ADMINISTRATIVE NOTICE

FIRE ALARMS

On January 2nd, the fire alarm system in the Brock Tower was activated by a smoke detector on the Third Floor. A thorough check of the building revealed that a small piece of Ten Test had become lodged against a heating coil in one of the large air supply ducts in the First Floor Mechanical Room and in smoldering, had produced sufficient smoke to set off the alarm. It was reassuring that our protective system was so sensitive as to detect such a relatively small volume of smoke in the particular building area.

It was also encouraging to note that occupants of the building heeded the fire alarm and proceeded to the nearest exit. Unfortunately, there was one disturbing factor: - a number of persons used the elevators to reach the ground floor!

In this instance, there was no electrical power failure at the time of the alarm, nor was there fire or smoke in the elevator shaft. However, the combination of any, or all, of these factors could very easily be encountered in a "full-scale" alarm. In such an event, the loss of electric power would result in all elevators coming to an immediate stop; consequently, persons in the elevators would be trapped and would be placed in an extremely dangerous situation.

In the interest of safety, the Physical Plant Department requests that all occupants of the Tower observe the rules which have been posted concerning building evacuation and to always use the stairways during a fire alarm.

INVITATION TO BROCK COMMUNITY

The Engineering Institute of Canada (Niagara Peninsula Branch) have extended an invitation to the members of the faculty administration, staff and students to attend the next meeting which is to be held in the auditorium of Sir Winston Churchill School at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 15, to hear Dr. D.T. REPORT ON THE 44th AND 45th MEETINGS OF SENATE

The two documents of the Brock University Faculty Association, "Report on Appointments, Promotions, and the Granting of Tenure" and "Procedure for the Protection of Tenure," will be forwarded to the Board of Governors carrying the approval of Senate.

Dealing with part-time students and the problem of compulsory full-time attendance in the final year of an Honours Programme (cf. Faculty Handbook 7.2.2. and 8.2.9), it was agreed that full-time attendance be only recommended in the final year of all undergraduate programmes.

Reports from the Academic Programme Committee dealing specifically with the calendar were considered at both meetings. Senate reconfirmed the decision it made in January 1968 that, as a general guideline for the purpose of course planning for 1969/70, a department shall not offer more than fifteen full courses in Years II, III and IV, unless it has a student enrolment of more than 300 in those years in 1968/69. All courses in the 190 range count as Year I courses for this purpose.

Due to the resignation of Professor Sprung, the composition of certain Senate committees has changed. The Provost is to be an ex officio member of all Senate committees and the Associate Dean is to be an ex officio member of all Senate committees with the effective date of appointment of a dean. Prof. E. Muller will be Chairman and Prof. R. Bismuth a member of the Awards Committee. The Assistant Registrar becomes a member of the Admissions Board, while Prof. M. Smith is a member of the Striking Committee. Prof. M. Sprung continues as the Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Asian Studies.

Senate has been concerned with the fact that students are requested to present reports in different styles, varying within and between departments. An attempt has been made, with only moderate success, to find a uniform manual of style. After much research on the part of Prof. Hull and Mr. Livermore, it was found that the most popular manuals were Robertson's ERROR IN COMPOSITION and A MANUAL OF WRITERS OF TERM PAPERS, THESES AND DISSERTATIONS by Turabian. These two manuals are now available in the bookstore.

After much discussion, Senate has rescinded the rule prohibiting repeating or conditioned students from participation in student affairs or extra-curricular activities.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Dr. James A. Gibson, president and vice-chancellor of Brock University, today announced the appointment of 4 additional members to the academic staff of the University.

Those appointments are:

Bruce A. Liberty, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., University of Toronto; to be Professor in Geological Sciences.

Leonard A. Rosmarin, B.A., M.A., McGill; Ph.D., Yale; to be Assistant Professor in French.

Michael R. Ross, B.Sc., University of Leeds, to be Assistant Professor in Geography, teaching Biogeography.

These appointments were approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors on January 14, 1969.

ADMINISTRATIVE NOTICES

ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

Personnel Assistant

Mr. Iain G. Armour has been appointed Personnel Assistant, reporting to Mr. R. F. Anderson, Director of Personnel Services. Mr. Armour will commence employment on January 20, 1969 and will be responsible initially for the recruitment of non-academic personnel.

Purchasing

Mr. R. Alan Pedler will commence employment on January 20, 1969 as Purchasing Agent, reporting to Mr. D. M. Edwards, Director of Administrative Services. Mr. Pedler replaces Mr. J. J. Kopak who resigned on December 31, 1968.

FIRE ALARMS

On January 2nd, the fire alarm system in the Brock Tower was activated by a smoke detector on the Third Floor. A thorough check of the building revealed that a small piece of Ten Test had become lodged against a heating coil in one of the large air supply ducts in the First Floor Mechanical Room and in smouldering, had produced sufficient smoke to set off the alarm. It was reassuring that our protective system was so sensitive as to detect such a relatively small volume of smoke in the particular building area.

It was also encouraging to note that occupants of the building heeded the fire alarm and proceeded to the nearest exit. Unfortunately, there was one disturbing factor: - a number of persons used the elevators to reach the ground floor!

In this instance, there was no electrical power failure at the time of the alarm, nor was there fire or smoke in the elevator shaft. However, the combination of any, or all, of these factors could very easily be encountered in a "full-scale" alarm. In such an event, the loss of electric power would result in all elevators coming to an immediate stop; consequently, persons in the elevators would be trapped and would be placed in an extremely dangerous situation.

In the interest of safety, the Physical Plant Department requests that all occupants of the Tower observe the rules which have been posted concerning building evacuation and to always use the stairways during a fire alarm.

STANDBY POWER AND ELEVATOR OPERATION

At the present time a standby electric power system is being installed at the Central Utilities Building to supply electric power, in the event of a complete electric power blackout, to essential services such as elevators, stairway and corridor lighting, pumps, etc.

During the past several days, the elevator suppliers have been carrying out modifications to permit the tie-in of the elevators to this standby system when it becomes available. Unfortunately, the relatively large amount of work involved in these modifications has necessitated shutdown of individual elevators during normal working hours and has resulted in considerable inconvenience to the occupants of the Tower.

In order to avoid further disruption of elevator services, it has been decided to defer work on this installation, and the Physical Plant Department has accordingly made arrangements with the installers to complete the modifications after the end of the spring term.

RECENT ACQUISITIONS IN THE LIBRARY

The first five volumes of The National Union Catalog of Pre-1956 Imprints have just been received by the Library. The Catalog is a cumulative author list representing Library of Congress printed cards and titles reported by other American Libraries. All works in the Catalog were printed, or in the case of manuscripts written, before 1956. Volumes of the Catalog are expected off the press at the rate of five per month and when complete, in ten years time, it will number over 600 volumes.

Another bibliographical tool recently received is the Library of Congress Catalog - Books- Subjects covering the years 1950-54. This subject catalog complements the L.C. author catalog; printed 1945 or later which have been catalogued or recatalogued during the 1950-54 period. This 20 volume set completes Brock's holdings of the subject catalog consisting of two quinquennial cumulations covering 1955-59, 1960-1964 continued by annual and quarterly supplements.

The British Museum's General Catalogue of Printed Books, completed in 263 volumes in 1966, covering material catalogued up to 1955, is now being brought up-to-date by the first in a projected series of 10 year supplements. This first supplement covers material added to the British Museum between 1956-1965. The Library has so far received 33 volumes of the supplement which will be complete in approximately 60 volumes by the end of this year.

Brock Campus News, Friday, January 24, 1969

The National Union Catalog of Pre-1956 Imprints and the British Museum 10 - year Supplement 1956-1965 are shelved in the bibliography bar on Floor 2; the Library of Congress Subject Catalog is shelved in the Cataloguing Department in Technical Services,

SYMPOSIUM ON THE MASS MEDIA

The Department of Politics and the History teachers of St. Catharines are jointly sponsoring a symposium on the mass media, Output- Output and the Mass Media, on Saturday, February 15, at Sir Winston Churchill High School. About 240 senior high school students and co-university students will be invited to participate in the day-long affair.

In the morning the documentary film on Mr. Trudeau, "The Man is the Style", will be shown, after which a panel of noted individuals will comment on the film, on the role of the media today and on their credibility and reliability. Questions will be invited from the floor after the panelists have spoken. After lunch, the small seminar groups will discuss particular problems, meet with the panelists personally and make recommendations to a final plenary session. The general public will be invited to the morning session.

The panelists include Mr. Douglas Fisher of the Toronto Telegram, Mr. Dalton Camp of W5, Mr. Joseph Scanlon, the School of Journalism, Carleton University, Mrs. Paul Fox, Movie and TV critic, Toronto, and Mr. Larry Smith, editor, The St. Catharines Standard. The names of other participants will be announced shortly.

Would you please draw the symposium to the attention of your class. Notices will appear shortly as to how Brock students may enroll.

POSTING OF NOTICES

Considerable numbers of notices, announcements and bulletins are being attached to glass partitions, windows and various painted and vinyl covered surfaces. This practice not only results in a very untidy appearance throughout the buildings, but also in damage. Particular concern is shown for the Glenridge Campus corridor walls which have now been treated with a special fire-resistant material that is repairable only at considerable expense.

The Physical Plant Department requests the co-operation of all concerned in confining the attachment of notices, announcements and bulletins to bulletin boards provided for this purpose at both the DeCew and Glenridge Campuses.

USE OF STAIRWAYS - BROCK TOWER

Effective January 24, Stairway No. 2 (the west stairway in the building core) will be open from the Second to the Thirteenth Floor, with the exception that entrance to, or exit from, any one of floors Five, Six or Seven will be restricted. For Library control purposes, individual alarms have been placed on the doors leading into the stairwell at these floors.

Stairway No, 1 (east side) will remain unchanged. Traffic can thus flow between Floors Five, Six and Seven in this stairway but will be restricted out of this Library area except for emergency purposes. It is expected this will ease the loading problem on the elevators.

REPORT ON FORTY-SIXTH MEETING OF SENATE

Senate has approved, in principle, the opening of its meetings to members of Brock University. The Senate Committee on Rules will make recommendations on procedures involved in opening the meetings and will provide a mechanism which will permit Senate to discuss issues in camera.

In future, only those mature students (as defined in section 1.4.5. It was the policy at Brock to make all mature students write these tests.

At the same time Senate heard a report on the field trip to Trinidad and Tobago which has been organized by Dr. Lewis. DR. GIBSON ANNOUNCES PERSONNEL OF CAMPUS DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

Dr. James A. Gibson, President and Vice-Chancellor of Brock University, announced the personnel of the president's campus development committee to the Board of Governors at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The committee consists of the director of planning as chairman, one member of the board of governors, 3 members of the faculty and 2 students.

The personnel of the committee consists of Professor J.W. Wilson, director of planning as chairman, D. Whiting Lathrop of Fonthill as the board's representative. Mr. Lathrop is currently chairman of the board's building and salary policy committees. The faculty representatives are Professor Michael Hornyansky, chairman of the Department of English, Professor C.A. Flint, chairman of the Department of Physics and Miss Roberta M Styran, lecturer in the Department of History. The student representatives are Tom G. Scott, a first year student residing in Fonthill and Peter Kocis, also a first year student residing in St. Catharines. Dr. Gibson will be an ex-officio member of the committee.

The establishment of a task force for this purpose was first suggested by Dr. Gibson to a meeting of the student union on November 26. On this occasion the president was reporting to the student union regarding the presentation of the university's operating and capital estimates for the next 5 year period to the committee on university affairs the day before. Brock University's delegation in Toronto consisted of board, senate, faculty, administrative and student representatives .

Critical statements of the chairman of the board, E.R. Davey of Niagara Falls and Dr. Gibson were made by the student representatives accompanying the delegation to Toronto on this occasion and again on December 5 when a number of resolutions pertinent to these matters were passed by the student union.

Subsequently the executive committee of the board of governors endorsed the establishment of such a committee by the president at a meeting on January 14. Dr. Gibson formally announced its establishment as the campus development committee in a speech to the St. Catharines Rotary Club at noon January 23.

The terms of reference of this president's committee are as follows:

- 1) to formulate a building program for the next seven years;
- 2) to formulate a plan for the physical development of the campus involving the buildings foreseen in the seven year program and beyond;
- 3) to recommend priorities and a staging program for the provision of facilities in step with academic need and probably financial resources;
- 4) to report on management and/or contractual means by which the building program can best be carried out; 5) to report on any matters pertinent to the above program.

The committee is intended to be a working committee having the authority to retain consultants, to consult all interested parties using the established mechanisms of the building committee of the board, senate committee, users' committee, department chairmen, administrative staff and B. U. S. A.

When completed the committee's report will be made available to faculty and students so that their comments may be available to the president before Dr. Gibson makes his recommendations to the board.

FINANCIAL AID FOR BROCK STUDENTS AWARDS PROGRAM

Dr. James A. Gibson, President and Vice-Chancellor of Brock University, reported to the Board of Governors at its regular meeting last night that 563 students or 48.1 per cent of the students enrolled have received financial assistance in the form of loan or loan and grant on the basis of need under the Ontario Student Awards Plan.

A total of $501, 860 has been awarded made up of $276, 500 in loans guaranteed by the federal government on which the students must commence repayment with interest 6 months after they cease to be full-time students. The grants totalling $225, 600 are provided from provincial funds through the Department of University Affairs and are not repayable.

The average loan was $490 and the average grant was $410. The awards ranged from a low of $60 to a high of $2020. Under the awards guidelines the first $150 must be loan, and 14 students had awards of that amount or less thus qualifying for a loan only, while the remaining 549 students qualified for loan and grant.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY UNIVERSITY GOVERNMENT

Brock University Board of Governors at its regular meeting established a committee to study in depth university government at the institution.

The Committee will be composed of two members of the board of governors selected by the board, two members of the faculty selected by the faculty, two members of the student body selected by the students and the president ex-officio.

Dr. Gibson will convene the first meeting of the committee when the representatives have been selected.

The first responsibilities of the committee will be to select a chairman and finalize the terms of reference which are already in draft form.

The board of governors has had a university government committee which has met periodically since June 1967 and its main function has been to keep informed on developments along these lines at other universities, particularly those in Ontario.

A committee of senate examined and produced a document on the Duff/Berdahl Report which is now in the hands of the board of governors.

The student union at a meeting on 5th December passed resolutions requesting student representation with full membership privileges on all policy -making committees at Brock University.

Yale's first choral group was founded in 1812 to sing in the college chapel. This was followed by the founding of the Yale Glee Club in 1863. As the organization's fame spread additional singing groups were formed, among them the Apollo Glee Club, which is now the sophomore organization.

Since 1965 the Apollo Glee Club has been touring the Northeastern United States and Southern Ontario during the spring recess. This year is the first time the Yale choristers have been joined by Chorus of the Connecticut College for Women. The total group numbers 70 singers, 35 from each college. In Canada they are appearing at York University and at St. Catharines under the sponsorship of Brock University.

The concert program is arranged in four parts. To open, the combined choruses will sing The Peaceable Kingdom under the direction of James Armstrong. The Yale Apollo Club will then sing a selection with Richard Anderson conducting. This will include Glorious Apollo, Tobacco Weed, Sarah the Whale, Kalinka, Ride the Chariot and Eli Yale.

The Connecticut College Chorus will take the stage to sing O Sing Unto the Lord, Ave Maria, Black is the Colour of My True Love's Hair, Every Time I Feel the Spirit. The choruses will then combine to sing Un Cygne, Chevaliers de la Table Ronde, and Russian Picnic.

BROCK TO HOST WORKSHOP ON EAST-WEST PHILOSOPHY

Brock will be host to 16 authorities on Eastern philosophies who will meet at Port Colborne April 24 to 27 for a workshop program of the Society for Asian and Comparative Philosophy.

The East-West Philosophy Workshop, organized by Prof. G. M. C. Sprung, will bring philosophy department faculty from nine North American universities including Prof. T. R. V. Murti, who is a world authority on Buddhist and Hindu philosophies.

Chairman of the Philosophy Department, Prof. Sprung believes the four-day sessions will advance Western appreciation of the Eastern philosophies which have influenced a large part of the world's population for much of man's recorded history. "Prof. Murti is possibly the leading authority on the relationships of Buddhism and Hinduism to world thought and we have built the program around him," Prof. Sprung said.

The Society for Asian and Comparative Philosophy was founded at Philadelphia just a year ago by about fifty university faculty members from a dozen universities. The membership has doubled in a year and Brock took the initiative to arrange a full scale workshop program because, says Dr. Sprung, "this is the first time in history that the climate has been right for an East-West philosophical exchange and we must do everything possible to foster it. The workshop is a step toward this.

"The sessions will bring together a small number of scholars working in Asian and Western philosophy for the purpose of deepening understanding of certain common philosophical problems," Prof. Sprung said. "The theme will be the arguments given in Buddhism and Hinduism for a belief in a truth which is other than scientific or rational truth." The workshop sessions will be held at Rathfon Inn, Port Colborne.

Participants will include: Prof. Karl H. Potter of University of Minnesota and president of the Society for Asian and Comparative Philosophy; Mr. Elvin Jones of the University of Wisconsin; Prof. Fred Streng of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas; George Burch of Tufts University, Boston; Assistant-Prof. Richard Brooks of Oakland University, Rochester, Mich.; Prof. Dale Riepe of New York State University at Buffalo; Prof. Herbert V. Guenther of University of Saskatchewan; Professors John G. Arapura and Paul Younger of McMaster University; Prof. Anthony K. Warder, Chairman of University of Toronto's Department of East Asian Studies and Associate Professor B. K. Matilal and Mr. C. D. Priestley of his department; Prof. Shotaro Iida, University of British Columbia; Professors Sprung, Murti, Associate Dean John R. Mayer and D. L. Goicoechea of Brock.

OFF-CAMPUS

Professor Bismuth attended the 4th meeting of the Committee of Heads of French Department of Ontario Universities, which took place at McMaster on April 30, 1969. The final report - bilingually drafted - for submission to the Committee of Presidents was unanimously agreed.

AUCC TENURE STATEMENT

This statement was released by the board of directors of the Association of Universities and Colleges during a press conference in Ottawa, 17 April.

The Canadian Association of University Teachers since its inception has been concerned, and rightly concerned, to protect the freedom of individual members of the university teaching staffs from threats to their academic freedom organized from outside the university or through university governing bodies or their administrations.

The association has been correctly concerned that the freedom of academics to present opinions and points of view based upon their academic experience, which might be unpopular or hostile to popularly accepted points of view, must be protected jealously. It is with this in mind that it has drawn up a document "Policy Statement on Academic Appointments and Tenure" to ensure that unpopular academic points of view do not result in lack of job security or lack of proper promotion. The CAUT has rendered good service to the academic community in this connection.

However, the basic assumption in the CAUT conception of academic tenure is that all threats to academic freedom come from outside the university or from governing bodies or university administrators. In recent years we have seen that determined minorities within the university, of either students or staff, can attempt to impose their will on the academic majority and are prepared to use disruptive tactics or even violence to defeat the process of dialogue and persuasion on which academic freedom depends. It has become clear, therefore, that there is an equal need now to protect the university institution as a whole, as well as the professor individually, from some of the contemporary threats to academic freedom.

The Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada is of the opinion that the conception of academic freedom contained in the Canadian Association of University Teachers guidelines is inadequate to protect the integrity of the university community as well as the freedom of the individual. We therefore are engaged in attempting to develop a set of guidelines to tenure which will adequately meet the contemporary circumstances and we hope very much to consult with the CAUT in ensuring that both the individual and institution are adequately protected.

MCGILL UNIVERSITY REPORTS

This summer about 200 university students will spend six weeks in an experimental college for which each will develop his own course.

They will work in groups of four with faculty members as tutors, one for each three groups. The members of a group will have related though not necessarily common goals.

The Experimental Summer College has been organized by an informal group of faculty members and students from McGill and Sir George Williams Universities in Montreal.

Its sessions will be six weeks long: May 15-June 30 and August 1 - September 15, with students being able to obtain an undergraduate credit in McGill's Faculty of Arts and Science by attending either. Students must have one year of college credits. The aim of the College is to return academic initiative to the student, according to organizer Richard Demierre (B.A.4, McGill). For the purpose of obtaining a credit, students will be graded on their work. They will have to produce some form of summary as evidence of what they have learned - a paper, film, etc.

Registration for the first session closes May 12, for the second July 21, Registration forms may be obtained from: DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION & DEVELOPMENT.

FROM THE EDITORIAL PAGE - GLOBE AND MAIL

The following letter appeared in the "Letters to the Editor" section of the Globe and Mail, May 24, 1969, under the title "A Sense of History."

"I have just received a letter from a former student, now a freshman in Brock, that is so thoughtful and at the same time so revealing of what is in serious students' hearts that I venture to suggest it merits printing.

Speaking of his course, the boy writes:

"They exposed me to literature and ideas that I had no idea could mean so much to me. Where I once felt that nothing could be relevant to me if it wasn't produced in the context of our time, I now see the universality and timelessness of all things that are meaningful to me. I see now that a 'sense of history' of both ideas and material realities (governments, wars etc.) is essential if one is to in any way understand his time. I have also learned how much work and thought must be applied to attain understanding. I have progressed from the certainty that comes from ignorance to the bewilderment that comes from a little, if basic knowledge.

It is very tempting for people of uncertain social origins to believe that the world began with themselves and to live in an intellectual landscape with as much perspective as a Chinese painting. It is equally tempting for teachers to abdicate responsibility, to lurk in the murky shadows of permissiveness while the sheep lock up and are not fed. What a strange society that leaves it to a youth to say that you use today's headlines to wrap tomorrow's fish in! And cheers for Brock."

LIBRARY

The Library has accessioned recently its one hundred thousandth book. Together with the bound volumes of periodicals and the government documents, the collection now numbers nearly 120,000.

The volume referred to above, is a limited edition reproduction, in full colour, of "Sketches in the Canadas" by Coke Smyth. Little is known of Smyth's early life but in 1838 he came to Canada as drawing master to the household of the Earl of Durham to whom he dedicated his album of "Sketches". His connection with the Earl of Durham led to Royal Patronage and in 1842 he designed the costumes for Queen Victoria's first state ball. The original lithographs were exhibited at the Royal Academy from 1842 until 1867. This reproduction is made from the original volume in the collection of the Royal Ontario Museum.

The "Sketches" was donated to the Library in memory of Mrs. Bessie W. Learie, who was a resident of St. Catharines.

FACELESS COMMITTEE MUST NOT JUDGE US 29 PROFESSORS SAY AT UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Taking shape as a key issue at University of Toronto is the extent of student involvement in staff appointments. In a brief to the Commission on University Government, the Students' Administrative Council urged that, at the departmental level, "changes must give the student equal power with faculty in determining what is to be taught and who is to teach....Real change in the educational context of departments will come through the composition of faculty,"

In April, a week or two after the SAC brief was presented; CUG received a memorandum signed by 29 members of the teaching staff. In this document the question "What role should academic staff members and students play in academic staffing procedures?" was asked and answered.

Staffing procedures must be such that individual staff members will incontrovertibly be assured that their scholarly and professional competence will be appraised by their peers and only by their peers. This in turn means that a student-staff committee, regardless of the division of the representation on it, is an inappropriate mechanism for discussing and appraising such competence.

Although opposed to a joint student-staff committee for the discussion of individual staff members, the memorandum said "this does not mean that such a committee should not discuss staffing policy....Such discussion might create better understanding of the decisions taken and so might improve the quality of those decisions."

The SAC policy statement read in part...."At this level changes must give the student equal power with faculty in determining what is to be taught, how it is to be taught, who is to teach, and what academic evaluation is to be made, both of student and professor....We maintain that students who study all year with a professor are able to evaluate his teaching. And if a course has achieved anything, students should also have learned to analyze the academic abilities of a professor."

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

This is the first of a series of Departmental reports which will appear each week in Campus News. Because of space limitations these reports have been abridged or condensed from their original form in some cases.

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICS

In 1968/69 Brock's Department of Politics undertook projects both to enhance public knowledge and the image of the University in the public eye.

The lecture series "The Cost of Peace", jointly sponsored with the Department of Economics, attracted some 1200 people to the seven lectures which were later broadcast over radio station CHSC.

During the fall term, the Department co-operated with station CKTB in producing "The Brock Radio Forum" a series of weekly hour-long broadcasts in which matters of current concern were discussed by the department faculty, students and visitors.

On February 15, the Department in co-operation with the St. Catharines history teachers sponsored a Symposium on the Mass Media. Seven panelists met at Sir Winston Churchill Secondary School to lead about 220 high school and university students through a day-long discussion of media problems.

For three years, Brock's Department of Politics met with the Departments of Politics at other Ontario universities to co-ordinate activities at the graduate level. In May agreement was reached by the Departments at Brock, Guelph, McMaster, Waterloo and Waterloo Lutheran Universities to undertake a variety of co-operative ventures. Professor Hull was elected first chairman of the group's executive committee. Strengthening of graduate resources in the five Universities is one objective.

The proposed graduate program is essentially a logical extension of the undergraduate program to be offered for the first time in 1969/70. It will include a third year course in the theory of international politics, a fourth year course in comparative foreign policy and a revised course in comparative parliamentary systems which will this year stress the problems of political development and the transfer of political institutions. Politics 399 (The Scope and Methodology of Politics), which was offered this year as a non-credit seminar will be offered as a full credit course next term.

Student enrolment increased from 294 to 378. The number of majors remained at 39 but the number of honour students increased from 2 to 11. Next year we anticipate 45 majors and 18 honours students. Our first honours candidate received one of the two Vice-Chancellor's medals at the recent Convocation.

The Department has sought to support the efforts of the Politics Club, but not to embrace them so firmly as to lessen the essentially student nature of the venture. Such co-operation was evidenced last year by the visit of Professor C.B. Mcpherson of the University of Toronto to campus.

Various members of the Department have contributed in many ways to university and community life. Dr. Doeker for the second year coached the Brock fencing team, sat as a member of the Asian Studies Sub-committee of the Academic Program Committee of Senate and represented the Department and the University at a number of meetings, especially those of the Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute in Montreal.

Professor Kernaghan has undertaken the chairmanship of the Social Science Curriculum Committee. He is a member of the Campus Development Committees of the Associate Dean's Committee on the Interdepartmental Program and of the Faculty Association Committee on the Integration of the Teachers College. During the year he lectured in Ottawa for the Public Service Commission, delivered a paper to the Political Science Faculty Colloquium at University of Waterloo and chaired and participated in a panel discussion on Urban Politics sponsored by the Hamilton and area regional group of the Institute of Public Administration in Canada, He was elected secretary-treasurer of the Executive of that body for 1969/70, Professor Blauer has continued in his capacity as President of the local Constituency Association of the New Democratic Party and has recently been appointed a member of the Regional Committee for Co-ordination of Social Service Resources.

Professor LeBaron participated in a conference on the Soviet Union at McMaster in November and one on social change sponsored by BUSA and by local trade unions in March.

Professor Hull, until recently an elected member of Senate, chaired the Senate Library Committee and was a member of the Senate Rules Committee. As well, he was chairman of the Presidential Committee on Student Discipline and a member of Marshal's Committee for Convocation. Outside the University he has continued in his capacity as a member of the Executive Committee of the Canadian Commission for UNESCO and chairman of its Education Sub-commission and as chairman of the Resolutions Sub-committee of the Policy Council of the United Nations Association in Canada. During the year he gave two talks on regional government and participated in two panels, one on the impact on the Mayo Report, organized by the Lincoln County School Board, and the other, on proposed reforms of the provincial electoral laws, organized by the local Progressive Conservative Association.

The Department has continued its contribution to the activities of the Division of Continuing Education. During the year Professor Blauer offered Politics 200 in the Evening Division while Professor Kernaghan will offer Politics 250 and Mrs, Janet McCauley, Politics 190 during the Summer School. Dr. Doeker will offer Politics 323 and Professor Hull may offer Politics 332 during the evening division next winter.

During the summer, the members of the Department will be variously engaged in teaching, research and writing. Mr. Meyer and Professor Blauer will continue work on their dissertations while Professors LeBaron and Doeker will be working on manuscripts for publication. Professors Doeker and Kernaghan will both be lecturing, Professor Doeker at the Free University of Berlin and Professor Kernaghan in the summer school and Grade 12 program. Mr. Meyer will be assisting Professor Kernaghan in this latter effort. Professors Hull and Kernaghan attended meetings of the Learned Societies at York in June. At the meeting of the Canadian Political Science Association, Professor Hull will comment on a paper on electoral broadcasting and attended a UNESCO-sponsored meeting on broadcasting in Montreal in June and Professor Kernaghan will attend the annual meeting of the Institute of Public Administration of Canada in St. John's, Newfoundland during which he is to participate in a distinguished panel addressing itself to the topic "The State of Public Administration in Canada", Professors Hull and Kernaghan will be co-operating with Professor J. E. Kersell of the University of Waterloo in research carried out under the terms of $31,000 Canada Council grant recently received for studies into the concept of responsibility in the Canadian bureaucracy.

Professor Dirks has been on leave of absence this year to complete his doctoral dissertation. William Matheson of Carleton University has been taken on strength for the coming year to replace Professor Blauer who will be on leave.

SUMMER SESSION 1969 - CONTINUING EDUCATION

For the first time, the Summer Evening Session is being presented this year with 80 students registered in 3 courses.

Summer Day Session - much larger than expected - boasts the enrolment of 575 students enrolled, with 742 course enrolments, in 27 courses. The students come from as far as Northern Ontario.

"CONCORDIA" UNVEILED

"Concordia," the abstract 8 ft. bronze shaft which was created by Canadian sculptress Elza Mayhew, Brock's first outdoor work of art, was unveiled this week. It is located between the Tower and the parking lot in a shaded grassy area.

The sculpture was a gift from the House of Seagram and was commissioned for Expo 67 and was displayed at the Montreal World's Fair during Centennial year and again in 1968 for Man and His World.

"Concordia" was one of 20 sculptures acquired by Seagram's. It was chosen for the Campus by an ad hoc Brock fine arts committee.

ONTARIO ECONOMIC ATLAS

Premier John Robarts recently held a reception to launch the new Economic Atlas of Ontario.

Prepared by the Department of Geography of the University of Toronto under the guidance of Dr. William Dean, and cartographer Geoffrey Matthews, the atlas required the assistance of graduate students and faculty members during the summer months from 1961 to 1968. The atlas is the first of its kind in the province and embodies the most modern techniques in cartographic presentation.

Professor Josephine P. Meeker and her husband, Professor Donald A. Measner were guests of the Premier for the reception.

The Department of Education will be placing a copy of the atlas in all Secondary and Post-secondary institutions presently.

THE YANKS ARE'NT COMING - IN FORCE

Weekend Magazine, March 22/69 said in part...the brain drain has been reversed and increasing numbers of Americans are taking teaching posts in our universities. More and more Canadian university education is being stamped, made in U.S.A.

Here's how Brock rates...in its 5th year this "emerging" university at St. Catharines has Canadian-educated people in 55 per cent of its faculty posts and all but three of its 18 university officers are Canadian graduates.

Of 123 faculty members at Brock, 67 received their initial (bachelor) degrees from Canadian universities; so did half the number of Brock faculty with masters degrees. The others come from all continents - 22 from Britain, 17 from the United States, 10 from Europe, 4 from Asia, 2 from Africa and 1 from Australia.

Sixty of Brock's professors have doctorate degrees - a third of these from universities in the United States. Seventeen received their doctorate degrees from Canadian universities and 14 from universities in Britain. A third of the degrees held by Brock professors are from five Canadian universities - Toronto, Western, McGill, British Columbia and McMaster.

In all, the faculty embraces learning from more than eighty universities in 18 countries.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

The Department

With the addition of Mr. Alan Arthur, the Department had eight teaching members in 1968/69. Miss Styran will be on leave of absence in 1969/70 to complete her doctoral studies. Mr. Christopher Armstrong and Mr. Joseph Sanders have been appointed lecturers. Unusually heavy enrolment - course enrolments in History totalled 550 - meant that all members were heavily involved in teaching duties. No new programmes were introduced, but in 1969/70 we shall introduce Asian History and broaden our courses in Canadian History. It is hoped we will have a specialist to teach History of Science in a year or two. Graduate work is not contemplated before 1972/73.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

With an increase in numbers of students, the Department offered two new first-year courses. Mathematics 192 and 193; the first designed primarily to meet the needs of would-be social scientists, the second for students pursuing work in the physical sciences. Professor Muller assumed administrative responsibility for the two courses which were taught by Professors Muller and Chang respectively. Enrolments were 170 and 60 in these respective courses. In the year to come, we will offer a new second-year course for physical scientists, Mathematics 295, which continues the work begun in Mathematics 193.

The Department participated in last summer's Grade 12 program which provided a substantial percentage of our best first-year students. Professors Reed and Headley will participate in this summer's Grade 12 program.

Extra-Curricular Courses

In February, we were hosts to the high school mathematics teachers from Lincoln County on Professional Development Day; Professors Reed, Bell, Headley, Muller, and Laywine contributed to the program. With the support of the Deans's Office, Professor Laywine gave a computer course last fall for sixty-five high school students from St. Catharines and area. Professors Laywine and Chang gave a twenty-week course in mathematics and computer science for members of the Society of Industrial Accountants of Canada. Professor Bell lectured at St. Catharines Collegiate and supervised two Grade 13 students from the Collegiate in a special project. Professor Muller gave the first lecture in the University's Science Colloquium.

Another contribution to the high school mathematical community has been the Mathematics Club, for which the students have borne full responsibility. A number of meetings drew substantial numbers of students and teachers from local schools, in particular for a talk by Dr. Robinson of the Psychology Department on recent research in mathematics education.

Members of the Department have been active in university work beyond the departmental level - Professor Muller as member of Senate, Chairman of the Awards Committee, and Chairman of Admissions Board. He also served as Chairman of the Committee on the Glenridge residences and in compiling the University time-table. Professor Bell has served as Secretary of the Faculty Association and member of its Committee on Teachers' College. Professor Laywine has served on the Computer Advisory Committee.

Conferences

During the academic year, members of the Department have attended colloquia at Waterloo and McMaster; and in at least one instance fourth-year students accompanied them.

Professor Laywine attended a conference on artificial intelligence held by the Association for Computing Machinery in Washington, D.C. in May. Professors Bell, Muller, and Chang attended the Canadian Mathematical Congress in Montreal in June, Professor Headley attended a conference on differential operators at Goteborg, Sweden, under the auspices of the University of Goteborg and the Nordic Cultural Foundation. Professor Chang will give a paper at a conference on summability at State University of New York at Albany July 21-25, and Professor Muller will give a talk at a summer school on properties of metals, to be held at Banff under the auspices of NATO, NRC, AEG, the University of Alberta, and the Ontario government. Professor Bell is on the staff of a National Science Foundation institute for high school teachers held at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York this summer.

Research

The year has seen significant research activity within the Department. Professor Muller, together with Professor Shukla, has supervised the work of a post-doctoral student and has had the benefit of assistance from James Watt, a third-year student. Miss Anne Doherty, who graduated last year from Brock and has taught part-time this year, has served also as research assistant to Professor Bell. Professor Srivastava has served as both reviewer and referee for Applied Mechanics Reviews. For the coming year, Professors Chang, Headley, and Muller have been awarded NRC grants.

The following papers by members of the Department have appeared in the past year:

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

GEOLOGICAL SCIENCES

In 1968, the Department initiated its first year program for pass and honours B.Sc. candidates, with 180 enrolled. The Year II Program was also initiated with 11 students registered.

FACULTY AND STAFF

Dr. Edward Miryneck, Brock's first Geology Professor was Acting Chairman of the Department and Mrs. Marian Shields, Department Secretary. In 1968 they were joined by two renowned geologists; Dr. Jaan Terasmae, paleontologist and Quaternary geologist formerly with the Geological Survey of Canada, and Dr. Peter Peach, petrologist and formerly with the University of Toronto. Robert Janes (B.A.Sc., M. Eng.) introduced the Department's first Glacial and Pleistocene Geology Course during the summer session. Mrs. Carol Dell (B.A., M.A.), Laboratory Instructor for three years, assisted with the organizational activities of the Department until August.

E. John Tassony (B.A.Sc.), with world experience in petroleum geology, joined the staff on October 2. He did laboratory instruction and assisted with Historical Geology classes.

Dr. B. A. Liberty, internationally recognized for contributions in Palaeozoic stratigraphy and palaeontology, completed the Geology faculty in January, 1969. Formerly with the University of Guelph and the Geological Survey of Canada, he assumed responsibility for Historical Geology courses.

Patrick Griffin and Michael Edwards are technicians who both gained experience in the Sedimentological Laboratory of the Geological Survey of Canada.

Facilities

The Department of Geological Sciences inherited approximately 8,000 square feet of office and laboratory space in the Glenridge Campus in July 1968 previously occupied by the Department of Geography. Phase 3 of Glenridge reconstruction program provided specialized laboratories for petrological, Sedimentological, paleoecological and geochronological, teaching and research purposes. Critical storage and specimen preparation areas were created.

By January 1969, laboratory facilities included the latest models of petrographic and binocular stereomicroscopes; excellent petrographic research microscopes; a Sedimentological laboratory equipped with an Endecott sieve shaker, a constant temperature bath, and precision balances. A geochronology laboratory houses Canada's third radiocarbon dating facility. Paleoecology laboratories are fitted with the latest preparation equipment and the latest research microscopes for pollen grain identification.

ROCKS FOR BROCK

Numerous donations of rock specimens were made to the Department by Brock students and faculty as well as by individuals. The Department of Geology of the University of Toronto provided some excellent fossil specimens, including near-perfect trilobites. An exchange of mineral specimens has been arranged between our Department and that of the University of Ottawa.

SOLID EARTH SCIENCES STUDY

Dr. Terasmae, Dr. Peach and Dr. Miryneh represented the Department of Geological Sciences at McMaster University on November 6 concerning the Solid Earth Sciences in Canada.

Under Dr. Terasmae the Department compiled and presented a brief on Quaternary teaching and research programs early in the New Year to the Science Secretariat's Committee studying the Solid Earth Sciences in Canada.

NEW PROGRAMS

The Third-Year Program, commencing in September, will include a course in Chemical Geology, which will stress chemical weathering of earth materials. Natural and artificial pollutants in soil and water will be an important element of the course. Both the Groundwater and Glacial and Pleistocene Geology courses will focus directly on the Quaternary image.

The first elements of the Year IV Program will include Environmental Geology, focusing on the geological aspects of urban development, and Mineral Resources, on important aspects of these resources in Canada.

FIELD PROGRAMS

Dr. Peach, assisted by Mr. Janes and Mr. Tassonyi were especially successful in focusing student attention on the geological processes which were taking place around them, along the escarpment, in the creek valleys, and along Lake Ontario beaches and bluffs. Few of the 180 Year I students missed the six successive field classes.

In March the annual First Year two-day geological field trip to the Belleville area was attended by 110 of the 175 Year I students.

In April Brock Geological Society, with the assistance of the Department, organized an airborne field trip to observe geological structural features, particularly in the Precambrian rocks of the Shield. The group flew from St. Catharines to Severn Falls to Collingwood, from Guelph to Burlington, the Niagara escarpment and Niagara Falls.

Trinidad-Tobago Field Trip

The most successful geological field trip in 1968-69 was to Trinidad and Tobago from May 2 to 12. Students and staff had a unique opportunity to examine a wide range of geological features in a small area whose environmental characteristics stood in sharp contrast to those at home. They saw a non-glaciated part of the world, a tropical environment where the metamorphosed rocks were deeply weathered, natural "brick" deposits, mud volcanoes, modern coral reefs, offshore oil drilling and the world famous Pitch Lake.

All Geology majors, most of the prospective majors (1969-70), and almost all of the department staff participated in this unique field trip with Brock Biology students and staff.

CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The Department recently created a new six-week Geology of Canada course. The group left June 28 to examine geological features between St. Catharines and Vancouver. They will study mines, visit potash deposits of Saskatchewan and oil drilling and recovery facilities in Alberta, the placer and lode gold deposits of British Columbia and structural geology in the Rocky Mountains.

TEACHER EDUCATION, EARTH SCIENCES

The Department is interested in assisting local Public School and Secondary School teachers in teaching aspects of the Earth Sciences. Dr. Peter Peach assisted a group of Niagara Falls teachers. On October 19, Drs. Peach and Mirynech led the Niagara Falls Science Teachers on a field trip. Dr. Peach will instruct Niagara District Science Teachers for one week in July.

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Dr. Terasmae brought continuing projects to Brock from the Geological Survey of Canada, the Water Resources Branch, the Canada Centre for Inland Waters, Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, and the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

A geological and paleoecological study was made in the Point Pelee National Park, Ontario, for the National Historic Parks Branch. An Ontario Department of University Affairs grant will permit Dr. Terasmae to initiate paleoecological and postglacial field studies in Algonquin Park.

A N.R.C. grant for Quaternary studies in Southern Ontario Lakes was awarded to Dr. Terasmae. Dr. Terasmae will commence experimentation with the Department's new radiocarbon dating facility in June, with the assistance of Michael Edwards. The Department also anticipates commencing dating of organic materials supplied to it from various internal and external sources.

Dr. Bruce Liberty has continued stratigraphic and palaeozoic rocks of Southern Ontario. Dr. Liberty's studies are of particular interest to the industrial mineral producers of Ontario and to petroleum exploration geologists.

Dr. Peach's main research has been associated with petrography and economic mineral deposits of the Precambrian areas. He has recently focused attention on Quaternary deposits, particularly lake-bottom sediments, of the Great Lakes Region. Dr. Peach is cross appointed between the Royal Ontario Museum and Brock as a Research Fellow. During his regular visits to the Museum, Dr. Peach has been directing classification of all rocks held by the Department of Geology.

Dr. Mirynech's research interests are directly related to the glaciation and deglaciation of the Great Lakes Region, particularly in South-Central Ontario. The National Research Council recently awarded Dr. Mirynech $5,000 to continue his studies of deposits of the Trenton-Campbellford-Belleville area.

Drift stratigraphy and thickness, and bedrock topography, will be important aspects of a combined geological and geophysical report expected to be co-authored by B.A. Liberty, G.D. Hobson and E. Miryneck.

BROCK GEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Cathie Barnett, Andrew Cooper, Larry Richardson and Ron Brinsmead (Year II) assisted Ainsley Towe, Assistant Registrar, and Dr. Peach and Dr. Liberty, Department of Geological Sciences, with Career Night, in St. Catharines and Port Colborne, on February 10 and 11, 1969. Several geology students worked as junior assistants on geological and geophysical field parties in various parts of Canada during the 1968 season. On their return to Brock, a number of students donated excellent mineral, rock and fossil specimens to the Department. Almost all Year II geology students and a number of prospective majors from Year I have obtained summer employment in their field.

ADMINISTRATIVE NOTICES

Please be advised that Monday, August 4, 1969 will be observed as Civic Holiday by the University Faculty and Staff. Administrative and Academic offices on both campuses will be closed on that day.

The holiday will not be observed by Summer Session Students and Instructors and certain designated library personnel.

Room 147 adjacent to the cafeteria is available as a Faculty Dining Room for the summer months.

BROCK COACH SELECTED FOR NATIONAL JUNIOR DEVELOPMENT CAMP

Mr. Les Korchuk, coach of the Brock Generals basketball team, has been selected as one of the coaches for the first National Junior Development Camp. Coach Korchuk will join Howard Lockhart of Waterloo Lutheran and Dick Brown of Carlton as the coaching nucleus for the ten day camp at McMaster University.

The camp will be held from July 27th to August 8th and will include forty-five boys and forty-five girls from all across Canada. Provincial camps have been held to select individuals to attend. The program of the camp includes fundamentals, administration, coaching techniques and leadership training.

Both the Men's and Women's National teams are training at McMaster and this will make available the National Coaches: Peter Mullins of U B C and Al Yarr Dalhousie. Pat Jackson of the University of Saskatchewan and Darlene Currie of Vancouver are the Women's Coaches.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Academic Staff

There were three new faculty members in 1968-69, Drs. M. S. Gibson, J. S. Hartman and G. Finlay. Professor Gibson, a distinguished synthetic organic chemist from the University of Manchester Institute of Science and Technology is a graduate of the University of Oxford with extensive research and teaching experience at the Rice Institute, the Weizmann Institute of Science and the University of Manchester,

Dr. J. S. Hartman, a specialist in the application of the technique of nuclear magnetic resonance to problems in inorganic chemistry, is a graduate of Queen's University, the University of Ottawa and McMaster University.

Dr. G. Finlay, a graduate of the University of Alberta and Cornell University, was appointed Senior Demonstrator in the Department after completing twenty-six years of experience in industrial research and development in the ceramics and high temperature chemistry fields with the Norton Company, Chippawa.

With the more recent appointment of Dr. P. Bickart, a graduate of Harvard, University of California at Berkeley and Princeton and a specialist in mechanistic and stereochemical organic chemistry, the Department now has eight members. Five members are Canadian, two are from the United States and one is from the United Kingdom.

Undergraduate Program and Graduate Program

Two Year IV honours students graduated at the 1969 Convocation: J. Brema and R. Smythe, Mr. Brema, winner of the Chemical Institute of Canada Book Prize for 1967-1968, will continue at Brock with his M.Sc. studies in molecular spectroscopy under the supervision of D. C. Moule and Mr. Smythe has been accepted as a graduate student in organic chemistry at the University of Waterloo.

E. Farnworth, a Year III honours student, was recently elected to the Senate, Mr. Farnworth is the winner of the Chemical Institute of Canada Book Prize for 1968-1969.

Undergraduate enrolments in chemistry rose to 270, in the session 1968-1969, from 222 in the previous session. Approximately thirty undergraduates were enrolled in Pass and Honours B.Sc. chemistry programs. Of these, seven have been retained as summer research assistants.

One M.Sc. student, C. R. Subramaniam, graduated at the 1969 Convocation. Nine graduate students were enrolled in the Department's M.Sc. program. It is expected that three M.Sc. students will graduate at the 1970 Convocation. In the session 1969-1970 the Department will have fourteen M.Sc. students.

Professor M.S. Gibson has held the position of part-time professor in the Department of Chemistry of McMaster University since September 1968, on a basis which is acceptable to both universities.

The cross-appointment of Dr. D.C. Moule, as well as the acceptance of Mr. C. R. Subramaniam as doctoral student of D.C. Moule are currently being negotiated with the Department of Chemistry of McMaster University,

Colloquia

The Science Colloquia were established and organized by R. Hiatt to inform secondary school teachers, students and the general public.

Research

Since 1965 members of the Department have regularly received financial support for their researches from the National Research Council of Canada. Other agencies that have awarded research grants to members of the Department from time to time, have been the Department of University Affairs and the Defense Research Board.

Industrial Assistance

A sharp increase in staff involvement in industrial problems was noted in the session 1968-1969.

A highly successful workshop on gas chromatography, infra-red spectrometry and mass spectroscopy was held early in 1969 for local secondary school teachers of chemistry. Lectures and practical studies were provided by E.A. Cherniak, J. M. Miller, and D.C. Moule.

Professor Hiatt was asked to participate in the "Distinguished Professor" Series of the Chevron Research Corporation.

Summer Activities

During the summer of 1969 E. A. Cherniak plans to write a book, "Notes on Chemical Physics," for use in the Physical Science 191 course in September, 1969. Several long overdue papers on topics in radiation chemistry and gas kinetics will also be written. E.A. Cherniak and T. Lahey will continue their studies by the techniques of flash photolysis and kinetic spectroscopy. E.A. Cherniak and D. Leblanc will initiate new research on the spectra and electrical conductivity of organic glasses and solids.

G. R. Finlay will give lectures and seminars in the Grade 12 Science B. program assisted in the laboratory by D. Leblanc and P. McCormick. Mr. Finlay will be involved in preparations for the Fall 1969 Conference on Analytical Chemistry sponsored by the Chemical Institute of Canada.

The Department's policy is to provide, in summer sessions, as many Year IV honours courses as possible for the benefit of secondary school teachers who are working towards Type A. Certification.

In July J.M. Miller delivered a paper at Bristol, England, on the "Mass Spectra of Some Pentafluorophenyl Derivatives of Group IV Elements" at the International Conference on Organometallic Chemistry. In September D.C. Moule will deliver a paper on "Ring Puckering and Oxygen Wagging" at the 24th Molecular Spectroscopy Symposium at Columbus, Ohio.

Professor R. Hiatt continues as a referee of articles submitted to the Journal of Organic Chemistry and the Canadian Journal of Chemistry. He also continues to review articles submitted to the Journal of Chemical Education.

As Secretary-Treasurer of the Committee of Chemistry Department Chairmen of Ontario Universities, Professor Cherniak assisted in the preparation of briefs to the Committee on Science Policy.

Contributions to the administration of the University by the Department of Chemistry staff included:

E.A. Cherniak - Chairman, Advisory Committee on the Appointment of a Provost and Dean and Chairman, DeCew Campus Science Complex Committee.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

Dear Sir:

This is not a letter to you, Mr. Editor, because I'm not going to sign my real name to it and you won't print it as a letter to the Editor if I don't. So call it a guest editorial, or what you wish. Print it or file it in the waste basket. For me it serves its purpose when I've got it off my chest.

I used to teach school. How long, and how long ago, is none of your business, but plenty of both. I've been retired for a while but I've continued to subscribe to the educational journals, of which according to my best estimate there are now 38,751 published in this country. I get nine.

My impression as I look through them is that either education is getting pretty complex, or I have lost the knack of reading.

In my day we had "ideas". Now they appear to have only "concepts". We used to "get along together". Now they "achieve rapport." We found ourselves in situations or circumstances, or even environments: but now the only thing you find yourself in, if you're fashionable, is a "Milieu" - whatever that is. We used to say that a plan would work; now they say that a "system" is "viable." We used to prepare courses and lessons; nowadays they "structure and approach."

If I'm going to keep up with my reading, I've got to have some help with these work-jungles that I get lost in. Some of these writers and speakers remind me of a tiger fighting his way out of a net, when they're trying to escape out of the middle of one of their sentences.

Here are some I noticed recently in the Literature - I mean the stuff I've been reading:

"Group dynamics maximizes the synergistic factor." Could this mean that two heads are better than one, or am I hopelessly simple?

"Forces a diminution of attention." Bore the kids, maybe?

"Perpetuate the insidious fallacy." Keep on believing the fellow who wrote the other book?

"Inimical to the well-being of." Bad for?

"After re-examination of policy and orientation." On second thoughts?

"Involvement in the current dichotomy." Confusion?

"Compound the disparity." Widen the gap?

"Provide for extensive decision-making powers." Let them think for themselves?

"Bow to the pressures of." Give in?

"Determine a set of criteria by which to evaluate the several alternatives available." Find out the best way?

"Satisfy a wide range of educational objectives." Teach the whole child?

"Assess the adequacy of these publications in fulfilling the agreed upon instructional objectives." Decide which books are best?

"Conduct a feasibility study." Find out if it works?

"Delineate the basis of rationale for the total educational program." I can't.... I can't....Wow!

I could go on and on - or even persevere in an analysis of linguistic communication - but I don't want to think IN TERMS OF that. I don't even want to think ABOUT it.

Yours, etc.,

(MISS) MAUD L. T. FORD,
P.S. Teacher (Retired).

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS

The extra-curricular activities of the Classics Department included the Latin Workshop Series which was repeated this year and inspired the development of similar series in other parts of the province.

The Colloquium et Symposium involved students and faculty from ten universities. Students read scholarly papers. Brock students presented scenes from a play by Terence. A panel discussion involving university professors, high-school teachers and university students on problems of articulation between secondary schools and universities was held. The event was so successful that it was decided to hold a second similar gathering next year. Brock was asked to be host again.

At the instigation of the Brock Classics Department an organizing convention to form a Junior Classical League of Ontario was held here last October. Approximately 400 students and 200 high-school teachers were in attendance. The organization was formally established and held its first province-wide convention in St. Catharines in March. The teachers voted to hold the second J.C.L.O. convention at Brock next April.

The Brock Latin Institute last August (described in the Classical Outlook as "spectacular") will be repeated. At this Institute the registrants will live on campus. Attendance is limited to 200 from all parts of Canada and the United States.

Members of the Brock Classics Department spoke at Ottawa, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie and at the Ontario Classical Association Meeting, Toronto.

A second Latin Day program drew 300 high-school Latin students from the Niagara Peninsula.

Saturday-morning Greek classes were continued with 45 students attending.

An arrangement has been made with St. Catharines Collegiate to utilize Brock students as tutors in the Grade X Latin classes. The Collegiate will be using the experimental Lingua Latina method which was introduced at Brock this past year.

The Department was the first Classics Department in Canada to experiment with a new method for teaching elementary Latin, a method that is being used in various parts of Europe and the United States. Our experiment has attracted the attention of high-school teachers throughout the province.

The Classics Club activities included field trips to the Royal Ontario Museum and to lectures at McMaster University as well as a three-day excursion to New York City, where some 40 students heard lectures at the Metropolitan and Brooklyn Museums; attended a play based on Euripides' Bacchae and presented scenes from a Terence play at New York University.

In March the Department conducted open evaluations of each of its courses. Students were invited to meet during the Tuesday and Thursday free hours to offer criticisms and suggestions about each Classics Department course.

Negotiations have been begun with the Director of Archaeology of France and the Director of Antiquities of Cyprus for associating Brock with archaeological digs. The plan is to offer a practicum in archaeology under the auspices of the Brock Classics Department through which students may obtain working experience in archaeology under the guidance of (Outstanding archaeologists. The students will be offered lectures several times a week and may take examinations or write papers in order to obtain course credit. The Niagara Peninsula Archaeological Society will cooperate in providing scholarships and in publicizing the program.

A roster of fifteen Brock students was set up to provide slide lectures to the local high schools. Requests for these lectures were received from as far as North Toronto.

The Department has initiated discussions with the Latin program consultants of the Department of Education for drafting a long-range summer upgrading program for high-school teachers to lead to honors and graduate degrees.

REPRINTS AVAILABLE - WEEKEND MAGAZINE. JULY 26 ISSUE: REPORT. BOARD OF GOVERNORS MEETING

Reprints are available of the July 26 issue of Weekend magazine - "What a Way to Study"-featuring the recent Brock University field trip to Trinidad and Tobago. Also, there are additional copies of the Chairman of the Board and President's Report to the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Board of Governors. A substantial distribution of this material to priority publics of the University has been made by the Information and Development Department, however, it seems likely that either faculty or staff members might be interested in making a further distribution on a personal basis.

PROPOSED PLANS RE: BROCK BICENTENARY

Tentative plans have been drawn up to hold certain on-campus celebrations during the week beginning October 5.

These plans to celebrate the Bicentenary of the birth of Major-General Sir Isaac Brock include a series of commemorative lectures on the theme "Canadians and their Myths".

The purpose of the lectures is an examination of Canada's past and contemporary life and specifically of the myths by which Canadians have lived and still do live.

Professor Maurice Careless will be the opening speaker on Sunday, October 5, followed by Professor Carl Berger and George Bain of the Globe and Mail. Other lecturers in the series have yet to be announced.

On Monday, October 6, it is expected the Governor General and Mrs. Michener will pay a long-deferred visit to the DeCew Campus, Sir William Arnold, Bailiff and President of the States of Deliberation in the Island of Guernsey (where Brock was born on October 6, 1769) and Lady Arnold will also be guests of the University.

The Governor General and the Bailiff will receive honorary degrees approved by Senate some months ago. The Governor General will preside over brief "official" opening ceremonies of the Brock Tower and the new theatre in the Thistle Complex; Sir William will formally unveil a granite plaque quarried from the house in Guernsey in which Brock lived as a boy.

In the entertainment field it is hoped a Command band will "beat a retreat" and to round out the day there will be a fireworks display.

The same week it is hoped that Premier John P. Robarts will visit the campus for a Brock Provincial Day. He is expected to share in the ceremonies when a plaque arranged by the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario will be unveiled. Municipal officials will be invited to this ceremony. They are not being invited to attend the ceremonies on October 6 because many of them will be concerned in regional government election in the Niagara Peninsula.

Later in the month, possibly October 18, there will be a university open-house to which the community at large will be invited.

Previous issues of Campus News - July 10 - noted that special commemorative stamps are being issued by the Island of Guernsey and those interested in receiving "first-day covers" are invited to contact Barbara Millington, local 332, for further information. Canada will also issue a new Canadian stamp on September 12, bearing the portrait of Sir Isaac Brock.

The University is having a special postage meter slug made up to mark the Bicentenary: this will be used on outgoing mail during October.

PERSONAL

Mr. & Mrs. Ian Henderson have become the proud parents of a son, Benjamin Henderson, born August 8 at St. Catharines General Hospital, a brother to Teresa, Stephen and Sean.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The following letter from a 16 year-old girl appeared in the Globe and Mail recently. With the opening of the university year it seems appropriate to reprint it in our Campus News.

The Voice of Reason

I have evolved a theory (which is all it is now) of compromising, as a student, with the school system as it stands. Since I would find, unless I subjected myself to severe self-discipline, the atmosphere at a "free school" not right for me, I have to make peace, somehow, with the established system.

Really it's remarkably simple, if one remains true to one's desire to learn and convinced that the reasoning behind the compromise is not faulty. Teachers are meant to present a skeleton of facts to students who vary from those wanting to learn all they can to those who couldn't care less, with all the rest middling in their attitude toward attaining knowledge - and the students can do with these facts whatever they wish. Teachers are not meant to be great seers who can set themselves up to be very knowledgeable and able to give all their mass of knowledge to the students: such creatures, and in such quantity as some seem to expect, do not exist as teachers in our society: they are merely suggestors: the students must act on their own initiative in order to learn what they can in the areas presented to them.

It has always been that those with real desire to gain knowledge have discovered on their own will, time and skill what they want to know. Certainly in an area such as history, where in Grade 9, one is filled with dates and names and a bare outline of circumstances in the history of England, one can fill in the monstrous gaps by extra reading: all the letters written by the monarchs, plays by Shakespeare, literature, historical and political pamphlets written during the era being studied; the teachers cannot be expected to bring all this to the classroom, mainly because most students would feel that the study was too intensive, too detailed, and would lose any interest in the topic which they might have had at the beginning, and also because it would be an act of over-indulgence, of giving too much, instead of stimulating.

The seed the teachers give students may be given in a very dull, dry manner, but it is, all the same, a seed, and those who do really want to approach erudition cannot unless they treat the material given them by the teachers as only a basis, the ground-plan, of what they could learn if they put a little of their own effort into their aspirations. That is what I will try to do at school next year:

to reach their standards and try to reach mine; to put some meaning into what before has always been without meaning.

I am 16 years of age and am entering Grade 11, so I feel that I am qualified, by being what I am, to speak, not for the general conception students seem to have of the school system - of expecting too much from it - but for a method of compromise, of acceptance, of applying a reason of my own for an institution which has already its established reasons for being what it has been said to be; if there are any students really wanting to learn and be learned, and if they are sick of wasting their energies in fighting the schools with the "solution" of total freedom (without having tasted responsibility and the discipline which must accompany the acquisition of freedom), then surely they will, at some time, discover that all they need to alleviate these frustrating feelings (perhaps only to bring about more frustrations in their search for knowledge - but along with it, satisfaction) is to use a little imagination in order to create a system of their own built around a system with which they cannot agree.

Only a little foresight is needed to see where the path of absolute freedom, almost without guidance, will lead; it is not a pleasant place, to my mind.

(Miss) Robin Beckwith
Toronto

A LETTER TO ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Since you are the patron saint of American secretaries, will you please print this?

One Secretary's Prayer;

Dear Lord: Give me the memory of an elephant, the ability to do six things at once, answer three telephones, keep the boss from throwing a lighted match in a waste-basket filled with paper, and take the letter that "must go out tonight" but he forgets to sign until tomorrow,

Help me keep my cool when he asks me to turn the office upside down to find a report in the files which he later locates in the inside pocket of his jacket.

And above all, Dear Lord, keep my ears from dropping off when he swears at his partner, fibs to his wife and lies to his banker. I need your help Lord to keep an expressionless face under these trying conditions. It is the hardest task of all. - NO NAME. PLEASE. I NEED MY JOB.

FRENCH FILM CLASSIC SERIES

The first in a series of French Film Classics entitled "Les Parents Terribles" will be presented in room 242, Thistle Complex, on Monday, September 8, at 8:00 p.m.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

The academic session 1968-69 was marked by several worthwhile events. One student, S. Poehlman, received first class honours in physics and a National Research Council Award for a first year of graduate study. He hopes to enrol in the projected M.Sc. program in physics for 1969-70. Two students, J. Hiscott and G. Kalnins received degrees with distinction; Mr. Hiscott also received the Governor General Medal and a Rotary International Fellowship for study in England.

Increased enrolments in the second year of the physics program have helped development of the undergraduate program. Intent of Year I students support an optimistic outlook on the growth of the program.

A meeting of faculty and students to discuss the physics program prompted introduction of a new Year I course, Physics 120 for freshmen. The course will emphasize the seminar approach to assess its value in a scientific discipline. Professors Black and Koffyberg will be responsible for the course.

The proposed M.Sc. program in physics was submitted for appraisal to the Ontario Council of Graduate Studies in December 1968. Two appraisers visited the department in May 1969. If approval is received, it is hoped to start the program in the 1969-70 session. In addition to the usual course and thesis program based on a research problem we have designed a course and essay option that should be well suited to teachers in the high schools and two year colleges.

In the sphere of extra-university activities Professor Koffyberg spoke to a group from the service clubs of Welland and Professor Plint gave a science seminar to the Science Club of the Lincoln County High Schools.

A professional development day for the Lincoln County Physics Teachers was held at the University in February. A dozen teachers attended a program in which Brock's proposed offerings in physics for upgrading teaching certificates and the M.Sc. program were presented and discussed. The reaction from the teachers was one of interest and appreciation of our effort on their behalf. There is a need for work in physics directed towards the teachers.

The Department's research effort has developed well this year. A high resolution spectrometer purchased jointly from NRC and University capital funds for Professor Lepard is being put into operation for studies in electronic Raman spectroscopy. A powerful argon ion laser is being constructed to Lepard's specifications by the Technical Services Group. In the meantime, Professor Lepard is making use of the computer to complete a lengthy paper on the theory of Raman effect. Professor Shukla together with a post-doctoral fellow, Dr. P. C. Trivedi and Professor Muller has made good progress in theoretical studies of anharmonic forces in the lattice dynamics of metals.

Several papers are being prepared for publication. Professor Shukla has made good contacts with Professor Brockhouse's group in the Department of Physics at McMaster University and in developing some cooperation with Professor C.C. Lin, a former colleague of the Chairman, at University of Wisconsin. Professors Black and Moore are moving towards an active research project in solid state physics. Their main effort this year has been in the acquisition of background information. Professor Koffyberg has pursued his work on defects in Cadmium Oxide with some measure of success. Professor Plint has spent much time setting up equipment in order to continue his researches started in Oklahoma. Productive work was done during the summer.

Dr. G.V. Kidson, a well known metals physicist at the Chalk River Laboratories of Atomic Energy of Canada has accepted the chairmanship to succeed Professor Plint. Dr. Kidson's appointment will stimulate solid state research and continue our development of applied physics.

The research efforts of the department have received support from National Research Council and Province of Ontario. The level of support is directly dependent on success as measured by publication in reference journals. It seems very likely that the research has reached a point at which many articles will be published during 1969-70 session so that the support level should rise next year.

Four visitors presented colloquium talks during the year. We hope to expand the visiting speakers program for 1969-70, and to encourage more Year III students to attend the sessions. The visitors were: Professor M. W. Johns, McMaster University, "The Influence of Technology on Nuclear Physics Research" as Canadian Association of Physicists Visiting Lecturer; Professor C. C. Lin of the University of Wisconsin, "Luminescence in CdS and ZnS"; Professor W. R. Conkie of Queen's University, "The Use of Pseudo Potentials in Atomic Physics"; Dr. D. K. Dawson of National Research Council, "Diffusion in Potassium Bromide".

Professor Plint is the Chairman of a sub-committee of the Physics Department Chairmen of the Universities of Ontario charged with the preparation of a report on graduate studies in physics in the province. The report is to be sent to the Committee of Presidents of the Universities of Ontario.

The 1968-69 session was a period of marked growth in the department. The spirit of cooperation present in the faculty and students has been very evident. The outlook for the next few years is encouraging. We believe that a strong department is being developed and that its contribution to the overall University program will justify the heavy investment of the resources of the University.

ST. CATHARINES TEACHERS' COLLEGE

In response to a request received last week Brock University has agreed to provide temporary accommodation for the St. Catharines Teachers' College pending the completion of the new building which is scheduled for January 1970. Because of the shortage of small classrooms the Department of Public Works will erect several portables in the space adjacent to the new building.

LIBRARY DOCUMENTS COLLECTION

The Library is developing a collection of documents which will include official publications of governments, both Canadian, and foreign and at all levels, Federal, Provincial, and Municipal. The official documents of international bodies such as the United Nations, UNESCO, World Health Organization, will be included together with annual reports of companies, universities, foundations, etc.

The collection is housed on the second floor of the Library and is arranged by a special classification based on one developed by the University of Guelph Library. This classification arranges the documents on the shelves alphabetically by country and within each country by issuing body. The catalogued information is being converted into machine readable form from which computer print-cuts will be made. So far, lists of Canadian Federal Documents by author and title are available for consultation in the Reference Department.

Any problems concerning this collection should be directed to Mrs. Misener, the Circulation and Documents Librarian, extension 286.

HEALTH SERVICES

As of September 15, 1969, the Health Service will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 12:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The nurse's hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The physicians are in the Health Service from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. for the students and it is hoped that faculty and staff will keep calls to a minimum at this time unless they are emergent in nature.

BROCK ORCHESTRA

This year's Brock music program commences with orchestra rehearsal under the direction of conductor Malcolm Lacey on Monday, September 22 at 8:00 p.m. in the Thistle Theatre area. All faculty and staff who are interested in becoming members of the Brock orchestra are invited to come to this rehearsal. Should you not have an instrument here; arrangements will be made to solve this problem. Your support is welcomed to make this a successful year.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM AT CENTRAL UNIVERSITY OF ECUADOR

Professor R. Bismuth returned from the Central University of Ecuador in Quito, where he attended as visiting Professor the 8th International Summer Symposium of the Faculty of Arts, Philosophy and Education. Thirteen visiting professors, and three hundred students and alumni from seventeen countries participated in the overall academic program of conferences and seminars.

Professor Bismuth, who delivered a series of eight lectures in Spanish on the role of poetry as a medium of international understanding, was invited to address the Inaugural Assembly on behalf of the visiting professors during which he stressed "the concern of man for truth and cooperation on earth and in space today, in the universe tomorrow. Man can no longer think alone; we must think together if we are to survive..." During a round table discussion over the Ecuadorean radio network, he emphasized the need for more exchanges between Canadian and South American Universities as members of the same hemispherical family.

Dr. Bismuth was one of three visiting professors, along with Dr. Kubler of the University of Leipzig, East Germany and Dr. Bocaz-Quevedo of the University of Concepcion, Chile, to be awarded the Professorial Diploma of the Central University of Ecuador at Convocation on August 30, 1969.

ABOUT CAMPUS NEWS

Campus News is an administration publication issued weekly by the Department of Information. Its primary purpose is to keep the Brock community informed of current events on Campus - administrative notices, announcement of meetings, campus activities, projects and events sponsored by university departments and campus organizations, appointments, reports of awards, publications research appearances and papers given. Other extra-curricular activities of faculty and staff, brief reports of Senate and the Board of Governors are all grist for its news mill.

Campus News also carries information culled from daily papers, other campus papers and various sources which is judged of interest to Brock.

Campus News is now accepting Buy-Sell advertising from faculty and staff subject to provisions outlined in the July 10 issue.

During the summer a series of Departmental reports appeared in Campus News. These reports, in some cases, were abridged or condensed from their original form due to space limitations.

It is our intention to introduce two new features at this time - a personal column and a comprehensive schedule of events. This latter innovation is of particular importance to the university community because there has been considerable conflict of events in the past. We solicit your cooperation to keep the Department of Information & Development informed of plans for conferences, special lectures or projects, stating date, time, location and other particulars.

Campus News relies on faculty and staff to inform us of newsworthy items. It's up to you!

Brock Campus News has a circulation of 400.

ADMINISTRATIVE NOTICE

It had been intended that elevator No. 4 in the Brock Tower would be converted to general use by June 30, 1969.

This would place three elevators in operation between floors 1 to 13 (excluding floors 5, 6 and 7) and leave one elevator strictly for library purposes, stopping at floors 2, 5, 6 and 7. Unfortunately, the continuing strike at Otis Elevator Company has not allowed the University to proceed with this work. The transfer of elevator No. 4 to general use, however, will take place at the earliest possible date.

VISITOR ON CAMPUS

The Hon. Robert Stanfield, Leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition and former Premier of Nova Scotia participated in a Question and Answer Period at Brock University yesterday.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

DEVELOPMENTS WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT

In the 1968-69 academic session the Year IV of our Honours Program was offered for the first time. We had six students enrolled, all of whom performed satisfactorily.

During the summer of 1968 our M.Sc. program in Biological Sciences was successfully appraised by the Ontario Council on Graduate Studies. The program was approved by Senate in the autumn of 1968 and students have been accepted for the summer of 1969.

Three new members of faculty will be added for the 1969-70 session: Dr. Frank Banfield - presently Director of the National Museum of Natural Sciences in Ottawa; Dr. Donald Ursino, presently on a post-doctoral fellowship in Milan, Italy; Dr. Mark Nwagwu, currently a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Connecticut. Dr. Banfield's main area of interest is in mammalian ecology; Dr. Ursino is a plant pathologist; Dr. Nwagwu is an embryologist and biochemist. They will be developing research and teaching programs in these areas.

During the second term of this year an experiment in shared undergraduate courses was started with McMaster University. Drs. Rand and Millman from Brock, and Dr. S. Bayley, the Chairman of the Department of Biology at McMaster, gave lectures at the other university in a course in molecular biophysics at the fourth year/graduate level (Biology 450). It is hoped that this initial experiment may lead to further cooperation between the two universities especially in the area of biophysics.

The biggest extra undertaking of the year was probably the field trip to Trinidad and Tobago, organized in collaboration with the Department of Geology, by Dr. J.C. Lewis.

ASSISTANCE FOR LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

All members of the Department of Biological Sciences, including Dr. McIntyre, contributed to a three day biology seminar which was organized by the St. Catharines Board of Education on June 4-6, 1968. This seminar, whose purpose was to update the biology teaching of the high school teachers of the area, was attended by 37 teachers from St. Catharines and district. It was held at Sir Winston Churchill High School and Brock University.

On February 14, 1969, the Department organized a workshop on laboratory techniques for the local high school Professional Development Day. This workshop, which was arranged by the Lincoln County Board of Education, was attended by 25 local high school teachers.

CONFERENCES AND SYMPOSIA

On June 12-14, 1968, Drs. Lewis, Manocha, Millman and Rand attended the meetings of the Canadian Federation of Biological Sciences in Kingston, Ontario. At this meeting Dr. Millman was elected treasurer of the Canadian Society for Cell Biology.

Dr. Rand attended a Gordon Research Conference on Interaction and Transport in Physical, Chemical and Biological Systems, in June 1968. This week-long symposium was held at the Tilden School, Tilden, New Hampshire. One of the sessions was chaired by Dr. Rand.

Dr. Millman attended a symposium on Interactions Between Subunits of Biological Macromolecules in Cambridge, England from June 24-27, 1968. This was a symposium held by the International Union of Pure and Applied Biophysics. After the conference Dr. Millman visited laboratories in London, Oxford, and High Wyckham.

Dr. Manocha attended the First International Congress of Plant Pathology in London, England on July 14-28, 1968.

On August 23, 1968, Dr. Rand was an invited participant to the Symposium on The Molecular Basis of Membrane Function held at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina.

Dr. McIntyre attended a NATO advanced study course on Molecular Structures of Biological Interest which was held at the Laboratory for Molecular Biology in Cambridge, England, September 16-28, 1968. A selected group of about thirty scientists from all over the world attended this course given by leading biophysicists from Britain and elsewhere.

On September 23, 1968, Dr. Rand represented Canada at round table discussions on Fluid Dynamics in Medicine and Biology sponsored by the Advisory Group for Air Space Research and Development, a branch of NATO.

From February 21 - March 1, 1969, Drs. McIntyre, Millman, and Rand attended meetings of the Biophysical Society in Los Angeles, California. Drs. Millman and McIntyre presented a paper on The Molecular Structure of Pecten Muscle.

Drs. Bown, Millman, and Rand attended meetings of the Canadian Federation of Biological Societies in Edmonton on June 11-13, 1969. Dr. Rand presented a paper on X-Ray Diffraction Studies of Lipid Antibiotic Complexes in a session on biophysical chemistry, chaired by Dr. Millman,

In the latter part of June Dr. Rand attended the International Conference on Biological Membranes, a NATO advanced study institute at Stresa, Italy.

LECTURES GIVEN BY MEMBERS OF THE DEPARTMENT

On December 3, 1968, Dr. Manocha gave a lecture on Electron Microscopy to the Lincoln County Program for the Advancement of Science. This group is a selected group of students from local high schools who are invited to attend and participate in discussions on special topics throughout the year. A later lecture in this series was given on the Molecular Mechanisms of Muscular Contraction by Dr. Millman on February 18, 1969.

On February 27 Dr. Lewis gave a lecture to the Department of Zoology, University of Western Ontario, on The Ultrastructure of the Thyroid Gland.

Dr. Millman gave a colloquium at York University on March 10, 1969, on X-ray Studies of Living Muscle as part of their regular seminar series.

In April Dr. Rand presented two lectures to the faculty and graduate students of the Department of Biochemistry at the Medical School, University of Toronto.

PAPERS PUBLISHED

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES

Prof. Doeker returned from Berlin where he lectured for the Summer term at the Free University of Berlin on International Law and Foreign Policy and International Organizations.

He became appointed consultant to the Institute of International Relations and Security, Munich, the German equivalent of the Rand Corporation and conducted a research project on East-West relations.

During his stay in Berlin he also published an article entitled The Americans in Europe: foreign policy aspects and problems of American economic penetration in the EEC, which will appear in a book edited by D. Grosser and published by Westdeutscher Verlag in Cologne. A reader on comparative politics which Prof. Doeker edited for the Rambach Verlag, Freiburg will appear in the autumn.

He also gave guest lectures at various other German universities.

Dr. D.W. Fisher, Chief Paleontologist for New York State, Albany, N.Y., visited Dr. B.A. Liberty and the Department of Geological Sciences on September 10. In addition to consultations with Dr. Liberty on local and regional problems, he toured the departmental facilities. A successful afternoon was spent in the St. Catharines area collecting Tentaculitids from the Rochester Formation (Silurian) together with Dr. R.T. Bell of our Geology Department.

Mr. U. Sibul and R.C. Ostry, geologists of the Division of Water Resources, Ontario Water Resources Commission, visited the Department recently to survey its staff and physical resources, and to explore departmental co-operation in proposed drainage basin studies. The visitors expressed particular interest in the Department's developing Quaternary teaching and research programs.

Dr. Peach was interviewed by Radio Station CJRN concerning the nature of the Niagara Escarpment and its geological origin, resulting from the existing misunderstanding about this feature which states that it is a fault scarp.

Dr. J. Terasmae visited Iceland prior to his attending the International Congress on Quaternary Research in Paris (August 29-September 6). Several field trips were made in Iceland to points of geological interest and local geologists were consulted with regard to research in progress, particularly problems related to Quaternary studies.

At the Paris Congress, which Terasmae attended as a member of the Canadian National Delegation, it was evident that Quaternary research in Canada is attracting considerable interest among the international body of scientists and several inquiries were made concerning Brock's programs in this field, including possibilities for visiting scientists and lecturers to spend some time in Canada and participate in our activities.

After the Paris Congress Terasmae spent several days in Switzerland where trips were made to Alpine glaciers in order to make comparisons with similar mountain glaciers in Canada, especially with regard to glacial features, deposits and geochronology of glacier movements related to climatic changes in the last few thousand years.

RECORD BROCK ENROLMENT

Brock University has registered 1594 full-time students, an increase of 42 per cent over their 1968-69 enrolment, Dr. James A. Gibson announced today.

Seventeen graduate students and 88 part-time day students have also enrolled, compared with six graduate and 74 part-time students a year ago. Brock's Division of Continuing Education reported 966 evening class students have been accepted, almost double last year's evening class enrolment.

Brock's freshman class of 763 this term is nearly 20 per cent larger than last year's; the number of second-year students has almost doubled to 508; there is a third-year enrolment of 241 - up about 50 per cent - and fourth-year enrolment is also substantially increased to 82 students.

Evening class students have enrolled for 34 credit courses and 700 certificate courses.

Dr. Gibson noted that provincial grants were based on the number of full-time eligible students actually in attendance at the University on December 1. Late registration, transfers and normal attrition could change the current enrolment figures slightly.

The enrolment includes 79 grade twelve students who were admitted on completion of a six-weeks orientation and aptitude course this past summer. Last year 52 students were enrolled under this program.

Comparative enrolment figures are:

	1968-69	1969-70
1st year students	640	763
2nd year students	269	508
3rd year students	163	241
4th year students	52	82
graduate students	1124	1594
graduate students	6	17
part-time day students	74	88
evening class students	558	966

Asked whether advertising had any effect on enrolment Dr. Gibson said, It created a great deal of interest and prompted many inquiries. How many registrations it contributed would be difficult to say. Certainly, a number of students who might have given up a university career because of a seeming lack of space in Ontario's universities have looked to Brock.

Audited statements for the year ended June 30, 1969 were tabled at the Board of Governors' Meeting. They showed a net income of $4746 carried forward from an operating budget of $4,440,000.

Revenue was derived from government grants 75.6%; fees 17%; sponsored research 4.7%; and miscellaneous 2.7%. Expenditures were - academic 62.9%; plant maintenance 17.2%; administration 10.3%; sponsored research 4.7% and miscellaneous 4.9%.

Plant, property and equipment increased in value to $22.5 million at year's end, compared with $17 million last year. The Thistle Complex, construction of student residences, alterations and equipment for Glenridge Campus accounted for most of the increase.

RECENT LIBRARY ACQUISITION

Dr. R.L. Hearn, former Chancellor of Brock University, has donated to the University Library a copy of an early report on the Welland Canal.

This scarce volume entitled Third Report from the Select Committee Appointed to Examine and Enquire into the Management of the Welland Canal was printed in 1836 in Toronto by William Lyon Mackenzie.

In 1835 Mackenzie had been appointed by the Legislature to the Board of the Welland Canal Company. After a number of months of intensive searching through the Company's accounts, he published a broadside entitled, The Welland Canal, in which he charged the Company's Officers with fraud and mismanagement. The select Committee on the Welland Canal, chaired by James E. Small, solicitor general of Upper Canada, 1842-1843, was asked to consider the thirty charges laid by Mackenzie against the Directors, Officers and Managers of the Welland Canal Company and specifically against William Hamilton Merritt. After an enquiry of nearly three months and 560-odd printed pages of evidence, the Committee, whilst concluding that the affairs of the Company had been conducted in a very loose and unsatisfactory manner, acquitted the Directors of any INTENTIONAL abuse of their powers.

Although the charges were not proven, the enquiry had a disastrous effect on the Canal Company and later on in 1836 bankruptcy was narrowly avoided. From 1837 to 1843 a number of statutes were passed by which ownership of the canal passed into public hands and the Welland Canal Company ceased to exist.

GOVERNOR GENERAL 'S REMARKS AT FALL CONVOCATION

I have come to Brock University today to join the small but impeccable group of Honorary graduates with greater delight than you may suspect.

For one reason, the University is located in what I like to think of as my ancestral county. It is true I was born at Lacombe which is now part of the Province of Alberta but, at the time of my advent in the year 1900 was in the Northwest Territories; further, as indicated in the very acceptable if somewhat biased citation, my working years have been spent in other parts of Canada. But my mother was born on a farm not more than five miles west of this beautiful campus, and some of her progenitors had lived in Lincoln County for at least four generations. On this account I finished my second year of elementary education with one of my cousins in a little red school house in Pelham Township. The first Canadian Michener homesteaded a little farther west in Lincoln County in the Township of Clinton. I have good reason, then, to feel at home here on the Niagara frontier.

Another factor is that Brock, although still in swaddling clothes, is a university to be proud of. It bears an honourable name, that of an early Administrator of Upper Canada and its greatest military leader, the hero of its defence in our second struggle to preserve our independence in the face of aggression from the south. Today, with the notable and welcome assistance of another member of the Honorary Class of 1969, Sir William Arnold, Bailiff of Guernsey, the whole University and community have joined to recall their great obligation to Major General Sir Isaac Brock; the University for his inspiring name, and the community for saving it from becoming just another star in the American flag.

As spokesman for the Canadian people and exercising all of Her Gracious Majesty's powers with respect to Canada, I add my voice to the others which have been raised so eloquently in praise of General Brock.

The great monument on Queenston Heights perpetuates the regard which generations of Canadians have had for Brock and the precious life which he gave for them in battle of Queenston.

In thinking of him today, one cannot help but appreciate that what counts in a man's service to his times is not the measure of the years he has lived but the quality and effect of his contribution. With firm and understanding leadership Brock had laid the groundwork of defence against the attack on Canada which he saw coming, but it was the tragedy of his gallant death which strengthened the spirits and resolve of the defenders and enabled them to succeed.

I should like, too, at this time to commend the University on its progress and success. I hope that it will be able to preserve the sense of community and communication which exists among students, teachers and researchers. It is a place where the individual still counts, which is more than can be said of the vast complexes which pass as universities in some of the great overcrowded cities of North America and elsewhere. I hope that in this place you will be able to turn the restless currents of the times to constructive rather than destructive uses.

Looking at the students who are graduating today, I confess I feel greatly privileged to be associated with them, they who have earned their degrees by years of measurable effort in the classroom. I have no doubt that you honest students look with some suspicion on us whose qualifications are extra-mural and may have nothing at all to do with academic excellence.

I confess to a very large faith in our rising generation. I feel, as they do, that they are better than their forbears, and with luck and application I think they will do better. In any event, they will have plenty of opportunity.

I see one special role for the students and faculty of Brock. You, like Windsor, are in sight of the border and by geography will have better facilities to know and to understand the people of the Republic whose power looms so large in the modern world and whose influence is such a factor in Canadian life. Understanding is the only sound basis for concord between man and man, as it is between communities. I feel that you will be in a better position than most Canadians to act as interpreters. As the Irishman says: there is nothing that brings people together so divisibly as speaking the same tongue. We don't, of course and there is therefore hope that we may understand each other.

I have great hopes, too, for the durability of your President. I have known him for many years and we have had much in common. It is not a surprise to see how well the University goes forward under his leadership. It pleased me greatly that it was his invitation which brought me here. It pleases me, too, to hear him speak in French.

Je ne saurais me lasser d'insister sur l'importance de la contribution que peut apporter la jeunesse a l'unite de notre pays, en apprenant a communiquer avec les membres de l'autre groupe dans leur propre langue. Je ne saurais trop souligner la bonne fortune qui est la notre d'avoir acces disponible aux deux grandes civilisations de notre age. Quiconque aspire a diriger au Canada doit etre en mesure de le faire et en francais et en anglais.

However, in thanking him, Mr. Chancellor, for his part in installing me in the academic community of Brock, I suspect that it was his ingenious mind which created for me the novel post of Invigilator-General of the University. I should warn the students that invigilators as I remember them were somewhat of a bore and could be quite tyrannical. An invigilator is a sort of eaves-dropper: he looks over the shoulder of the student writing his examinations. I recall, however, that at least at Oxford, if a student grew faint for lack of food or drink he could enlist the services of the invigilator to get him a mug of beer. I hope not to become a peeping Tom on the campus nor yet a bar-tender, but rather to keep a friendly watch over the whole University.

HUNTER HOUSE

This residence house is named for Lieutenant-General Peter Hunter, who was born at Auchterarder, Perthshire, in 1746, and who died at Quebec on August 25, 1805.

Commissioned in the British Army in January, 1787, he served in various campaigns, especially in Jamaica, and in command of the 4th, 13th, 60th Regiment; and came first to this continent in 1788. During 1788-89 he was Lieutenant-Colonel commanding the Western District extending from Oswego to Michilimackinac, with headquarters at Fort Niagara (at that date still in British hands). During two seasons of meager harvests and bitter weather, he advanced military supplies to pioneer farmers of the Niagara region. At that period a settlement along the Twelve-Mile Creek was called Hunterton, where the Land Board of the District of Nassau met occasionally.

After a further period of service in Honduras, in St. Vincent and in Ireland, where he appears to have behaved with good sense and judgment in the face of intense animosities arising from the outbreak of war with France, he was appointed to succeed Simcoe as Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada and he resided at various places in the province, maintaining frequent contact with the Niagara region because of uncertainty along the border. He was on his way back to Britain when he died from a sudden illness.

In a trial at the Niagara Assizes in 1808, Hunter was described as "a Gothic Barbarian who in the Providence of God had removed from this world for his tyranny and iniquity." Even in an age of vigorous feeling and pointed expression, it may be doubted that this sentiment represented the view of more than a small minority; and Hunter has valid claims to remembrance for humane administration under formidable difficulties.

The following book has been published by Professor W. D. Kernaghan: Bureaucracy in Canadian Government Mathuen Publications, Toronto 1969.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT

History was made on election day Monday, October 6, when the voters of the area elected the members of the 12 new Municipal Councils and the Council for the Regional Municipality of Niagara to be established 1st of January 1970.

The new municipal structure replaces the 26 municipalities presently making up the Counties of Lincoln and Welland and will incorporate the cities of St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Welland and Port Colborne.

It is interesting to note the link between Brock University and the new Regional Council. Mayor "Mac" Chown, acclaimed as Mayor of St. Catharines on September 23, will sit on the Regional Council by virtue of his office. Ivan D. Buchanan and William J. Marshall were elected as representatives at large from the City of St. Catharines to the Regional Council. All three are members of Brock's Board of Governors.

Edward E. Mitchelson, Secretary to the Board of Governors, was elected as 1 of 3 representatives-at-large to represent the City of Niagara Falls on the Regional Council.

Dr. Kenneth Kernaghan, Associate Professor in the Department of Politics, was a member of a panel of experts giving colour commentary during the broadcast of election results over CJRN on election night.

ON CAMPUS

GEOLOGY FIELD TRIP TO SUDBURY AND ELLIOT LAKE

On September 26-29 Drs. Bell, Peach and Mirynech and a group of 12 students made a field trip to the Sudbury-Elliot Lake area and studied the classical Early Proterozoic rocks in that region. The students collected rock samples in the field for a later study in the Sedimentology laboratory.

These field studies form a very practical background for further discussions on Precambrian stratigraphy and an introduction to some of the basic problems of lithostratigraphy.

Future field excursions hopefully will include visits to the Rock Mechanics Research Laboratory at Elliot Lake and mine operations in this general area.

The members of CUDGO (Chairmen of Geology Departments in Ontario) were invited to hold the next meeting at Brock University.

Dr. Terasmae participated in the official opening of the Ontario Centennial Centre of Science and Technology on September 27 at Toronto. Perhaps the greatest attraction was a geological item - rock and soil samples from the moon (guarded by two O.P.P. officers).

BROCK CAMPUS NEWS

Please detach this page and keep for reference.

The DeCew Campus is now served by an emergency power system which will operate as follows:

ON POWER FAILURE:

If a power failure on our main incoming power feeder lines occurs, certain services will be restored by this emergency system as follows:

LIGHTING IN ALL BUILDINGS:

After an interval of approximately 10 seconds from time of loss of power, exit lights, emergency lighting in stairways, corridors and library will be restored.

ELEVATORS IN BROCK TOWER:

On loss of power all elevators will stop. After an interval of approximately 10 seconds, one elevator (it is not possible to predict which one) will resume operation, travel to the lobby floor, doors will open and car will remain at that floor. Then, in sequence, the other elevators will operate in a similar manner. After the fourth elevator has come to rest at the lobby floor, either Elevator No. 1 or No. 2 will resume normal operation and service its regular floors.

ON RESTORATION OF NORMAL POWER

When our normal incoming electrical supply is restored, there will be an interruption of the emergency service, including the elevator operating in Brock Tower, during the period required to de-activate the emergency system and to restore normal power to the campus network. This procedure, which must be performed in stages, will result in normal service to the buildings after the following intervals:

Brock Tower

- One Elevator and emergency lighting - one minute
- Balance of elevators and lighting - two minutes

Thistle - two minutes

Student Residences - three minutes

Teachers' College (future) - three minutes

NOTE: Existing fire procedures are in no way affected by the emergency power system, ELEVATORS MUST NOT BE USED FOR BUILDING EVACUATION DURING A FIRE.

ON CAMPUS

The painting by Ian Henderson (Merthyr Vale) which was acquired by the University Women's Club of St. Catharines for presentation to Brock University was formally handed over at an informal ceremony in the Foyer of Thistle Theatre on Monday morning. The presentation was made by Mrs. Thomas Meikle, President of the Club, and it was acknowledged on behalf of Brock University by the President. Ian Henderson, Artist in Residence, explained how the scene had taken hold of him one day towards sunset while echoes of the Aberfan disaster were still in many people's minds. The President knows the region at first hand from visits in 1953; the setting of the painting, as it was 130 years ago, is the background for the novel by Jack Jones, C.B.E., Off to Philadelphia In The Morning.

Professor J. A. La Nauze, Professor and Head of the Department of History in the Research School of Social Sciences of the Australian National University, Canberra, with Mrs. La Nauze, visited Brock on Thursday. Dr. La Nauze, who was Rhodes Scholar from Western Australia in 1931 (Ballilo) was Dr. Gibson's contemporary at Oxford, though their paths have not often crossed in the interval. Before going to Canberra, Dr. La Nauze had been Lecturer at the University of Adelaide and Reader in the History of Economics at the University of Sydney. He is the author of a number of works on Political Economy in Australia.

"The blaze of colour is normally outside the experience of Europeans" Mr. Henderson noted. His reaction is seen in the twenty paintings on exhibition for one week beginning, Saturday, November 22.

BROCK BATTLES AMERICAN COLLEGE

GENERALS vs. EAGLES November 20

The Brock Generals will host the Brockport Golden Eagles, representing the State University of New York at Brockport, on Thursday, November 20 at 8:45 p.m., Garden City Arena.

Coach Bob Pedersen's Eagles are members of the Finger Lake College Hockey League. They list only two Canadians on their roster, unusual for U.S. hockey schools, yet had a 12-6 record in league play during the 68-69 season. They also won 5 of 7 exhibition games that year.

Canadian rules will be in effect. That is, the centre line will be in effect and body checking allowed anywhere on the ice. The Eagles may find this hinders their long lead and pattern passing plays.

The Generals repay the visit on February 8 and will be similarly hampered when they must adapt to IKS, college rules.

The Generals vs. Eagles will be the last exhibition game for Brock before the league opener against the Laurentian Voyageurs at Sudbury, Sunday, November 23.

HOCKEY GENERALS LOSE TO ERINDALE — NOVEMBER 13

Brock Generals lost their third straight exhibition hockey game when they were defeated 5-4 by Erindale College at Garden City Arena.

Erindale scored three goals in the first eight minutes. Brock came back in the first half of the second period to score three goals and tie the game, but they faded towards the end of the period and wound up behind 5-3.

A goal by Bruce Wormald early in the third gave the Generals new life and they did everything but score for the rest of the period.

Brock's next game will be Thursday night, November 20, when they play State University College from Brockport at Garden City Arena.

BASKETBALL GENERALS BEAT BUFFALO SEMINARY — NOVEMBER 13

Mike McGinnis scored 40 points as the Brock Generals won their third straight basketball exhibition game by defeating Buffalo Seminary 100-78 in Buffalo,

The Generals led 55-46 at the half and gradually increased their lead throughout the second half to wind up winning by 22 points.

BROCK SCORES AT GEOLOGY CONFERENCE

The Central Canada University Geology Conference was held recently in Ottawa. This conference was organized by geology students from Ontario and Quebec universities and comprised two days of lectures by invited speakers. There were also panel discussions on education and Employment In geology. Brock's geology group (about 20 students attended the conference) created a most favourable impression among other attending students by making available an information desk with appropriate literature on geology at Brock and the University, and they also had available for informal discussions a "Brock Room" which was greatly appreciated. Professors Liberty, Lissey, Mirynech and Terasmae also attended this conference and it became evident that our geology program has attracted rather widespread attention as indicated by numerous inquiries by students.

BROCK KNOWN IN NORTH
