance as such questions will be answered before those from the floor.

A Christmas treat for the children

The Brock Centre for the Arts has a wonderful treat in store for the children on Saturday, December 15 at 8pm in The Theatre. Sandra Beech will entertain children and adults alike with her special blend of effervescent personality and lively traditional folk songs. Tickets are available at the Box Office: $6 for adults and $4 for children and senior citizens.

Playing the Palace

"Reconstruction of an ancient palace: The North-West palace of Ashurnasirpal II (884-859 B.C.) at Nimrod Iraq", will be the subject of an AIA/Classics department lecture on Sunday, December 9 at 3pm in Thw245. Prof. Samuel Paley of the Department of Classics, SUNY Buffalo, will combine information from Assyrian relief sculpture and texts with archaeological evidence at the site of the palace.

A home away from home

That's what is needed for one female exchange student from Mexico. If you are interested, please call Prof.P.Sewell at 3587 for further information.

Longer loans

This a reminder that library loan periods will be extended over the Christmas holidays. Stack books signed out from Dec.7 on, will be due back on Jan.7; reserve material signed out on Dec.21 and 22 will be due back on Jan.3 and non-circulating material such as journals and reference books/documents will be due back Jan.2.

Get into the spirit

You can start the Christmas season off in the right frame of mind by taking advantage of a Christmas concert to be presented by the University Chamber Choir. You can hear the carols and adjust your holiday frame of mind on Thursday, December 6 at 12:15pm in the Chapel of the Concordia Lutheran Seminary.

Marg

Marg Boyle, a long-time employee of the Print Shop is taking an early retirement. A party for Marg will be held on Thursday, December 13 in the Pond Inlet; cocktails will be served at 6:30pm and dinner at 7pm. Tickets are still available from Marg Murdough 3282, Pat Buckland 3276 or Jenny Gurski 3454.

What's the policy?

Although the rules for inclusion of articles in Campus News have changed very little, it never hurts to remind people of just what they are. All entries must be typewritten as interpreting handwritten items can lead to errors in transcription. The limitations of space dictate that notices for Faculty and Staff notes should be for papers presented or workshops given, rather than for attendance. In future, no items of a commercial nature (e.g. advertisements for new products rather than used items) will be accepted. Should you have any questions about the eligibility of any articles, please phone Liz Fleming, ext.3247.

Faculty and Staff Notes

Administrative Studies

Prof.J.Edds recently presented a two-day seminar on "Accountability and control" to students in the Performing Arts Management Program at Confederation College of Applied Arts and Technology (Thunder Bay). This is a unique co-op program and attracts many students from outside Ontario.

College of Education

Prof.A.Mollica recently gave a workshop on strategies for expanding language across the curriculum to teachers of English as a Second Language at a Professional Development day sponsored by the Halton Board of Education. He was also a speaker at a Dufferin-Peel Roman Catholic Separate School Board Professional Development day. He spoke to elementary and secondary school teachers of French on activities to encourage communication skills in the French classroom.

Prof.Mollica and Prof.J.Boyd, faculty of Education, U. of Western Ontario, jointly presented a session on "The reading program and authentic materials: Stimuli for creative writing activities" at the annual conference of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) held recently in Chicago, Ill.

Fine Arts

Prof.M.Morrissey-Clayton's kimono etchings are currently on exhibit at the Art Gallery of Ontario. The works are part of Portfolio '83 by the Company of Artists and Patrons. After a two-month stay at the AGO the portfolios will tour Canada.

Prof.P.Feldman is the artistic co-ordinator of Theatre Poems, an evening of original works by four Toronto writer-performers, presented by The Theatre Centre at the Poor Alex Theatre, Bloor and Brunswick, Toronto, on Mon., Dec.10 at 8:30pm. This event is presented under the Centre's mandate (from various funding agencies) to present new Canadian work.

Prof.M.J.Miller has been awarded a Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council grant of $8,950 to pursue her research on Canadian television drama and to help prepare the manuscript for a book now in progress.

Sociology

Prof. D. Glenday presented a paper entitled "Canadian youth and physical activity: A review of the literature as it pertains to adolescence and young adults" at the Youth Marketing workshop sponsored by fitness Canada and the Canada Fitness Survey held recently in Ottawa. The workshop brought together representatives from the major marketing firms in Canada, academics and the Federal government in order to formulate a general strategy for the upcoming International Year of Youth (1985).

Urban and Environmental Studies

Profs. B. Krushelnicki and F. Berkes chaired sessions on "Acid rain" and "Natural resource management" respectively in the Environmental Challenges 1984 conference sponsored by Environment Canada, held recently.

Brock tops the list

A recent news release from the Ministry of Colleges and Education placed Brock at the top of the list for increased enrolment with a 10.38 per cent hike. Trent and Laurentian followed on our heels with increases of more than six per cent. Part-time undergraduate enrolment declined by .28 per cent across the system while full-time graduate enrolment rose by .42 per cent. Part-time graduate enrolment dropped by 1.15 per cent.

Canada Cup results

David Shemilt, a leading light on the Badgers swim team placed 4th in the 1500m, and 10th in the 400m races at the Canada Cup meet held Nov.30-Dec.2. Emile Morrisette won the consolation final in the 200m breaststroke.

Merry Christmas from our house...

On Tuesday, December 4, a group of Brock resident students from the DeCew and Shaver residences hiked across Glenridge Avenue to the Niagara Children's Centre to put on their annual Christmas show and to present to the school a gift of $200 raised in a residence raffle.

Better watch out

If you've been parking your car in K lot (directly behind DeCew residence) without a permit, your free parking days are numbered. Permits are being sold to students living in the residence in January. Beginning Feb.1, all cars without permits will be ticketed. Effective January 1, the Highway Traffic Act will be in use on campus. Although this will be bad news for those who speed, it should make our parking lots and roadways safer.

Task force

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council has recently set up a task force on technology and research communication. The objectives of the group are to provide advice on the use of new technology, the design and implementation of a new Research Communication Technology Innovation Program and the funding of proposals submitted for projects dealing with the application of new technology to research communication.

We're number one

Brock stands first in the Dec.1, Western Division of the Ontario Women's Intercollegiate athletic association basketball rankings. Good show Badgers!

I.U.T.S. takes a holiday

The Inter-University Transit System (IUTS) will be taking its usual Christmas break. The last pick-up date for IUTS mail is Wednesday, December 19. Should you wish to send anything by regular mail to Ontario and Quebec universities after this date, please make sure to use the full address and postal code.

Courting?

If you don't know the system, you could be disappointed when you try to book courts over the holiday season. From Dec.10 on, court booking times will be different from the usual halfhourly system:

Dec.10-22 - courts will be booked hourly from 9am-3pm. At 4pm, the bookings change to a forty-five minute system which lasts until the building closes at 10pm.

Regular hours apply on Saturdays and Sundays and the building closes at 5pm.

Dec.26-29 and Jan.2 - courts will be booked hourly from 11am-4pm.

Jan.3 - Courts will be booked hourly from 9am-3pm. The last two court times will be from 4-4:45pm and 4:45-5:30.

To be more exact

It has come to our attention that the gift given to the University by the Niagara Symphony Association recently came specifically from the Women's Committee. A special thanks to our benefactresses.

Have a nog

The President's annual eggnog party will be held in the Pond Inlet Refectory on Wednesday, Dec.19 from 3:30-5pm. All members of faculty and staff are invited and there will be an opportunity to contribute to African relief.

Live up to your resolutions

Chances are that one of the resolutions you'll make in the warm glow of New Year's Eve optimism will be to exercise more. Campus recreation can help you live up to your promises. Fitness classes will again be offered for all levels of participants, weekdays from 11:30-12:30pm in Gym 2, beginning Jan 14. General level classes will be held from 3:30-4:30pm in the Dance Studio, Mon./Wed./Fri.

Lessons in Raquetball, Squash, and Cross Country Skiing are available on Monday evenings at various times, beginning Jan.28.

For more information on times and prices of the programs offered, please contact Campus Recreation ext.3742.

Eddy will do it twice

The extraordinary popularity of the Ballet Eddy Toussaint de Montreal has prompted the Brock Centre for the Arts to make arrangements for an additional performance on Saturday, March 9, 1985 at 8pm in The Playhouse. Tickets for this performance and the Friday, March 8 performance may be purchased from the Box Office, ext.3257 or 3338.

Some stocking stuffer!

Buy a ticket and you could win a grand piano! For an inspired gift idea, give an aspiring Andre Gagnon or Louis Lorti a draw ticket for a 5'1" Kawai grand piano. Only 1000 tickets will be sold at $25 each. Tickets are available from the office of the Niagara Symphony Association, 685-7358. The draw will be held February 24, 1985.

An invitation from Campus Ministries

Campus Ministries is in the Christmas mood. Drop by their Open House on Sunday, December 16 from 2-5pm in the Campus Ministries office, 216 DeCew Residence, or attend the lighting of the Advent Wreath each Monday in December in The Gallery at 12pm. The Dean of Students and the Ministry is coordinating a cookie break for students studying in the library Dec.10-14 and 17-21 from 8-10pm. If you would like to donate some cookies, please contact the Campus Ministries office, ext.3373.

Thanks to all

To all those who gave so generously, the Scott Mission sends a special thank you and best wishes for the holiday season. Our Santa tells us the van was full to the top.

Swim times

If you feel like a dip over the holidays, come and use the University pool. It will be open until 8:30pm, Monday-Thursday, Dec.17-20 and until 4pm on Friday, Dec.21. After that the pool will be closed until Dec.26. From Dec.26-29 and Jan.2-6, adult swim times will be daily from 11am-1pm and the public fun swim will be from 1-4pm.

Toyland

It's not too late. You can still drop off your toy donations for the "Give a kid a Christmas" campaign in the Press office, on the 4th floor of the Schmon Tower. Get yourself into the Christmas spirit and make a child happy.

Home for the holidays

Most of our students will be heading for home once that last exam is written but not everyone is so lucky. For many of our foreign students, it is not possible to make a trip home for the holidays, and they face a lonely Christmas in a new country. If you have an extra place at your Christmas dinner table, please consider including a foreign student. For more information, contact J. Kaethler, Foreign Student Advisor, ext.3732.

All the joys of the season to you

This will be the last issue of Campus News for 1984. The first issue in January will be on the 9th, but we will get your calendars to you on the 3rd. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you and yours!
